Mayor-Elect Faces Struggle To Hold 1966 Tax Rate Line

Newton's tax rate may jump as much as another $7 next year.

That is the judgment of experts who have studied the city's financial picture, municipal trends and its commitments for 1966.

They predict that Mayor-elect Monte G. Basbas will face a tremendous problem in preventing the tax rate from soaring over the $77-mark unless the limited sales tax being sought by Governor Volpe is approved.

The city's tax rate this year rose $7 to a figure of $70.20. Another substantial increase next year is inevitable although Basbas is certain to struggle to prevent a $7 hike for a second successive year.

Present indications are that the Newton school budget for 1966 will be at least $1 million greater than this year and that school expenditures may climb as much as $1.5 million next year.

It will cost an additional $575,000 next year for school pay raises which became effective Sept. 1 but will be in effect for a full 12 months in 1966.

That carry-over representing the difference between the cost of the raises for four months of 1965 and 12 months of 1966, is a built-in increase in the school budget before any new raises or additional school expenditures are even voted.

Each $324,000 expended by the city represents $1 on the tax rate.

If the school budget rises $1 million next year — the minimum amount forecast—it would cause an increase of about $3.10 on the city's tax rate.

If it climbs $1.5 million, it would send the tax rate up about $4.60

So it is clear that a jump in the school expenses will cause a tax rate increase of more than $3 and possibly as much as $4.60.

But costs of operating most branches of the municipal government will be greater in 1966 than in 1965.

Mayor-elect Basbas, for example, has a commitment to increase the pay of members of the police and fire departments, and even if he didn't have a commitment, he undoubtedly would be obliged to do it.

Newton police and firefighters are paid less than are their counterparts in other neighboring communities.

For example, the maximum pay for a patrolman in Newton is $6400, while in Boston it is $6900.

The city is virtually forced to raise wage scales for the police and firemen if it wants competent men to take jobs in the two departments.

At the present time there are two vacancies which should be filled in the Newton police department, but there is not one name on the civil service list of persons eligible and qualified for appointment to the city's police force.

Municipal department heads at the direction of Mayor Gibbs are now in the process of preparing tentative and preliminary budgets for the coming year.

These budgets will be held for submission to Mayor-elect Basbas after he assumes office Jan. 1. In virtually all instances they will be larger than were the budgets for this year.

Mayor By-passed In School Funds Move

In an unusual action Alderman William E. Hopkins is seeking to have the Board of Aldermen initiate an appropriation of $175,000 to be used for the purchase of 60,540 square feet of land for the site of the proposed new Bigelow Junior High School.

The matter may come up for a vote by the Aldermanic Board at its meeting next Monday night.

In October, Hopkins introduced and secured the adoption of a resolution asking Mayor Donald L. Gibbs to submit an order for the appropriation of funds to purchase the land for the school site. Gibbs, however, has not complied with the request.

Under the city charter an Alderman may introduce an appropriation order of his own if the Mayor fails to act within seven days of the adoption of such a resolution.

Hopkins is taking advantage of that provision and is seeking to bypass the Mayor. As far as is known, it is the first time any Alderman has attempted to do this.

A two-thirds vote by the members of the Board of Aldermen would be necessary to approve Hopkin's appropriation order when only a simple majority would be needed for the passage of the measure if it were submitted by the Mayor.

Whether two-thirds of the Aldermen will vote to bypass the Mayor and appropriate the funds for the school site on their own is uncertain.

While the Mayor could veto such an action, a two-thirds vote then could pass the appropriation over his veto.

Newtonville School Site Not Approved

Members of the State School Building Assistance Commission this week declined to approve a proposed site for a new Day Junior High School on Walnut St. in Newtonville.

They took the position that the school should be erected at a location where there would be more room and more play space and suggested a possible site near the Albemarle Playground in Newtonville.

Ironically, the commission earlier had approved a proposal for an addition to the present Day Junior High.

800 Fete Mayor Gibbs; Laud 25 Years Service

More than 800 friends and admirers of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs filled Sidney Hill Country Club to capacity Tuesday night to pay tribute to the man who, when the year 1965 passes into history, will have given the city of Newton 25 years of service.

It was an impressive gathering to honor a man with a distinguished record.

Presiding was Howard Whitmore, Jr., M.D.C. commissioner and one of the two living former mayors of the city. With him at the head table was the other living former mayor, Sinclair Weeks, former U. S. Secretary of Commerce.

And in the place of honor, of course, was Don Gibbs, who will become the third member of that exclusive club when he steps out of office at the end of this month.

In addition to Whitmore and Weeks, those at the head table who gave expression to their appreciation of the service record of the guest of honor were Governor John A. Volpe, U. S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, a former Newton resident and former member of its Board of Aldermen; Wendell R. Bauckman, present president of the Board of Aldermen and a member for some 22 years; Hugh M. Tomb, chairman of the Newton School Committee, and Mayor-elect Monte G. Basbas.

Not all the head table guests were there to speak. In the order in which they were introduced, they were: The Rev. Harold R. Fray,

Furs, Jewlery Are In Burglars' Haul

Two mink coats, a mink jacket, a mink stole, a diamond ring, a pearl necklace, five watches, silverware and more than $1000 in cash were included in the loot carried away by burglars after weekend breaks in Newton homes and business places.

Robbers who ransacked the home of Robert Erlich at 164 Cotton street, Newton, stole a full-length mink coat, a mink jacket, a fox jacket, silverware, jewelry, wearing apparel and luggage. They entered the dwelling by forcing a kitchen door.

Thieves took a mink coat, a mink stole, a pearl necklace, liquor, five watches, a handbag and earrings from the home of Bernard Swartz at 40 Esty Farm road, Oak Hill, after entering the house by breaking the rear door knob and door frame.

Burglars forced open the office door of the Charles River Country Club in Newton Centre and took $600 from a file. An unsuccessful attempt was made to force open the door to the room where liquor is stored.

Collins Off To Fast Start In Drive For Salty's Seat

Boston Mayor John F. Collins got his campaign for a seat in the U.S. Senate off to an unofficial but spectacular start at the record-breaking $100-a-plate testimonial dinner at which he was honored by business and public leaders and an impressive gathering of friends.

Those endeavoring to appraise Collins' potential strength as a Senate candidate came away with the conviction that he will be a powerful contender at a a convention, in a primary or in an election.

This assessment was based both on the amount of money raised by the dinner for Collins' campaign chest and on the number of prominent figures in both the Democratic and Republican parties who attended the affair to honor the Boston Mayor.

Jaycees Hold Successful Youth Center Fund Party

Turkey-A-Go-Go, a teen-age dance sponsored by the Newton Jr. Chamber of Commerce, was termed a tremendous success by Jaycee President, Atty. Peter F. Harrington. It was held Saturday night at the Newton South High cafeteria auditorium.

Dance committee chairman Peter Cobb and Jayson Timmons reported that over 700 high school age students attended.

The Jaycees will donate the net proceeds to the Newton Youth Center committee to be used to defray some of the costs of maintaining the Warren Jr. High School as a weekend Youth Center.

The Montclars, a group of local talent which expects to invade the national music scene with an Ed Sullivan TV appearance in late January, provided the featured entertainment. Another local group, Bobby and the Barons, filled in at intermission.

The dance chaperones, recruited from the Newton Jaycees, included, co-chairman Peter Cobb and Jay Timmons, President and Mrs. Peter Harrington, V.P. Michael Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis De Maria, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McGrath, Ted Green, Peter Peyser, Frank Quinn and John Vaccaro.

Newton Youth Center committee chairman Judge Julian L. Yesley and committee members Mrs. Eloise Houghton and Sid Shuman and a dozen unnamed parents stopped in at various times during the evening to offer assistance and check on the teenagers' enthusiasm.

The establishment of a continuing Youth Center has been adopted as a major program by the Newton Jr. Chamber of Commerce .

In support of this project President Peter F. Harrington said, "This is a revival of an old program which has existed and phased out many times in Newton's history. If the program is to continue and become permanent, it is the teenagers who must generate interest among themselves and provide the manpower to program and produce a calendar of activities."

Reimer Named Chairman For Council Event

Bernard A. Reimer of Newton Centre has been named chairman of the 36th annual breakfast of the Business Men's Council of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston, according to the announcement this week by Harold Sherman Goldberg, president.

In making this announcement, Mr. Goldberg stated that, "This Annual Breakfast is traditionally one of the highlights of BMC's year round activities. Under the guidance of Mr. Riemer, I know we can look forward to another outstanding and well attended event."

Election of officers and members of the board will be included in the program on Sunday, December 19, 9:15 a. m. at the Sidney Hill Country Club, Newton.

A past chairman of the BMC, Mr. Riemer is a partner in the law firm of Cohn, Riemer, and Pollack. A trustee of CJP, he is a veteran of many campaigns, serving in 1960 as chairman of the Lawyers Division Campaign, and associate chairman of CJP's 1961 Campaign.

Active in a variety of civic and communal affairs, he was president of the Boston Civic Symphony Orchestra and chairman of the United Fund for Newton Centre. He is a member of Temple Emanuel, Newton and Temple Mishkan Tefila.

The Business Men's Council, some 2,500 strong, represents the leaders and workers from the Campaign division of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies.

the School Committee decided to build a completely new school when they found it would cost the city less than an addition to the old school.

Actually, the total cost of building a new school would be about $2,093,000 as compared to an expense of approximately $1,653,000 for constructing an addition to the existing school and renovating the present structure.

However, the State would pay 40 percent of the cost of building a new school but would contribute only $316,000 toward the expense of making an addition to the existing school.

So the net cost to the city would be $1,267,800 for building a brand new school and $1,337,000 for enlarging and renovating the old school.

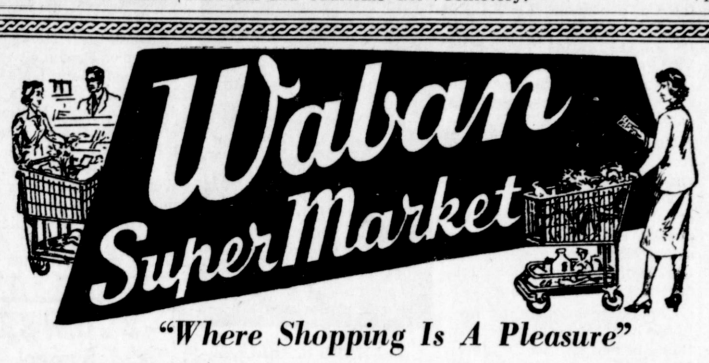

The State Commission maintained that a site for a new school should contain sufficient room to meet all school needs, including those of a recreational nature.

The State Commission approved plans for erecting a new Burr School near the abandoned Pine St. dump and for building additions to the Carr School in Newtonville and the Hyde School in Newton Highlands.

Safety Warning At Yuletide

The gayety of the Yuletide season, with the approach of the observance of Christmas, bursts upon up in a blaze of lights and a rush of shoppers before the Thanksgiving turkey has grown cold.

Somehow the majestic and succulent bird manages to keep some aura of dignity and aplomb amid the onrushing tidal wave of Christmas baubles and tinsel. But, his demise is final come sundown on Thanksgiving, his only memory a tummy rumble here and there.

Now, the harried shoppers take over. They are in cars and on foot. It is a happy, hectic season but it is fraught with danger, especially for pedestrians.

These pre-winter days of early darkness can be the pedestrian's greatest enemy.

Of the 248 pedestrians killed in the Bay State last year, 157 or 63 percent lost their lives in nightime accidents. These deaths are tragic enough in themselves; those occurring during the Christmas season bring added sorrows and long years of future association.

At this season, there is a need for greater pedestrian understanding of the problems of seeing—and being seen—at night.

Pedestrians, particularly those who do not drive a car themselves, often fail to realize the degree to which darkness reduces driver visibility.

They think that because they can see a car, or at least approaching headlights, the driver can see them. Safety officials have attested to the fact that except on well-lighted streets, the driver actually can't see beyond the range of his headlights.

This means that it is the pedestrian's responsibility to make certain he is visible, and can be seen just as soon as he comes in range of car headlights.

The most "seeable" pedestrian according to the American Automobile Association is the individual who has something white on, and visible, at night. A white scarf, coat, hat, or gloves can be readily picked up in headlight beams.

Pointing out that darkness falls earlier this time of year, safety officials also advise children to have something white on to protect them on their way home from school or play.

Darting out in front of approaching cars in the darkness is a particularly dangerous practice for both adults and children.

This early darkness and rushing hordes of Christmas shoppers also puts an extra responsibility for watchfulness, common sense and courtesy on the part of drivers of vehicles.

Heedless drivers are in constant evidence on our streets bulleting along at excessive speeds despite the extra caution called for due to early night-fall.

So, it is a double-barreled responsibility borne alike by driver and pedestrian. Let us keep the happy and holy Christmas season as it should be, bright with lights and gay with laughter, sans tragedy, grief and mourning for untimely deaths.

N-W Hospital Annual Meetin Next Tuesday

The annual meeting and dinner of Newton - Wellesley Hospital will be held at the hospital Tuesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 7. More than 200 persons are expected at 6:45 p.m.

At 3:45 p.m. in Usen Auditorium, Philip C. Raye of Wellesley Hills, first vice president of the hospital, will open the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees. Among matters to be acted upon are the election of new trustees and the election of a new president, to succeed the late George L. White of Newton. Mr. White, president of the hospital since December, 1962, died on September 7.

Trustees, friends of the Hospital, medical staff members and wives will assemble in Usen Auditorium following the annual dinner. During a brief evening program, Hospital Director William S. Brines will present his annual report.

In addition, Dr. Count D. Gibson, Jr., will speak about "The Practice of Medicine; Old Ideals and New Patterns". He is professor and the chairman of the Department of Preventive Medicine at Tufts University School of Medicine.

LETTERS

Viet Nam Answer

Editor of The Graphic:

We must certainly respect the right of dissent and we realize that in a free society such as ours those who dissent have every right to speak out.

This does not, however, impose silence on all others to tolerate distortion and misrepresentation of issues and facts. While respecting the right of dissent we should take care lest our own silence, and that of what appears to be the vast majority, is not misconstrued as assent and agreement with unacceptable thinking and action of the minority. The integrity of the majority is to be safeguarded as is the dissent of the minority.

Those who sponsored the publicity for and participated in the march on Washington "for peace in Viet Nam" Nov. 27 must of course be aware that many others besides themselves are dedicated to and yearn for peace with all their hearts but realistically approach its achievement through different avenues.

Many of us realize that peace is not achieved unilaterally by wishful thinking. Picketing the White House accomplishes little; the petitions should have been addressed to members of the Communist power block who are the agressors.

Then too, we know that particularly since World War II all Administrations, regardless of party affiliation, have hardly differed in their dealings with the Communist countries.

We do not have the simple unrealistic answers of some to such questions as: Shall the United States dishonor its commitments made in good faith in the interests of world peace with free nations? When our commitments are dishonored in one place, what of our commitments elsewhere? Can we abandon our friends in one area and then rely on others elsewehre? Can we display weakness in the East and maintain necessary strength in the West? Where shall we draw the line?

It is sad to observe that some have evidently learned nothing from the tragic disaster brought on Great Britain by the peace movements of pre-Hitler days, from the lessons of World War II, Korea, and the enslavement of countries now behind the Iron Curtain.

Too many are following a deplorable pattern of denouncing all that our own government does or says in its effort to deal with vexing foreign problems.

We do the cause of peace little good when we act and declaim so as to attribute to our own country all the blame for the warfare in Viet Nam. It is incredible that at the same time we accept vague generalities, misty propositions, pronounced by men and women who bear no responsibility of office and who have no real, direct knowledge of circumstances or solutions.

Debate certainly has a place in our free society. Nevertheless, we owe it to ourselves and to the cause of peace, to credit our own country and its officials with their due share of devotion to the cause of peace, with goodwill, intelligence, and ability.

We must avoid undermining those who represent us and are struggling with fearful burdens—men who are actually our front line of defense. These men, from the President down to the foot soldier in Viet Nam, who know the deadly character of our adversary, find no easy answers as do those in the picket lines, or speaking from the podium and arm chair.

Communism, like Nazism and Fascism, is not reached by words or cured by conversation. It will yield ultimately to freedom loving men who are dedicated to peace and who at the same time are tough-minded enough to face its threats and reality without flinching.

For this ordeal we shall need all the faith and fortitude of men and women who truly love freedom.

Mourn Passing Of Philip VerPlanck

Editor of The Graphic:

Newton has suffered a great loss in the recent sudden passing of Philip VerPlanck of 48 Windsor Rd., Waban. For in his quiet and unostentatious way he was for years a key figure in a number of Newton community organizations.

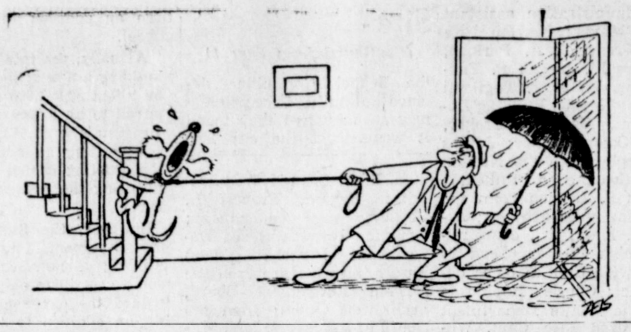

He served the Waban Baseball Associates as treasurer for a number of years with singular conscientiousness and devotion to duty.

Generations of boys in Waban owe Philip VerPlanck a debt of gratitude whether they know it or not. We, who were closely associated with him, mourn his passing.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By EILEN BORIS

Thanksgiving was more than a time to reflect on one's good fortune, stuffing one's mouth with various delicacies. Newton South parents, students and alumni flocked to Dickinson Stadium. And the boys in orange and blue did it again, pouncing Higham 35-0.

Yet, the traditional Thanksgiving football game was not the only activity planned over vacation. To relieve students from homework, the Senior Class colaborated with Newton Jaycees and Newton High's senior class in sponsoring "Turkey A Go-Go," last Saturday night. A packed house shook to the music of the "Fabulous Montclairs," who last bounced their notes off our cafeteria's rafters during September's kick-off dance.

Because it was vacation did not curtail Newton Youth Center activity; it was reason to increase it. Proceeds from "Turkey A Go-Go," added to last spring's collection drive results, will benefit both schools' class of '66's project. The Center's temporary location is Warren Junior High. Here refreshments, ping-pong tables, billards, a television, a bowling game, and a juke box amuse students on Fridays 7:30-11:30 and on Saturdays 4:00-11:30. Newton South chairman is Susan Mordecai.

Observing the warm reunions of South graduates, who already have a niche somewhere, between touchdowns last Thursday reminds any senior of college admissions procedures and the final year's nostalgia. Dec. 11, seniors will unite the units of their own organization S.U.P.-P.E.R. to combat the subversive P.R.O.F. Headed by Second Vice-President Jerry Horovitz, the annual Senior Supper committee has succumbed to James Bond mania.

Using NBC's "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." as a jumping off point, the evening of food and frolic should be full of intrigue and espionage. Appropriately, the exact nature of the plan is unknown; all entertainment committee members are sworn to secrecy.

Committee chairman are: Lisa Ostroff, decorations; Arthur Leventhal, food; Jerry Horovitz and Jane Cohen, entertainment; Bev Woo, tickets; Barry Rosenthal, finance; and Barbara Primack, publicity.

The Senior Class has already been treated to a skit. To promote yearbook sales, Regulus editors donned togas in booing the "Non-Spiritates" (non-purchasers) off the stage. However, there are other publications vieing for student interest, and getting it. Underclassmen swamped Denebola's call for reporters, advertising agents, and feature writers. Three magazines are receiving original pieces. Venture, edited by Rosemary Ednas, looks for critical and opinion material. Ictus unlike Reflections is restricted to the creative class. It will appear three or four times under the guidance of Editor Helen Rosser.

This year's Reflections, the literary magazine, will be entirely a Newton South publication. A co-editor and more literary staff members are needed to aid Editor Philip Woodbury. Advisor Ophair Caras stresses the diversity sought in the types of pieces, essays, poetry, stories, and humorous, critical and expository writing.

Even though it is nearly winter, the American Field Service is searching for people to house next year's exchange students. It is preferable that the family has a child attending Newton South. Interested people should contact advisor Miss Mary McLane (4205, Cutler House) or co-chairman Dick Wolbarsht (7211, Goodwin House).

A regional AFS convention burst into Newton South Nov. 13 and 14. Seventy-eight foreign students mingled with Newton residents at a coffee hour, workshops, and square dance. AFS'ers in their native outfits internationalized a talent show. An assembly and folksinging (led successively by Josh Alper and Dottie Frumson, (and Miss Mary McLane and Miss Joan Leighton) rounded out the in-school activities. The visiting students stayed at Newton houses and spent Sunday sight-seeing or at informal gatherings.

Monarch Life Man to Move To Springfield

Charles E. Skinner Jr., 640 Grove St., Newton Lower Falls, local representative of Monarch Life Insurance Company, has been appointed an instructor in the company's Springfield educational center.

In his new position, he will teach in the Career Training School, which prepares new agents for a successful career in the insurance business. He will also train established agents in advanced underwriting techniques in both personal and business insurance. Monarch is an industry leader in non-cancellable, guaranteed continuable health insurance.

Prior to joining Monarch early in 1964, Mr. Skinner was production manager of American Electronics, Coin Processing, Inc. in Newton. He was graduated from Boston Latin School, and attended Bowdoin College and Boston University. In his first year with Monarch he ranged high in the President's Club, the company honor group, and qualified to attend the company's biennial sales conference, which was held this spring in Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, the former Jeanne C. Hallee, and their three children will move into the Springfield area early in 1966.

Vaugh is Head Of Veteran Journalists

State Motorboat Director Wilton Vaugh, a former newspaperman with 40 years of service, has been elected president of the Veteran Journalists Association of New England. He succeeds Alexander Brin, editor and publisher of the Jewish Advocate.

Vaugh will serve with Mrs. Eleanor R. Collier, vice president, Boston University; Miss Mary Sarah King of Lynn, secretary, Boston Globe, and Frank Lovering of West Medford, city editor of the former Boston Journal.

Nominating chairman was John Gould, humorist and author who is publisher of the Lisbon Falls Enterprise in Maine. His fellow committee members included Willard DeLue, Boston Globe columnist, and Daniel J. O'Brien, Globe Sunday editor.

BERNARD S. MILLER

Miller Editor Of Publication Granted Awards

Bernard S. Miller, of Waban, managing editor of Metalworking magazine, a Cahners publication, recently learned his magazine had won two national awards in the 27th Annual Editorial Achievement Competition, sponsored by Industrial Marketing magazine.

A graduate of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, Miller has lived for many years with his wife and family at 494 Quinobequin Road, Waban.

In addition to Metalworking, Industrial Marketing judges honored four other Cahners publications in the current contest.

Cahners Publishing, the third largest industrial publisher in the nation, publishes sixteen magazines in various fields and, since 1962, has won 21 top notch awards in national and international editorial competition. The company has three major divisions—in Boston, Chicago and Denver—as well as branch offices throughout the U. S., Europe, in Canada and in Asia.

International Institute Has Holiday Musicale

The International Institute of Boston, 287 Commonwealth Ave., held its traditional Holiday Musicale last night (Wednesday), under the auspices of its Senior Advisory Council.

Council chairman and vice-chairman are Mrs. Max Rinkel of 33 Sun Hill Lane, Newton Centre, and Mrs. Hans Plandl of 170 Chestnut St., West Newton. Mrs. Adolph Namaksy, 321 Country Club Rd., Newton Centre, was a member of the Hospitality Committee.

District Dental Society to Meet In Auburndale

Woodland Golf Club in Auburndale will be the setting for the Metropolitan District Dental Society's annual presidential visitation Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, at 6 o'clock.

The meeting arrangements were completed by Dr. Leonard J. Tocci, chairman and Dr. George M. Noss, secretary of the Metropolitan District Dental Society.

Dr. Little will speak on Private Practice versus Community Practice.

Graduating from the University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine in 1936, Dr. Little was resident dentist at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital and began the practice of oral surgery in Springfield in 1937. During World War II he was a major in the dental corps, and was with the 399th Medical Maxillo-facial Surgical Unit at Guam and Marianas Islands.

Lee Loumos Says:

Color TV sets are so much in demand now that people are not only figuratively breaking down our doors to get them, they are literally breaking in our windows!

I had finally received my first sample of GE's Porta Color TV last week and proudly placed it in prominent display in my center front window, where it lasted only one day. My Thanksgiving evening was shattered, as was my window, by some impatient hit and run "customer" who apparently couldn't wait till I opened the following day.

So if you don't see any color TV sets in my window, know that I am keeping them out of temptation in the interior of my store for the benefit of my more conventional customers who have the goodness to come in and offer to pay for same. In this way, I'll be able to include free delivery, set-up and service.

Gala December Parties Assist Aid To Hearing

The more down to earth the cause, the more its parties soar in the clouds!

"And the lighter, the merrier, the more imaginative the parties, the more friends we attract and the more money we gather," say Mrs. John Sweeney and Mrs. Cecil Rose, Coordinator of the Ball and Founder of the Speech and Hearing Foundation. Mrs. James T. Godino, of Waban, is chairman of sponsors.

Leading the fund-raising activities are two festive parties in December as a prelude to the Spring Gala Ball which supports the Foundation.

Co-hostesses at a brunch, Friday, December 10th at the Ritz Carlton, Mrs. Sweeney and Mrs. Rose will entertain the members of the Ball committee. Last year it was called "Holiday in Valencia" and the year before "Holiday in Rome." Until 1966, they are keeping the far-off name for the setting of the Ball a dark secret.

The party honors members of the committee who work throughout the year to assure a sell-out dance. Playing an important role in the success of the dance are committee members Mrs. Donald Avery, Mrs. Paul Burns, Mrs. Robert Bryne, Mrs. James H. Buskirk, Mrs. John F. Cloran, Mrs. William H. Ellis, Jr., Mrs. Arnold Fleisher, Mrs. Alan E. Kniznik, Mrs. Harvey Newgent, Mrs. Charles F. Nayor, Mrs. Betram Petkun, Mrs. Lenahan O'Connell, Mrs. John Randazzo, Mrs. Toni Roberts, Miss Ann Sargent, Mrs. Robert L. Seaman, Mrs. Peter Starret, Mrs. George Stafford, Mrs. Thomas Taverna, and Mrs. Robert F. Tilley.

A warm welcome will also be given to Mrs. Harvey Newgent, newly elected president of the Friends of the Speech and Hearing Foundation, Mrs. James Godino, Chairman of Ball Sponsors and Mrs. William Hewitt, Advertising Program book chairman. Also welcome guests will be the Advisory Committee of the Foundation to the Ball — President, Cecil S. Rose, Vice President, Mrs. Donald Avery and trustees John A. Shelton. Jerome Facher, and Joseph Novahoff. The hostesses have included husbands of committee members to the Ball brunch and acknowledge their help through a special men's committee with members Dr. Simon Devine, Dr. John Sweeney, James Godino and William Hewitt.

The second exciting event promised is a pre-Christmas cocktail party. A well-known hostess, Mrs. John J. Donahue of Winchester, will greet the Envoys, Ball Committee and Trustees of the Speech and Hearing Foundation at her Myopia Hill Road home. This party will make the first time Mrs. Donahue has opened her home for a fund-raising event.

Impressed with the success of the Foundation's Envoy party at the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in Brookline, Mrs. Donahue wished to show her interest in the activities of the Foundation. Thus a gay amusing event will serve to acquaint those actively interested.

Mrs. Donahue, known as the "Silver Blond Lady of the Dark Glasses" — Dark glasses she always wears in sun or under bright electric lights — takes them off to show her blue eyes only after five. For her Envoy party she is planning magnificent holiday decorations that will surprise and delight.

On this occasion her house will glow in candlelight softly illuminating 18th century mahogany, silver and crystal. Unusual musical effects, another of her specialties, will be heard. Mrs. Donahue is noted for bringing to her parties, delightful music, gourment foods and high style

Behind the bemused atmosphere of the parties is the serious work of the Foundation — to acquaint the public with the facts about those handicapped with speech and hearing deficiencies. More than ten per cent of people suffer from a speech or hearing defect, some from both. The Foundation is interested in the education for the deaf to enable them to earn a living and to enjoy a satisfying life. The Foundation, chartered in 1961, assists the handicapped individual through organized programs such as training in mechanical dentistry, a new venture exciting even in its beginning stages.

Witnesses Do No Civil Rights Demonstrating

Jehovah's Witnesses assert that the civil rights problem has never been a question among their members, either internationally or in Newton.

Neither, they say, shall it be a problem at their circuit assembly in Somerville that opens tomorrow (Friday) and runs through Sunday, Dec. 5.

Many Newton residents will be among the 1300 Witnesses expected at the gathering. They have learned, it is said, to willingly apply the Bible principle, love, that makes problems of race, and nationalism non-existent among them.

Recently, Gennaro Montopoli, the presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, was asked why the Witnesses don't take part in civil rights demonstrations. "Mr. Montopoli reasoned that "these demonstrations do not solve the real problem, which is freeing the mind from wrong thinking and not the body or the individual from slavery or prohibitions.

"In the days of the Bible writers, similar conditions existed socially, but never did the ancient Hebrews or Early Christians try to secure civil rights. In fact the gatherings of the ancient men of God were similar in attitude to those of the modern Witnesses, whose largest gathering came in 1958 in New York City with over one-quarter of a million persons from 123 lands attending."

Meter Maid Study Group Has Queries

Three meetings have been held by the special committee set up by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs to study the proposed establishment of a meter maid corps for the city, according to Administrative Assistant William K. Mackey, a committee member.

The project has been thoroughly discussed and a study made of a survey made by Mr. Mackey of all cities that employ women to enforce parking regulations.

However, before recommending the establishment of the corps, the committee wants Matt B. Jones, city solicitor, to rule on the following matters:

Can present auxiliary policewomen act as meter maids? Could meter maids perform school traffic control duties? Could their salaries be paid from parking meter receipts? Could parking meter fines be applied to meter receipts instead of to the general fund, as is now the case?

Chairman of the committee is Walter A. Hood, president of the Newton Cooperative Bank. Other members are Alderman Warren A. Sutherland, Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt and Capt. James W. Corcoran of the police.

Candy Sale For World Service

The Annual Newton YMCA Youth Division candy sale has been sanctioned by the Massachusetts Bay United Fund.

Boys and girls will be selling thin mints in an effort to raise money for YMCA world service and other worthy causes.

The YMCA world service program helps to provide YMCA activities to other countries by sending trained workers to those countries which request such help. These YMCA workers in turn train local persons to conduct the programs, and, as soon as practical, the worker turns over the operation of the activities to the local persons and leaves to begin programs in other areas. YMCA World Service has thus started YMCA activities in over 35 different countries.

Currently serving as chairman of the 1966 Women's Division Campaign of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston, Mrs. Rose is also a trustee of the C.J.P. and has devoted much of her time to this vital communal service through the years.

A past national president of the Brandeis University National Women's Committee, she is also a Fellow of Brandeis University; serves as a member of the Board of the Women's Committee of the Jewish Family and Children's Service; is an honorary Board member of the Boston Chapter of Hadassah; and is a member of the Executive Committee of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

Mrs. Rose is the third of seven distinguished members of the Congregation who will speak on the central theme "The Jew in the 20th Century" at a series of late Friday evening services throughout the year in observance of the 30th Anniversary of the founding of Temple Emanuel. The public is invited to attend these services. A question and answer period will follow the Oneg Shabbat in the Temple Community Hall.

Newtonite Is Feted Recently On Retirement

Robert A. Cunningham of Waldorf Rd., Newton Highlands, was feted at a retirement dinner held recently in his honor at Longfellow's Wayside Inn in Sudbury.

More than one hundred longtime friends and associates from all over New England greeted Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham at a reception held before the dinner.

Mr. Cunningham has served in the hardware industry in New England for more than forty-five years. All of this time he has been associated with his own manufacturers' representative firm, the C. A. Cunningham Co. which is presently located in Charlestown.

After serving the Ambulance Corps in World War I, Mr. Cunningham, a graduate of Harvard College, joined with his father in the hardware business and shortly thereafter took over the operation. Specializing in builders hardware, he has represented major hardware manufacturers all during his tenure.

Foreign Visitors Group Seeking More Members

Mrs. Kery R. Lyne of 101 Windsor Rd., Waban, has been appointed to the Membership Committee of Boston Council for International Visitors, and is involved in an intensive campaign to obtain more members for this unusual organization.

Mrs. Lyne's husband is the president of the organization, having served on the Board and as a member of the Finance Committee for two years. He is the honorary Consul for Thailand in Boston, and both he and his wife have given generously of their time in the promotion of international understanding.

With headquarters in the beautiful Beacon Hill home of the former Rose Standish Nichols, the BCIV welcomes distinguished visitors from overseas (more than half referred by the State Department and other governmental agencies) and arranges a full program of cultural and professional meetings, and visits in New England homes.

The BCIV, a voluntary, nonprofit enterprise which receives no finanicial aid from federal or state governments, and depends on the generosity of individuals and organizations, is in need of a greatly increased number of members. As the number of overseas guests steadily mounts, the need for financial support and interest mounts accordingly.

Mrs. Lyne, and the 12 other members of the expanded Membership Committee are performing a great service to international understanding in their active efforts to enlist a still larger group of Bostonians in this important work.

Rep. Mann Calls For New Study Group For Medicare

An order filed by Representative Theodore D. Mann of Newton calling for the appointment of a special committee to study the Federal Medicare Program was admitted by the House of Representatives this week for action at the present legislative session.

Under the provisions of Mann's measure, the committee, which would include members of both the House and Senate, would study Medicare as it applies to citizens who are eligible or may be eligible for coverage under the law.

Rep. Mann declared that about 620,000 Massachusetts citizens are eligible for coverage and that about 100,000 others must make application to the Social Security Office in order to avoid losing their rights to this important protection.

"It is the responsibility of the Legislature," Mann asserted, "to explore every possible way of being of assistance to our older citizens. It is hoped that this commission will be established by the Commonwealth for the broader dissemination of information pertaining to Medicare."

Mann has also filed an order for the appointment of a special committee of five House members to study the possibility of Medicare coverage for those in the employ of the state. Provisions are made in this order for the committee to meet with members of the Massachusetts congressional delegation for the purpose of considering any necessary changes in the federal law.

The readings will open with the last verse from the first chapter of Genesis: "And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good."

Related passages from "Sciences and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "The spiritual reality is the scientific fact in all things . . . God, Spirit, alone created all, and called it good . . . The age seems ready to approach this subject, to ponder somewhat the supremacy of Spirit, and at least to touch the hem of Truth's garment" (pp. 207,-339,170).

Tax -

Basbas is certain to try to trim them down, but it is unlikely that he will be able to get them down to the 1965 level because of rising costs.

The city's surplus fund of about $500,000 is considerably smaller than usual and it could be reduced even lower if the city should be hit by any snow storms before the end of the year.

Mayor-elect Basbas' financial headaches also will be compounded if the long-range weather forecasters are correct in their predictions that the coming winter will bring an unusually large amount of snow.

And even if it doesn't snow at all, a hike in the tax rate is unavoidable.

Story Hour For Children At Church This Saturday

"An Illustrated Story Hour with Harve and Margot Zemach" is the delightful entertainment that the Hills and Falls Cooperative Nursery Schol is sponsoring this year for children in the four-to-eight age group.

This noted Newton team won a prize at the Herald Tribune Spring Book Festival and has just presented a program at the All City Book Fair in Detroit. They have outlined and illustrated such books as "Nail Soup" and "Salt."

The program will be given in the auditorium of Saint Mary's Episcopal Church in Newton Lower Falls on Saturday, December 4, at 2:00 p. m. The chairmen of this annual fund raising event are Mrs. Malcolm Greene and Mrs. Sheldon Greene of Waban. Tickets may be obtained from the chairmen at DE 2-4474 or LA 7-4509, or from any Hills and Falls mother.

Recent events concerning the school have included a Corporation dinner on Friday, November 5. Mr. and Mrs. William Amory of Wellesley opened their lovely home to all Hills and Falls parents. Mrs. Seymour Kushner, Wellesley, was the chairman of this dinner which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

Before Halloween the boys and girls visited Volante's Produce Farm in Needham to see the pumpkins and other fall vegetables. Several pumpkins were purchased and later carved into jack-o'-lanterns at school. A week ago they visited again in Needham at Owen's Poultry Farm for a first hand observation of the turkeys there. Mrs. James Boyd is in charge of transportation for these trips which are under the supervision of the teachers, Mrs. John Morganthau and Mrs. Leon Blum.

At present there are no vacancies at the school although openings do occur from time to time. Any parents of pre-school children interested in information about Hills and Falls may call Mrs. John Whiting, President, at 235-1152, or Mrs. Thomas Griffiths, Registrar, at 237-1409.

Political Highlights

Collins made no announcement of his candidacy or any reference to it although there is no doubt as to his political goal.

There were no political speeches in the accepted sense of the word even though there were some glowing tributes to Collins by both Democrats and Republicans.

But any candidate, announced or unannounced, for whose campaign $300,000 is raised at a dinner, is off to a sensational start.

And any prospective office-seeker, who can attract the huge gathering, which came out on a Sunday night to honor Collins, is in a potent starting position.

The consensus of opinion among the Democratic and Republican politicos attending the affair is that Collins and Senator Leverett Saltonstall will be the adversaries next autumn in a struggle for the place Saltonstall has held on Capitol Hill for the past 21 years.

That belief apparently is shared by Governor Volpe who might well be the Republican standard-bearer against Collins if Saltonstall should decide to retire from public life.

Volpe publicly urged Saltonstall to stand for another term in the Senate and then showed up at the Collins dinner a few days later to add his tribute to those being paid to the Boston Mayor.

This was quite a political tight-rope trick, but Volpe executed it neatly.

Whether Saltonstall runs again or retires, Volpe and Collins undoubtedly will be on opposing State tickets next year.

That, however, posed no great problem for the bouncy, effervescent Volpe who probably would not hesitate to accept an invitation to say a few kind words about a Democrat planning to run against him.

Volpe lauded Collins as "a straight-shooting, plain-talking ally" in the fight for the enactment of a limited sales tax.

The Governor couldn't resist making a quip when he remarked that he didn't know what Collins would run for and that he hoped Collins wouldn't be running against him.

"If we do run against each other and I lose, please make me tax commissioner," said Volpe. While Volpe was jesting, he obviously was assuming that if he and Collins were opponents, it would be for the Governorship.

That remark, along with other things Volpe has said, were tipoffs that he expects Saltonstall will be standing for another term in the Senate and that he, Volpe, will be seeking a four-year term in the Governorship.

Whether Volpe has any specific knowledge or information on which to base his assumption is uncertain. The guessing is that he doesn't and that Saltonstall has been keeping his own counsel as to what he will or will not do.

This writer, incidentally, can't understand why Saltonstall is withholding a statement of his intentions if he has made up his mind to run again, as so many persons are intimating.

With Collins planning to delay a formal announcement of his candidacy for the Senate until some time early in 1966, reports are certain to crop up periodically that he may shift his political aim and bid for the Governorship.

There will be no basis or foundation for them. Collins already has rejected suggestions that he run for Governor. And he has made it plain that there is no likelihood whatever that he will change his mind. He wants to be Senator, not Governor.

If Collins doesn't win a seat in the U.S. Senate, he presumably will seek another term as Mayor of Boston.

Considerable significance was attached by political observers to the presence of some prominent public figures at the Collins dinner and the absence of others.

Ex-Governor Endicott Peabody, former Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti and Turnpike Authority Chairman John T. Driscoll all were among the missing.

Peabody and Driscoll are regarded as potential candidates against Collins for the Democratic Senate nomination.

Bellotti, the Democratic nominee for Governor last year, is considered a possible candidate for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, U.S. Senator or Attorney General. He is expected to run for something, but he himself apparently hasn't yet decided what it will be.

But the rollcall of well known politicians who did show up for the Collins dinner was considerably longer and more impressive than the list of those who didn't.

Senator Edward M. Kennedy, House Speaker John W. McCormack, former Mayor John B. Hynes, State Senate President Maurice A. Donahue, Massachusetts House Speaker John F. X. Davoren, Governor Volpe and Republican business and civic leader Charles A. Coolidge were all at the head table.

Seated with the dinner guests were such well known figures as former Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Congressman Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., of Cambridge, Congressman Edward P. Boland of Springfield, Worcester Mayor Paul Mullaney and a host of others.

Ted Kennedy's assertion that the Democratic party considers Collins "a tremendous asset in any effort he might make in the future," was not lost upon those trying to assess Collins' strength in a battle for the Democratic Senate nomination.

Those Democratic politicians who are cool to Collins' candidacy declare that he has antagonized some legislators in his own party by his support of Governor Volpe's tax program.

Actually, Collins endorsed both Volpe's tax program with a proposed limited sales tax and Senate President Donahue's alternate tax plan without one.

When the bill backed by Donahue went down the drain in the House, Collins threw the weight of his support behind Volpe's plan, realizing that it was the only one which offered hope of substantial help for the cities and towns.

Some of the legislators who have refused to do anything about the plight of the local communities may have been annoyed or angered by the stand taken by Collins, but they're likely to be even more shocked by the voters when they come up for renomination or reelection next year.

The fact is that some legislators control delegations to the Democratic State Convention and wield influence there. Other legislators remain aloof from ward and town committee fights and aren't even delegates.

In a state-wide primary campaign the legislators pack little or no punch. They're usually too busy with their own troubles.

State Senate President Maurice A. Donahue, an unanounced candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, will be feted at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner next Tuesday night at the Statler Hotel.

Donahue and former Attorney General McCormack are engaged in a hard fight for the right to run as the Democratic nominee for Governor, with former Presidential aide Kenneth O'Donnell the third man in the field and well back of the other two.

Senator Ted Kennedy will be the principal speaker at the Donahue banquet which is expected to give a big lift to the Senate president's gubernatorial campaign.

It will be interesting to see if Governor Volpe, a familiar figure at Democratic dinners, shows up to speak at the fete for Donahue who hopes to run against him and oust him from office.

Newton High Loses As South Wins Last Game

Newton South High School's football team wound up its season in a blaze of glory Thanksgiving morning as it swept to an impressive 35-0 victory over Hingham High.

For the gridiron Tigers of Newton High, Thanksgiving was another day of frustration and disappointment.

Coach Jim Ronayne's charges played extremely well—but not quite well enough to win—and bowed to Brookline, 22-14.

The score doesn't tell the story of Newton courage and Newton fight.

Nor does it indicate that the Tigers were on the Brookline two-yard line with three downs in which to score a touchdown when time ran out.

Newton and Brookline battled on even terms most of the game.

Brookline swept 69 yards in 10 plays for the contest's first touchdown and added a two-point conversion.

Newton fought back to tie the score, marching 80 yards for a touchdown. With the Tigers on the Brookline 38-yard line, Dick DiLuzio passed to Tom Warrem who made the catch on the 27-yard line andn sped into the end zone for the TD. DiLuzio scored the two-point conversion on a keeper.

At the end of the first half the score was tied 8-8. Brookline took the opening kickoff in the third period and moved 84 yards for a touchdown but failed on the conversion attempt.

Newton battled back gamely in the fourth period, putting on a 51-yard drive. Bill Jonah and Paul Burlingame did most of the ball-carrying, and Jonah went across from the one-yard line for the score.

An attempted pass by DiLuzio to Warren for the two-point conversion was wide and failed. This tied the score 14-14.

With slightly more than three minutes to play, Brookline scored another touchdown and added a two-point conversion to move into a 22-14 lead.

The Tigers made a do-or-die attempt to deadlock the score and marched 68 yards to the Brookline two-yard line. But the game ended with pay dirt two scant yards away.

It was a disappointing defeat, but it was a defeat of which no Newton player need be ashamed.

DiLuzio, Warren and Jonah all were outstanding for Newton as they put on their best performances of the season.

Newton ended its 1965 season with a record of two wins and seven losses.

It was a much different story at Dickinson Stadium where Newton South ended its most successful season with a 35-0 rout of Hingham High.

The triumph gave the Lions a record of eight victories and one defeat and left them in third place in the Class B standing.

Mike Nathanson scored two touchdowns, while Joe Manfredi, Steve Cooper and Steve Parnell tallied one TD apiece. Jose Compos, the Mexican soccer-style kicking specialist, kicked three points after touchdown, and Joel Lipof added two points to the Lion total by tackling Hingham quarterback Bob Coughlin in his own end zone for a safety.

Coach George Winkler had well-deserved words of praise for all his Newton South charges and particularly for the unsung heroes in the line who played hard-nosed football throughout the season.

Story of Progress of City's Mental Health Clinic Is Told

A panel, headed by Kenneth Huberman, president of Action for Mental Health in Newton, gave a comprehensive outline of the origins and progress of the city's new mental health center Monday night, when some 100 persons gathered in the Bishop MacKenzie Center for the fall meeting of Newton Community Council.

Mr. Huberman's panel comprises Dr. William E. Stone, the center's medical director; Dr. Sylvia Krakow and Dr. Haskell Cohen. Chairman of the meeting was Robert C. Casselman, first vice president of the Community Council.

Dwelling on the clinic's origins, Mr. Huberman told how parents of emotionally disturbed young people banded together for mutual health about three years ago. A number of community leaders joined them and, with the help of the Legislature and Newton School Department and city officials' support, as well as further help from agencies, including the Community Council, the center was opened last September.

Outlining the three-phase program — prevention, service to children in need of a helping hand, and treatment of those with problems, Dr. Stone declared that lack of money is not a barrier to treatment, and described a sliding scale of fees based on a family's ability to pay. He stressed the flexibility of the treatment plan whereby some patients are seen weekly and others less frequently.

Cooperation of the parents has been excellent to date, Dr. Krakow, head social worker, reported.

Dr. Cohen, chief psychologist, told of the efforts to achieve flexibility in providing services, saying that in the past some clinics were guilty of too much diagnosis and too little treatment. He outlined 20 possible treatment plans and bared other plans for a follow-up study of each patient in two or three years, thus evaluating the effectiveness of the clinic's service.

Bride Of Light Rites To Benefit Swedish Home

A bit of Sweden comes to Boston's Sheraton Plaza Friday evening, Dec. 10, when the Aquilo Club, Junior League of the Swedish Charitable Society of Greater Boston, presents its 17th anniversary New England Jul Bal-Luciafest to raise $1000 to present to the Society for the benefit of the Swedish Home for the Aged in West Newton.

This Jul Bal-Luciafest (Bride of Light ceremony) is the highlight of the year for New England's Swedes and those interested in Swedish customs. The Bride of Light ceremony goes back to Swedish legendary history. Lucia was a medieval Swedish saint who carried food and drink to hungry folk in the province of Varmland during a period of famine. Because she was seen crossing a lake clothed in white with a crown of light encircling her head, the modern Lucias also dress in white and wear a crown with lighted candles.

Today Lucia appears not only in homes, but also in schools, offices, hospitals, orphanages, and other public buildings to open the Yuletide. She also visits those who are ill, poor, or lonely, as the medieval Lucia is said to have done. Many towns and cities throughout Sweden plan a special Lucia celebration and choose a local Bride of Light (Lucia) to reign during the festivities. She is often assisted by star bearers, costumed traditionally, and carrying star-tipped wands.

This special Lucia celebration will be patterned directly after those in Sweden. Starting at 7:30 in the ballroom, all single girls of Swedish descent between the ages of 17 and 21 will be invited to register for the Lucia Bride Contest at the registration table near the door. Seven finalists will be chosen by a panel of judges.

This will be the first social affair of the season for this active post and proceeds will be used to aid in presenting Christmas and other charity works.

The program includes Down East, modern and square dancing, the bagpipes of James Cant of Dedham in favorite Scottish music and American Folk dances; fiddling by various members of the Canadian Legion and the dance music of Angus MacEachern.

There will be a table adorned with many of the trinkets so necessary for Christmas gift activities, and a small donation will permit the participants in the thrill of a prize drawing.

Norwood Social Security Office Has Extra Hours

The social security district office in Norwood will remain open from 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday evening and from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. each Saturday morning for the next several months, for the added convenience of residents of the area, John G. Bynoe, social security district manager, said today.

These special hours are in addition to the regular 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. schedule of office hours, Monday thru Friday.

Mr. Bynoe pointed out that it is important for many people to get in touch with the district office to take advantage of the health insurance and other provisions of the 1965 amendments to the social security program. Although most people are able to visit the office during the day, many find it impossible to do so because of employment or home responsibilities.

The major group of people who should get in touch with the social security office are the following, Mr. Bynoe said. Anyone now age 65 or who will be 65 by July 1, 1966, who has not already filed an application to receive the protection of the Health Insurance Program ("Medicare"). This includes people who have never worked under Social Security at any time in their lives. People working full time can still file for "Medicare," even though they have no intention of retiring. It should be emphasized that no one can lose any benefits by applying before actual retirement.

Christmas Program

A special Christmas program arranged by Mrs. Seaton M. Woodley Jr., will be a feature of the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Newton Centre Methodist Church, Wednesday evening, Dec. 8, at 7 o'clock. Dessert will be served.

Centre Woman's Club Book Review Program

The Newton Centre Woman's Club enjoyed an interesting book review program recently with a distinctive French flavor augmented by Gallic decorations.

The event was under the direction of the literature and drama committee of the club and was presented in a setting reminiscent of the salon headquarters of German General Dietrich Cholitz who is credited with saving Paris from destruction on the day of liberation in August 1944.

A book review of "Is Paris Burning" given by Mrs. C. Hassler Capron was presented in a setting with backgrounds of Paris posters and street scenes. A large French flag was obtained by the French Library of Boston from the French consulate.

Mrs. Capron, a Wellesley resident who formerly lived in Newton Centre, also presented "Some Titles for Christmas Giving."

Mrs. Stanton J. TenBroeck Jr., club president, gave a review of "The Rabbi," by Noah Gordon, and Mrs. Andrew F. Lane, chairman of the committee, presented highlights of "The Intern," by Doctor X.

A special memorial, set up for John F. Kennedy, comprised copies of all the books written by him and those written about him since his death. These were supplied by the Newton Library. A large illumined portrait hung on the wall above the display.

At its business meeting the committee decided to support the project, "Book U.S.A." to collect books for the Marine Hospital. Members also voted to enter the literary and skit contest run by the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs in honor of its 75th anniversary. Mrs. Paul J. Boylan, author and dramatist, will head this activity.

Whist Party

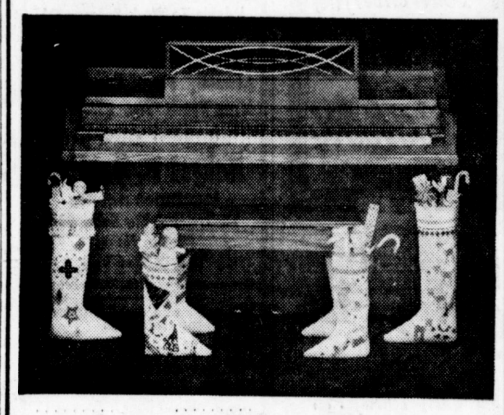

Kinneret Chapter of Pioneer Women will hold a military whist on Thursday, Dec. 9, at 8 p.m. in Meadowbrook Junior High School.

Prizes and refreshments will be offered.

Tickets may be purchased at the door, with profits benefiting child rescue work in Israel. Co-chairmen of this event are Mrs. Archie Isgur and Mrs. Sidney Lelchook of Newton Center. Refreshment chairman is Mrs. Daniel Levine of Newtonville.

New tests show extension phone saves 76 extra miles of walking every year.

A pedometer test proved it! 358 housewives agreed to wear pedometers for a month before they had an extension phone, and then for a month after.
Some lived in large houses, some in small. Some had large families, some small. Result of the test: they saved 76 miles a year on the average!

An extension phone can take some of the "run" out of running your home, too. Especially if you put it in a busy, important spot like the kitchen, bedroom, den, or family room. Cost? Just a fraction more for double the convenience.

To order a mile-saving extension phone, call your Telephone Business Office or talk to your telephone man.

Local Painters In Lexington Art Exhibition

Two Newton artists, Mrs. Toni Roberts and Mrs. Carolyn Bernhardt will show their work at the art exhibit in Lexington Motor Inn, Route 128 and 2-A, Sunday afternoon Dec. 5 from 2 to 6 o'clock.

Toni Roberts' paintings can only be termed as exciting. An impressionistic painter with a marvelous sense of color harmony, her paintings leave little to be desired. They are warm and friendly yet vibrant with all the excitement of the feminine touch. In the short period of only three years as a professional painter Toni Roberts has become one of New England's favorite artists. Beginning her art career as a water colorist, in which she won her first award she later changed to oil, which she found more adaptable to her particular technique. She is a member of the Newton Art Association.

JOSTY Elects Local Youths

Newly elected officers of Junior Ohabei Shalom Youth Group include Phyllis Rosenthal, vice president; David Poorvu, secretary, and Michael Zimmer, treasurer. All are Newton residents.

The group will hold its second affair of the year Saturday evening, Dec. 4, at 7:30 o'clock, in the temple social hall, 1187 Beacon St., Brookline. Presentation of a movie, "Gidget Goes to Rome," will be followed by a pizza party.

Membership in the group is open to young people in grades seven through nine in public school. Information can be had from Mrs. Rachel Stoller or Don Steiner at the Temple School office, AS 7-6610.

Simpson House Changes Hands

The Simpson House, 1114 Beacon St., Newton Highlands, is expected to open under new ownership around the first of the year.

The Newton Licensing Board reports that its six-day liquor and victualers' licenses have been taken over by Hayes-Bickford Lunch System, Inc., and that the new manager is Leonard L. McLaughlin, 156 Sprague St., Dedham.

The licenses were formerly held by Simpson House, Inc., Edith H. Simpson, manager.

FEATURED AT RECEPTION—Beth Hansen and Frank Schulte, noted stage and night club entertainers, who will be featured at dinner reception at Temple Beth Avodah, Saturday evening.

Temple Reception For New Rabbi on Saturday

In honor of the installation of Rabbi Bernard Bloomstone as Rabbi of Temple Beth Avodah, Newton Centre, a dinner reception will be held at the Temple on Saturday evening, December 4.

Beth Hansen and Frank Schulte will entertain the gathering with music from leading Broadway shows and with other popular music.

Miss Hansen has sung with many leading members of the Metropolitan Opera and of the Broadway stage, and has given performances at Carnegie Hall and Town Hall in New York City. She has also appeared with the Show Stoppers at Boston's Hotel Statler and at Steuben's Vienna Room.

Frank Schulte, a well known baritone has appeared throughout the United States in night clubs and in musical summer theaters. He was also a member of the Show Stoppers for three years, and for the past several summers, he has been a featured actor-singer at the Music Circus in Cohasset.

Arrangements for the evening's program were made by Frederick S. Shapiro, chairman of the Religious Committee, and Jack Drobnis, a member of the Religious Committee.

Wellesley Club Has Chestnut Hill Meeting

Newton, Wellesley and Brookline Wellesley College alumnae held a coffee meeting recently in the 49 Edge Hill Rd., Chestnut Hill, home of Mrs. Herbert H. Goldberger, president of the Boston Wellesley College Club.

Two Wellesley seniors provided the program. Pamela Price spoke vividly of her junior year at a University in Hyderabad, India, where she studied the Telugu language and gathered information on the political and economic opinions in a nearby village. Her classmate, Molly Shanley, was equally enthusiastic in describing highpoints of her 6 weeks in Washington last summer working in the office of an Illinois Congressman.

The committee planning the meeting included Mrs. L. T. McDaniel, Mrs. Rudolph Pofcher and Mrs. J. W. O'Connor of Newton and Mrs. Paul S. Russell, Mrs. G. H. Howkins, Jr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Snider of Chestnut Hill.

Jeffrey M. Fine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Fine, 2088 Washington St., Newton Lower Falls, a senior at Amherst College, has been elected a New England Psychological Association undergraduate fellow for 1965-66. A graduate of Newton South High School, he is a psychology major, and has been named to the Dean's List each year.

Roxbury Latin Announces Six Scholarships

Roxbury Latin School has announced six new scholarships to be known as the Joseph Warren Scholarships, which will be available next September.

In making the announcement Richmond Mayo-Smith, the new headmaster and a former resident of Dedham, said they were named in honor of Major General Joseph Warren of Revolutionary War fame and a graduate of the school in 1755.

The Roxbury Latin School, founded in 1645, is the oldest independent secondary school in continuous operation in the United States. It is a college preparatory country day school for boys, grades 7-12. Important goals of the School are to guide students as they mature and develop their own set of values, to teach them how to learn, and to provide excellent scholastic preparation for college.

The scholarships may be full or partial, depending on need, and they will continue for the full six years the boy is in school if he maintains a satisfactory record.

Any boy, regardless of race or religion, is eligible and application forms and details may be obtained by writing to Mr. Robert W. Siemens, Admissions Director, Roxbury Latin School, West Roxbury, Mass., 02132.

Applications must be completed on or before Jan. 15, 1966.

Norumbega Park Motel Case May Go On And On

Superior Court Judge Frank Tomasello, who has reserved decision in the case brought by Auburndale residents attempting to keep a $4,000,000 luxury motor hotel out of a portion of Norumbega Park, is expected to make a decision known soon.

However, the case, which has been pending for two years, could require many more months for a final decision should there be an appeal from a decision by Judge Tomasello.

Respondents in the case are Marriot Motor Hotel Corporation of Newton and Newton city officials.

Eileen Enright, 25 Ricker Rd., Newton, has been graduated from the Famous Artists Schools of Westport, Conn. She specialized in painting during her three years with this home study school.

Paul Mann of 137 Temple St., West Newton, former president of Boston Chapter, University of New Hampshire Alumni Association, is co-chairman for the showing of an outstanding Jim Farnsworth color ski film tomorrow (Friday) evening in Lexington High School.

A prominent Boston tanners' sales representative, Mann said he expected a record turnout for the single film showing and urged those interested in skiing as well as those wishing to benefit the scholarship fund of the alumni association to get tickets early.

The technique used in the Farnsworth film, called "Ski-O-Rama," Mann said, makes you feel as if you're skiing, and the scenery and photography are breathtaking. Mann said that Farnsworth's filming methods are considered the undisputed best in the industry when it comes to skiing photography.

FRANCIS W. COUSINS

"The Achievement of Spiritual Healing" is the subject for a Christian Science lecture to be presented to the public tomorrow, (Friday), December 3rd by First Church of Christ, Scientist of Newton.

Francis William Cousins of Manchester, England, will be the speaker, beginning at 8 p.m. in the Church Edifice, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville. There is no charge for admission, and everyone is welcome.

Mr. Cousins was formerly associated for over thirty years with a company of West African merchants. He resigned from this business in 1951 to devote his full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing.

He is currently on tour as a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Axelrod, 36 Clifton Rd., Newton Centre, had parts in "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," presented by the Cambridge School of Weston.

THE LONELY ONES—Newton's Rock 'n Roll Band, "The Lonely Ones" played a recent successful benefit performance at the Metropolitan State Hospital, Waltham. Science Speaker Sees Need For 'Spiritual Standpoint'

Better human relationships depend upon a "spiritual standpoint," said a Christian Science lecturer in Watertown Sunday, November 21st.

Our problems can't be solved "by blaming others," he said—the trouble must be dealt with primarily "in our own thought."

Charles M. Carr, C.S.B., of New York, was the lecturer. He spoke in St. John's Methodist Church under the sponsorship of First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston. His subject was "Christian Science and Human Relationships."

Mr. Carr warned the audience not to become "human reactors."

"The sure recipe for unhappiness is to be constantly reacting to what others do or don't do, say or don't say"—"to go up and down like a barometer, reacting to every change of mental climate or human opinion."

Improved human relationships must begin with God, he declared.

"We've got to change the emphasis of our thinking from a material, personal point of view of existence to a spiritual, Godlike point of view."

He noted that "one book more than any other presents an inspired spiritual viewpoint of view of existence to a "That book is the Bible."

He quoted the Apostle Paul: "Owe no man any thing but to love one another" (Rom. 13:8).

This can't be done from a material standpoint, Mr. Carr emphasized.

"The material senses can't give us a true picture of man; or of God; or of man's relationship to God; or of man's relationship to man.

"The lens of materiality is always out of focus. It's certain to register a distorted personal picture of man—such as prejudice, envy, hatred, inferiority, egotism."

A spiritual concept of man is necessary, the lecturer said.

"Our concept of ourselves and others needs to be spiritual and God-centered, not material and self-centered. We need to love one another by seeing man in the image of God or Spirit."

He quoted Mary Baker Eddy, the Founder of the Christian Science Church: "The Scriptures inform us that man is made in the image and likeness of God. Matter is not that likeness . . . Man is idea, the image, of Love; he is not physique" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 475).

This spiritual sense of man is developed through prayer, said Mr. Carr—"by aligning thought with the fact of God's allness and man's perfect relation to Him, to divine Life and Love."

Through such prayer, we see man "as a divine idea, expressing spiritual qualities," including "joy and harmony."

When we do this, he added, we are responding "to the Christ, Truth, that Jesus taught and lived, the Truth that reveals the wholly spiritual nature of man in God's likeness."

But this spiritual concept "must be put into practice," he emphasized. We must "respond" actively.

Then "it becomes a healing influence in our affairs," and we get along better "with ourselves and others."

Mr. Carr told of actual cases in which disrupted human relationships were healed through such means. One was a case involving opposing human wills. He described how a young college graduate was happily recognized with her family when "she let go of human pushing" and stopped "reacting to material, personal opinions about man, either hers or others."

This girl "saw that no problem could be solved by the roughshod methods of human will, or by blaming others," he said. "She began to respond to the divine purpose by reflecting the spiritual qualities of God and giving others credit for being God's spiritual image and likeness, too."

In another case, a married couple on the verge of divorce were reunited. "Their growing understanding and appreciation of the infinite goodness of God and their inseparable relationship to Him, to divine Love, brought them closer to God and to one another."

Everyone can align his thought with God in this way, said the lecturer.

"Then we'll feel the warmth of God's presence, as a Christ-like, universal love. And we'll respond to this love by including everyone in it."

Victims of Auto Crashes And Falls Are Hospitalized

Automobile crashes and falls were responsible for a number of cases of injury, some rather serious, during the past week in Newton.

Mrs. Evelyn Murphy, 69, of 8 Central Close, Auburndale, was still a patient in the intensive care unit of Waltham Hospital Tuesday. Both ankles were broken and she suffered arm, jaw, head and internal injuries in a truck-car collision on Route 128 a week ago. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alice Murphy of Lexington, lost her life in the accident.

Two accidents last Friday caused injuries to three motorists and a pedestrian. One accident happened in that afternoon, when two cars came together at Otis street and Lowell avenue, Newtonville. Taken to Newton - Wellesley Hospital were Francis T. Charlton, 101 Adams street, Newton, driver of one of the cars, and Mrs. Martha S. McManus, 154 Harvard street, Newtonville, driver of the other. Also hospitalized was Mrs. Grace O'Brien of East Walpole, a passenger in the McManus Car.

The hurt pedestrian was Maria Russo, 46, of 13 Elm street, West Newton, who was struck near 569 Watertown street, Newton, by a car operated by Althea Weldon of Watertown.

Mrs. Mary L. Fitzgibbons, 13 Maguire court, Newtonville, was treated at the hospital Wednesday for injuries to her left wrist suffered in a fall near 833 Washington street, Newtonville.

Last Monday a boy and an elderly woman were taken to the hospital by police after they were injured in falls. Mrs. Agnes Bonner, 80, of 100 Waban Hill road, Chestnut Hill, suffered a possible fractured hip. William J. Conan, 16, of Waltham, hurt his left foot in a fall at King's Department Store on California street, Newton.

MRS. MARY W. COCHRAN

At Conclave For Nursing School Heads

Mrs. Mary W. Cochran, a resident of Newton for many years who still owns a home at 152 Grove St., Auburndale, attended a two-day symposium last week in Cleveland, Ohio, sponsored by the National Association for Practical Nurse Education and service — a meeting that brought together directors of schools of practical nursing accredited by NAPNES.

Mrs. Cochrane is a director of the Hannah Harrison School of the YWCA in Washington, D. C., whose students will eventually perform nursing duties at the bedside of the patient.

Object of the Cleveland symposium was to improve and enrich the quality of educational programs which prepare licensed practical nurses for bedside care of patients.

Mrs. Cochran took part in discussions on the pressing issues and challenges of practical nurse education. In her opinion, "local, state and national health needs of our society cannot be met unless programs of practical nursing education prepare students to meet the future job demands."

The Hannah Harrison School, started in 1957, today graduates approximately 24 practical nurses each year who become licensed in the District of Columbia under testing and licensing standards, or under testing and licensing standards of the students' home states.

NAPNES, the parent organization, comprises more than 30,000 licensed practical nurses, practical nurse educators and institutional group members.

EDWARD W. BROOKE

Brooke To Be Forum Speaker December 12th

The Temple Mishkan Tefila Forum will present its first supper meeting of the current year Sunday evening, December 12, at the Temple.

Forum president, Jason Sacks, has announced that the guest speaker will be Attorney General Edward W. Brooke.

Attorney General Brooke has achieved national political importance since his sweeping re-election victory here in the fall. His crusade against crime also has earned him much distinction.

Jay L. Fialkow, who serves on Brooke's staff as special assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust, is chairman of the evening.

The supper meeting looms as a sellout and is open to Forum members and their guests.

The committee with Mr. and Mrs. Fialkow includes: Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Neitlichfs, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tichnor, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Kurland, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Weinstein, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Paley, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wilson, and Rosalee Garber.

Sherry hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are available at the Temple.

mittee. He has been active in the affairs of the United Synagogue the past nineteen years and has held every office within the ranks of lay leadership. He is a member of the Board of Overseers of the Jewish Theological Seminary and a founder of the National Ramah Commission.

Participating in the mortgage burning ceremony will be Ralph Cohn, founding President of the Congregation and the following members whose names appeared on the original Temple mortgage: Ira I. Nelson, I. J. Silverman, Kivie Kaplan, Mark A. Edison, Arthur Rosenberg, Abraham I. Kaye, George E. Gordon, David Suvalle, Nathan Singer, Morris Cohen, Harry G. Levinson, Simon Cohen, Bernard Riemer, Louis Cohen, Samuel Rosenberg, Thomas Spiro, Samuel Rottenberg, Arthur Swett, David Short, Simon Turin, Israel Trieger, Leslie Pike, Reuben Parrits, Herbert Ludwig and Dr. Julius Levitan.

Also participating will be representatives of the families of the late Joseph Oppenheim, Benjamin Zelermyer, Jack J. Springer, Robert Freedman, Albert Salter and Sol Rotenberg.

A coffee hour and dancing will follow the formal dinner program.

Temple Emanuel has its inception on September 5, 1935, when a small group of Newtonites met and organized a Hebrew School and Temple. Temporary quarters were obtained in a commercial block on Commonwealth Avenue, Newton, where the first formal Hebrew and Sunday Schools in the City of Newton were established. High Holy Day services that year were held at the Newton Centre Women's Club.

In November, 1935, 28,000 feet of land was purchased on Ward Street and on May 9, 1937, the cornerstone of the Temple was laid with the building completed in time for High Holy Day services that year.

Additional purchases of land in 1940, 1944 and 1945 permitted construction in 1952 of the present buildings — a fifteen clasroom school and library, community hall seating 1000 and Chapel for daily services.

In 1949 the Post War influx of Jewish families to the City of Newton made it impossible for Hebrew and Sunday School classes to be conducted within the then limited physical facilities of the Temple.

In a demonstration of brotherhood which will always be remembered by the Jewish Community of Newton, the faculty and trustees of Andover-Newton Theological School made their classroom facilities available for a period of several years for the Hebrew education of the children of Temple Emanuel, until suitable school facilities could be constructed at the Temple.

In a desire to meet the needs of the Congregation and the Newton Jewish Community, an extensive Youth Activities program was implemented in September, 1952. The program was designed to create in the child a sense of well being in himself as an individual, as a Jew, in relationship to the Congregation and the Community. Its goal was to help the child establish himself as an integrated personality.

This program afforded all the youth of the Community the opportunity to enrich their lives through new experiences in a Jewish religious setting. It was at the synagogue that the children had opportunity to meet their friends, have fun, learn, understand and appreciate their Jewish heritage and express themselves under understanding adult professional trained guidance.

Over the years the quality of religious instruction at the Temple Hebrew school and planned activities for the youth of the congregation through the medium of the Youth Activities Program, resulted in both the excellence of the religious school (1955) and the South Activities Program (1963) achieving the Solomon Schechter Awards, given biennially by the United Synagogue of America for the outstanding congregational program within the 800 member framework of the United Synagogue of America.

For the past decade, Temple Emanuel has stressed a family-centered program designed to meet the need of the total family through participation in one or more facets of the Temple program.

In addition to its traditional function of providing opportunity for religious worship and Hebrew education, the program is aimed to meet the growing need for dealing with such diverse problems as fostering a lasting spirit of pride in Jewish identification in youth exposed to the influences and pressures of a pluralistic society; meet the needs of its senior citizens; play an expanding role in the area of social action; and help cope with the entire gamut of personal problems which confront human beings in a rapidly changing world.

Gibbs -

Jr., of Eliot Congregational Church, who gave the invocation; State Senator Leslie B. Cutler, Mrs. Edna L. Gibbs, the Mayor's mother; Mrs. Emily Gibbs, his wife; Mrs. Peter Oliver, his daughter; Miss Sarah Oliver, his granddaughter; Dr. Peter Oliver, his son-in-law, and State Senator Beryl Cohen of Brookline, whose district includes a part of Newton.

First speaker of the evening, Gov. John A. Volpe, exclaimed at the start that he was there to honor a great mayor and a great man.

"As a member of the Board of Aldermen for eight years," the Governor continued, "and as a three-term Mayor of Newton, Don has left an indelible mark on this beautiful city. And in between his service on the Board of Aldermen and as Mayor, he left his imprint in the Massachusetts Legislature, where he served in both the House and Senate—a total of three terms.

"I do not wish to dwell upon Don's record. I am sure that you here are familiar with it, and I feel that what the record shows is more important than the record itself, however brilliant it may be.

"One thing that shows very clearly is that we all have cause for regret that Don did not go into politics much earlier in life. Perhaps it was because he was so pre-occupied with becoming as distinguished in the business world as he was later to become in politics, and everyone here can agree that he has been equally successful in both.

"Don's record shows that if he had entered public life at a younger age instead of waiting, he would have been a prime contender for statewide office. Perhaps it saved him a few ulcers, but it was a loss for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

"As sorry as we are to lose Don as a public servant, we are equally as grateful for the years of dedicated service he has given us. And a dozen testimonial dinners would not begin to repay him for even a portion of it.

"However Don's reward is something that cannot be inscribed on a plaque or engraved on a bowl. It is in the knowledge that he has made such a meaningful contribution to the progress of his great native city and his state, through his nearly two decades of faithful service.

"On behalf of the Commonwealth and on my own personal behalf, congratulations and thanks, and every best wish for future happiness."

Sen. Saltonstall declared that he had accepted the invitation to be present gladly because "I have respected Don Gibbs in many ways."

Sinclair Weeks, too, began by saying he was happy to be there. "I can only add that for the rest of your life, Don, you can look back on the great job you have done."

Wendell Bauckman had high praise for the former mayors under whom he had served, and declared that "Don Gibbs is in the big league. He has always been cognizant of the needs and welfare of the people of this city. Always, if he felt he was right, nothing on earth could deter him from his course."

Hugh Tomb expressed considerable satisfaction that the Mayor is a member of the School Committee ex-officio and had attended a great many of the board's meetings.

Monte Basbas said, "My heart is as big as my body at this time because I am grateful for the fact that I have served with a great mayor. At the same time, I'm a little bit afraid—my predecessor has set a hard pace to follow."

A 12-minute taped program depicting Don Gibb's career from boyhood through his 25 years of service to the city provided a unique touch to the testimonial.

Another unusual feature was provided by the Boston Globe. On a table at the dining room's entrance was a great pile of Globes with a special front page entirely devoted to the testimonial. According to Howard Whitmore, it had been promoted by Alderman George L. Hicks.

Finally, there was a presentation, without which no testimonial dinner is complete. The gift at this one was a jeep that was driven up to the head table "for use of Don Gibbs at his summer place in Maine."

Much of the credit for the affair's tremendous success belongs to Justin T. Horan, executive vice president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, who also was a head table guest. Horan headed a group of 75 public-spirited Newton citizens who helped arrange it. They represented civic, social, fraternal, veteran and business groups.

This coordinated committee was as follows: Mr. Horan, Kenneth W. Rogers, president of the West Newton Savings Bank, treasurer, Mrs. Irene K. Thresher and Robert P. Lurvey, ticket co-chairmen; M.D.C. Commissioner Howard Whitmore, Jr., Mayor-elect Monte G. Basbas, director of business service, John E. Gilleland of the school department; Police Capt. William F. Quinn, former alderman, Ernest G. Angevine, Joseph H. Karlin, John Perkins and Mrs. P. T. Burnap.

Other members of the testimonial committee are: Sen. Leslie B. Cutler, Charles Burgess, Rep. Theodore D. Mann, Norman Scott, Pres. Wendell R. Bauckman of the Newton Board of Aldermen, James V. Salamone, Joseph A. Grecco, Lt. Joseph Fitzsimmons, Miss Helen M. Ryan, Alan Shaw, Wilfred Chagnon, Lt. Viola, Joseph Skinner, Domenic Messina, Joseph L. LaCroix, Edward Theriault, Nunzio Pellegrini, Peter Annesse, Samuel Crocetti, Timothy O'Neil, Paul Moan, Albert Rochette, James T. Godino and Giles E. Mosher, Jr.

2 Officials In March Of Dimes Named

Coin Collector co-chairmen for Newton for the 1966 March of Dimes will be Police Captain William F. Quinn, 1321 Washington St., and Fire Lt. Joseph T. Fitzsimmons, 20 Capital St., according to the announcement by Monte G. Basbas and Harry M. Cohen, co-chairmen of March of Dimes in Newton.

Capt. Quinn's experience over the past number of campaigns will definitely be an advantage to the 1966 March of Dimes in Newton," Mr. Cohen and Mr. Basbas said.

"We are now engaged in a greater fight than we were engaged in the polio years," Mr. Quinn said. "The fight against the tragedy of Birth Defects which will afflict one out of every 16 newborns in this state this year."

"The generosity of the people of Newton is apparent by the Special Birth defects Treatment Center at Boston City Hospital; for without their aid and that of others across the state, this center would not be possible," Mr. Quinn said.

"At the March of Dimes' Center, teams of doctors, nurses, scientists, and other professionals are waging a war to stem the tide of this tragedy," Mr. Cohen and Mr. Basbas said. "We are glad to welcome Mr. Quinn to our ranks in this fight."

"Lieut. Fitzsimmons' experience over the past number of campaigns will definitely be an advantage to the 1966 March of Dimes in Newton," Mr. Cohen and Mr. Basbas said.

Lieut and Mrs. Fitzsimmons and their two children have been residents of Newton for the past 25 years. Lt. Fitzsimmons is a graduate of St. Charles High School in Waltham. He is commander-elect, Newton Post #48, American Legion; past president, Newton Firemen's Welfare Association; secretary, Newton Firemen's Relief Assoc., and past president, Our Lady's Holy Name Society.

Newton-Wellesley Hospital Sees Parking Ills Solution

In a letter to all its patients, Newton Wellesley Hospital has explained its recent efforts to solve the institution's parking problem, and expressed the hope that a solution is in sight.

The letter, signed by William S. Brines, director, is as follows:

"Beginning Oct 1, your hospital set out to correct an annoying and baffling problem. On that date, management of hospital parking areas was placed in the hands of a professional parking agency.

"In recent years, the parking pressures have grown acute here. Hundreds of people arrive daily to visit you and the over 200 patients in the hospital. Adequate parking is necessary for 800 full and part-time employees. More than 100 doctors are in and out daily. Add a sizeable corps of volunteers, tradesmen, medical building patients, students and health personnel attending meetings and you begin to sense the enormous traffic burden.

"The hospital has limited nearby space for parking. New lots can be built, but only at a distance. They are expensive to construct. Unfortunately, people seem reluctant any more to walk farther than a few steps, so one questions whether new lots far removed are an answer.

"Consultants were hired to help find solutions. They are surveying matters as they stand now, and seeking to promote maximum and effective use of the limited parking space we possess. Moreover, they are helping us plan for the future.

"A new addition to the hospital is contemplated. Its location doubtlessly will wipe out some existing parking space, yet it will promote substantially heavier demands for parking space. New arrangements must be developed if the motoring public is to be accommodated conveniently.

"As a first step in a long-range program, our consultants recently initiated a brief period of paid parking in the 75 spaces fronting the hospital. The step was essential to determine public reaction and to see if the presence of attendants would lead to better supervision and utilization of the lot. A fee could help cover the costs of the parking attendant program; the expense could be borne by the people who benefit, rather than met by patients' charges.

"The experience of the first week had many positive results. For one thing, the consultants obtained the reaction of people, pro and con, to paid parking. For another, the front lots were cleared of people who should not park there. For a third, patients and visitors found space available, even during peak hours, for the first time in a long time. And finally, competent expert supervision was demonstrated essential if adequate and safe adjacent parking is to be provided to the general satisfaction of all.

"The study will go on for some time, until more facts are known—such as the reasons people use the area, how long they stay, how many come here, how many merely pick up or discharge passengers or goods, and how many come for business reasons.

"When the answers are in, some lasting solutions can be developed. We do not know what they will be. We will know more as information becomes available. Our one objective is to serve our patients and townspeople as best we can. As we learn more about how that can be done, we shall keep you informed."

Aid Helps Deaf To Speak

The Vocalizer, a new hearing device to improve the voice of profoundly deaf children and adults who previously were unable to hear and recognize "auditory clues," thus preventing them from controlling their voices, was announced recently by E. M. Kinney, president of Zenith Hearing Aid Sales Corporation.

"Scientists at leading international schools for the deaf have for years been seeking to perfect a low frequency hearing aid to meet these needs," Kinney said. "Zenith's new Vocalizer enables a profoundly deaf person to utilize just measurable hearing for useful hearing."

Changes in voice quality and rhythm patterns by persons using the Vocalizer have resulted in improvements in speech, Kinney said. These changes were confirmed through the analysis of "visual speech" recorded by special laboratory equipment.

Kinney stated new knowledge in speech and hearing research shows a child can learn to talk even if he hears only vowel sounds. In Zenith's pilot program at a school for the deaf, children wearing the Vocalizer experienced improved speech rhythm.

"Profoundly deaf children using conventional hearing aids have been unable to monitor their own voices," Kinney said. "The new Zenith Vocalizer now enables the user to experience an acoustical playback of his own voice as well as the voices of the others, again contributing to more normal voice patterns."

Facts, Figures About Medicare

Q. I am over 65, but never worked under social security. Am I eligible for Medicare?

A. Probably. Nearly all people 65 or older are eligible for Medicare. There is no work requirement. Get in touch with your nearest social security office for information about enrolling in the program.

Q. I am 65 and undecided about the supplementary medicare insurance program. If I do not enroll by March 31, 1966, will I have another chance later

A. Yes. If you fail to enroll by March 31, 1966, you will have another chance to sign up during the next general enrollment period — October 1, 1967 — December 31, 1967. However, if you wait until then, you will have to pay a higher premium and your protection will not begin until 6 to 9 months after you enroll. If you fail to enroll during the October to December 1967 period, you will not be able to obtain supplementary medical insurance coverage at any other time in the future.

Q. Can I use any doctor I want under the supplementary medical insurance program, or am I restricted to doctors selected by the Government?

A. There are no restrictions in your choice of doctors under the program. You may use your present doctor or any other qualified physician.

Q. Does the medical insurance program pay for the cost of drugs prescribed by my doctor?

A. No. Under the program, drugs are covered only when they are administered by your doctor as part of his services in your home, his office, or elsewhere. If your doctor prescribes drugs, which you yourself purchase, their cost is not covered.

Q. If I have a bill of $500 a year for doctors' visits and covered treatments, how much will I have to pay under the supplementary medical plan?

A. It would cost you $140. The program would pay $360. This is how it is figured: you pay the first $50 in each calendar year for doctors' and other covered services. Your medical insurance then pays 80 per cent of the charges for additional covered services.

Q. I am over 65 and getting social security benefits. I hear that $3 a month will be deducted from my benefits for Medicare whether I like it or not. Is this true?

A. No. Enrollment in the supplementary medical insurance program is voluntary. Three dollars a month will not be deducted from your checks for this program unless you sign up for the voluntary program. You automatically qualify for hospital insurance protection since you are already a social security beneficiary and will not need to go to your social security office. You can use the enrollment card you received in the mail to sign up for medical insurance.

Amateurs May Exhibit at Flower Show

A large competitive exhibit of plant specimens grown by amateur horticulturists will be a feature of 1966 New England Spring Flower Show sponsored by Massachusetts Horticultural Society Mar. 12 through 20 at Wonderland Park, Revere, Mass.

Categories in which entries are now being received include forced bulbs, hanging baskets, flowering plants, window sill collections, orchids, topiary specimens, cacti, and succulents. A special bonsai exhibit will also be included, but will not be judged this year.

Displays will be changed several times during the Show to insure freshness and add variety, according to Mrs. Richard M. Burnes of Framingham, chairman of the amateur section.

All materials must be grown by the exhibitor, and have been in his possession since November 1, unless otherwise stated. Any amateur gardener who does not grow or sell plants for a profit is elibible to exhibit. Entries, for which there is no fee, must be made in writing by February 21 to the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, 300 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, Mass., 02115.

Seeks Cadets

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The United States Coast Guard Academy, the only U.S. military academy which appoints its cadets solely on the basis of competitive examination, is seeking applicants for the class convening July 12, 1966.

Deadline for the applications is December 4, 1965.

The application deadline coincides with the December College Entrance Examination Board Tests which will be the basis for the competition.

There are no congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

Applicants must be unmarried high school seniors or graduates who have reached their 17th but not their 22nd birthday by July 1, 1966. They must have earned 15 units by June 30, 1966, including: three in English, two in algebra and one in plane geometry.

They must be in excellent physical condition, between 64 and 78 inches in height with proportionate weight, and must have at least 20/30 vision in each eye, correctible to 20/20.

The four-year course at the Academy leads to a bachelor of science degree and a commission as ensign in the regular Coast Guard.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from high school guidance counselors or by writing to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., 06230.

Let your light shine before men.—(Matt. 5:16)

Open up our minds and hearts to let the inner light of Christ shine through us. This light dispels the darkness of doubt and discouragement. Big Nonantum Yule Parade For Children This Sunday

Marching Bands, Hobos, Clowns and Santa Claus himself are in store for the young in spirit along Nonantum Streets this Sunday when the signal to start the annual Nonantum Children's Christmas Party Parade is given by Marshall Roger Morocco at 1:30 p.m. from Our Ladys School parking lot on Adams Street. Santa Claus is due to arrive by helicopter at 1:15 p.m.

The parade is a prelude to the 66th Annual Nonantum Children's Christmas Party originated by former Newton Mayor Edwin O. Childs. This year the party will be held at Our Ladys Parish Hall on Sunday, December 19, and will be sponsored by the Umberto Primo Lodge, Sons of Italy, Ambrose Cedrone, Venerable; Post No. 50 Italian American Veterans, Nuzio Pellegrini, Command; Post No. 440 American Legion, Joe LaCroix, Commander; The Newton Boys Club, Sam Crtocetti, Executive Director and the French American Veterans Post 24.

Chairman for the party is Anthony "Fat" Pellegrini who reports that over 1200 Nonantum children were entertained at last year's party. Party Treasurer is Dom Bianchi who reports that he will have a group of Hobos and Clowns in Sunday's parade who will solicite donations from the crowd to help defray party expenses.

Mayor Elect Monte G. Basbas is expected among the marchers on Sunday as are several other city officials. The music will be provided by St. Mary's Annunciator's, Cambridge; the Valiant Juniors, Hyde Park; and St. Anthony's Band of Brighton and the Hobo Band, Tony Marini Band leader. Among the groups marching will be the National Lancers led by Dino DiCarlo, the Newton Police Drill Team, the Newton Veterans Honor Guard. Sam Crocetti and Pat Proia will lead a group of marchers from the Newton Boys Club. Boys from the Pop Warner League will step out lead by Fred Dalicandro and Nick Pasquarosa. There will be floats donated by Vic Colantino, Robert Battista and Morocco Fuel, and cars donated by Herb Connolly and Herb Abramson. Also in the line will be floats driven by William Rollins and Pappy Terenzio and an old fashion Fire Engine by "Chief" Chick Lupo. Bob Delaney will lead a group of ten antique cars in the parade. Santa Claus and his sleigh will ride on a trailer donated by the Wellesley Trucking Company.

The parade will start on Adams Street at Our Ladys Parking lot at 1:30 Sunday. It will pass along Middle, Chapel, Green, Cook, Dalby, Pearl, Faxon, Watertown, Melville, Linwood, California, Hawthorne, Nevada, Clinton and Lincoln Streets and Kennedy Circle. It will finish at the Colletti-Magni Park on Watertown Street where a Mail Box from the Boys Club will be placed for the children of the area to post their letters to Santa. There will be refreshments for the paraders at the Town Line Restuarant after the parade.

Wants To Share His Travel Talk Hobby

John W. Tapper of 14 Aberdeen St., Newton Highlands, wants to share his hobby with members of church congregations in Newton. The hobby: an illustrated lecture describing his trip to Scandinavia.

Thus far, he has entertained two groups at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and will make a repeat appearance next February.

Community Club Next Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of The Newton Community Club will be held at Grace Episcopal Church Parish House Thursday Dec. 9.

The hostesses at the coffee hour from one to two o'clock are Mrs. John Boole and Mrs. Sterling Loveland.

An excellent program, presented by The Boston Male Quartet, includes opera, musical comedy, and special Christmas selections.

The ladies of Stone Institute and The Cheerful Club will be guests at this meeting.

Local Mental Health Center Head On Panel

Dr. William E. Stone, director of the Newton Mental Health Center, will serve as a panel member in a discussion to be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, at 8 o'clock, in the Massachusetts Mental Health Center Auditorium, 74 Fenwood Rd., Boston.

The public will be admitted without charge to the discussion, whose topic is "The Community Mental Health Center — Directions and Dimensions."

Commenting on the affair, Mrs. Stephen Zaslow of the Massachusetts Mental Health Center Auxiliary calls the community mental health center "one of the most exciting advances in psychiatry in this country."

Mrs. Zaslow says the discussion will be geared to the general public, and adds that "A public forum such as this is one of the few ways in which this new development will ever reach those for whom it is intended, and those who wish to keep abreast with community affairs."

The program is sponsored by the MMHC Auxiliary. Mrs. Richard Shader of Newton heads the program committee, whose members include Mrs. Joseph Bloom and Mrs. Zaslow, both of Newton.

Meter Maids Will Pay Off Taxpayers Say

Newton Taxpayers Association, Inc., has taken a second look at the meter maid idea the group sponsored, and found reason to exult.

A recent issue of "Newton Taxpayers Topics" has the following statement:

"When we sponsored the meter maid idea the purpose was to strengthen parking enforcement and to release policemen to more definitive police work.

"It appears now, judging from the experience in other cities, that Newton can expect a rather substantial increase in parking meter revenue as a bonus—enough to pay for much, if not all, of the new meter service."

Meter Maids on the city's streets should be a reality by early next year, the statement continues, and "once again enforcement pays off."

Neighboring GOP Clubs To Join Newton Lincoln Event

Representatives of Republican organizations in Needham, Dedham, and Weston joined with members of the Newton Republican organizations at a meeting last week to formulate plans for the Annual Lincoln Day Dinner to be held in February.

With details to be released at an early date, word to date is that the 1966 event will be the most ambitious undertaken by Republicans of the area and that anticipated attendance will break all records.

With William R. Haney, President of the Newton Republican Club presiding, the meeting made decisions that await confirmation by guest speakers and guests before public announcement. Haney did state that the event would be unusual in its character and was sure to stir a good deal of interest in the several communities represented.

Among those at the meeting were: Gilbert Cox, Needham Republican Town Committee; Mrs. John Hill, President, Needham Women's Republican Club; Mrs. Ann Harper, Vice President of the Club; Paul Maggione, Dedham Republican Town Committee.

Also participating in the session were Representative Edward Dickson, a resident of Weston, and a member of the Executive Committee of the Newton Republican Club; Representative Theodore D. Mann, a member of the Club's Executive Committee; Mrs. Robert Amesbury, Wellesley, Republican State Committeewoman; Mrs. William Lane Bruce, Republican State Committeewoman.

Those of the Newton Republican groups who attended are: Melvin B. Clayton, President, Newton Young Republicans; Mrs. Spencer F. Deming; Thomas Gerlack, William R. Haney, President, Newton Republican Club; Mrs. William R. Haney; Mrs. Albert M. Kreider; David A. Lurensky; Alan W. Licarie, Treasurer of the Newton Republican Club; William A. Lincoln, who has been designated as Dinner Committee Chairman; Mrs. Rene J. Marcou, Carleton P. Merrill; Mrs. Dennis Myers, Jason Sacks, Henry J. Wilson.

Six Portable Classrooms For Day School In '66

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs declared last night that six portable classroom units should be in use at the Day Junior High School by February or March.

The Mayor asserted that the city purchasing department will take immediate steps to seek bids for the leasing of the portable classrooms and that it will take about two months to set them up.

He explained that it had been decided it would be more feasible to lease the portable classrooms than to purchase them.

Mayor Gibbs made his statement after the Board of Aldermen by a unanimous vote Monday night appropriated $68,000 from the city's surplus fund to lease the classrooms for a three-year period and cover other incidental expenses.

Alderman Melvin J. Dangel, chairman of the Aldermanic committee on public buildings, told his fellow board members he had visited the Day Junior High School and that the portable classroom units are needed to relieve crowded conditions in the school.

The portable classrooms would accomodate about 150 pupils.

Dangel expressed the hope that a new Day Junior High, with adequate facilities to meet the student load, would be in use by the end of the three-year period for which

DR. VINCENT DE BAUN

Dr. De Baun New Head Of College Here

Dr. Vincent C. De Baun has been named president of Lasell Junior College in Auburndale according to the announcement of Wilder N. Smith, chairman of the Lasell board of trustees. The appointment becomes effective next July 1st.

Dr. De Baun is now vice president of Wells College, Aurora, N.Y., and secretary of the Wells Board of Trustees. In moving to Auburndale, he will become Lasell's ninth chief executive since the institution was founded in 1851 as the nation's first junior college.

"I am very pleased that Dr. De Baun has accepted the presidency of Lasell," Chairman Smith declared. "With his educational background, I believe he will be able to keep Lasell among the leaders in junior college education."

Dr. De Baun was born of American parents in Buenos Aires, Argentina. He came to the United States while a small boy, grew up in Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey, and attended schools in the New York metropolitan area.

Two Newton Solons Hit For Tax Votes

Representatives Joseph D. Bradley and Paul F. Malloy were sharply criticized yesterday by Bertram A. Druker, president of Newton Taxpayers' Association, for voting against Governor Volpe's $200 million tax program and in favor of an "inadequate" $116 million House Ways and Means Committee bill.

Druker characterized the Ways and Means measure as a "run-out, sell-out" bill. He urged Newton taxpayers and educators to inform Reps. Bradley and Malloy that their votes for the bill "were votes against the Newton home-owner and his children's education."

The new revenue raised by the House Ways and Means Committee bill would only be sufficient to balance the State budget and to pay off back debts the State owes to the cities and towns but would furnish no money to lower real estate tax rates or raise educational standards, Druker asserted.

Reps. Bradley and Malloy joined other House members in passing the House Ways and Means bill which Governor Volpe and others have criticized as "inadequate and irresponsible," Druker pointed out. Bradley and Malloy have consistently opposed Volpe's tax plan.

Reps. Irving Fishman, Theodore D. Mann and Edward M. Dickson supported Volpe's tax measure and opposed the Ways and Means bill.

O'Donnell Raps Convention Plans Fight in '66 Primary

Former Presidential Aide Kenneth P. O'Donnell probably will help either Senate President Maurice A. Donahue or ex-Attorney General Edward J. McCormack rather than himself if he goes through with his present plan of carrying his fight for the Democratic nomination for Governor into next September's primary.

O'Donnell obviously has abandoned any hope of gaining the endorsement of next June's Democratic State Convention.

If he thought he had any chance whatever of winning the support of a majority of the delegates to the conclave, he hardly would have denounced the pre-primary convention system as "a tool of the Republican party" which the GOP forced onto the Democrats.

Vandals, Thieves Busy; Home Of Judge Entered

Vandals, burglars and automobile thieves were busy in Newton last weekend.

Robbers ransacked the home of Brighton District Court Judge Charles J. Artesani at 175 Commonwealth Ave., Chestnut Hill, and left by the rear door with two watches and $50 in cash.

Burglars, who searched through the drawers and kitchen cabinets in the home of Isadore Baker at 11 Seton Hill Rd., Auburndale, made an unusual choice of what to steal. They took a bottle of whisky and two packages of licorice.

Vandals caused some wanton destruction in Newton.

White paint was sprayed on an automobile owned by Richard C. Griffin of 8 Hartford St., Newton Highlands, while the vehicle was parked in the yard at his home.

Bulbs were taken from outside electrical fixtures at the home of Robert Katz, 100 Andrew St., Newton Highlands, and the outside water tap was turned on.

Strong-armed vandals carried away three slabs of granite from the retaining wall at Al's Restaurant, 138 Needham St., Newton Highlands. The slabs were four feet long, eight inches wide and two inches deep.

Two boys took a $25 wreath from the door of the Cushing House at the Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

Eleven pieces of sterling silver valued at $200 were taken from the home of Mrs. Rose M. Applebaum, 14 Chamberlain Rd., Newton.

Two dozen raincoats worth $28 apiece were stolen from the automobile of Robert MacLaughlin, 28 Kingswood Rd., Auburndale, while the car was parked in his yard.

Robbers took $85 in cash from the home of Ada Jones at 18 Murray Ter., West Newton.

A building at Newton High School was entered, and glass in a classroom door was broken. However, nothing was taken.

Two snow tires were stolen from the garage at the home of T. Shapiro, 23 Lombard St., Newton.

The Rev. Donald A. Thompson, who, last August, was shot down from behind in Mississippi, preached last Sunday morning, December 5th, from the pulpit of the First Unitarian Church in Newton.

Rev. Thompson took for his theme, "Free Men and Free Inquiry Are Inseparable."

He is a Harvard Divinity School graduate and for the past two years has been minister of the First Unitarian Church of Jackson, Miss.

He also has been Secretary of the Mississippi Council of Human relations. He was chairman of the organizing committee of the inter-racial Medgar Evers Community Center, and a member of many inter-racial and clergymen's groups.

Inevitably, he became a marked man and his life was threatened. As he was entering his car in a parking lot, he was shot. After being on the danger list for several weeks, he recovered with no permanent damage.

His friends finally prevailed upon him to leave Mississippi and he is at present on special assignment for the Unitarian-Universalist Association in the Greater-Boston area.

Burglaries, Vandalisms Set Up Police Overtime

Action at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen included approval of appropriations totaling $12,400 requested by Police Chief Philip Purcell.

Of that amount, $10,000 was to cover the cost of overtime paid to officers at work on the numerous burglaries that have been prevalent, and the cost of efforts to reduce school vandalism.

The purchase of fuel oil, flares, batteries and photographic supplies accounted for $900, and $1500 was for purchase of gasoline and automotive repairs and parts.

Approved also was Chief Purcell's recommendation that the chain link fence supporting shrubbery on the southwest corner of Cherry and Webster Sts. in West Newton be cut down to a height of not more than 30 inches so as to provide greater visibility at that accident-prone intersection.

The Kennedy Realty Trust Company's petition for change of zone from Private Residence District to Business A District land at 40-42 Austing St., Newtonville, was denied. The lots involved were included in those the Board previously Monday night, had voted to rezone to Business AA.

Theological School Gets Favorable Petition Vote

Members of the Board of Aldermen voted unanimously Monday night to approve the petition of the New Church Theological School for the right to convert the former mansion at 48 Sargent St., Newton, into a school with classrooms and dormitories for the training of Swedenborgian ministers.

The petition had been under study since a meeting held three weeks ago by the committee on Claims and Rules. Monday night, Harry H. Ham Jr., chairman, reported that the school authorities had agreed to the conditions that had been set.

They included one provision under which the petitioner would have to dismantle the housekeeping facilities in the dormitory rooms should the school ever decide to abandon the site. The intention here was to guard against any possible reconversion of the residence to an apartment house, a possibility to which neighboring property owners voiced strong objection at the time of the public hearing on the matter.

Other restrictions imposed were that no more than one dormitory unit could be occupied by faculty members, that there should be only 16 student occupants, and that there would be no dormitory rooms on the third floor.

Stores Dressed In Gay Christmas Garb

All the city's retail areas have taken on their annual festive appearance to mark the Christmas season.

The lights are lit and the decorations are all in place, thanks to the efforts of committees the merchants in each area have appointed.

Throughout the city there is no absence of evidence that the glad Yuletide is upon us, and in each instance the heads and members of the committees have earned the gratitude of all who walk or drive abroad amid the soft lights and greenery.

The Chamber of Commerce no longer assumes responsibility, and hasn't for several years. However, Justin T. Horan, the Chamber's executive vice president, has by no means lost touch with the annual dressing up the city gets at this time of year. He describes the results as follows:

Newton Corner's decorations are all up with the exception of a huge tree that will be set up in the square next Wednesday, the 14th. This is the work of a committee headed by Basil E. Clair, partner in G. R. Ware's Jewelers, Inc.

The Newtonville retail area has its decorations in place. Heading the committee in charge is Charles Fitzgerald of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company's Newtonville branch, and all the merchants there are happy over what has been accomplished.

The square at Newton Centre has taken on the appearance which customarily welcomes the glad season, and here the committee head is John Russo, Russo's Hair Stylist proprietor.

The Christmas atmosphere in West Newton has been provided not by a group, but by individuals, such as the banks and the establishments of Mayflower Furniture and Barron's Department Store.

All the stores in the Chestnut Hill Shopping Centre banded together, and the committee leader is William McNamara of Filene's. Everything there is in place and the word "elaborate" describes it.

In Newton Highlands, Frank J. Granara, proprietor of Frank's Barber Shop on Lincoln street, is the committee head, and he and his members have done an excellent and tasteful job.

Independent efforts are behind the decorations that mark the spirit of festivity in other retail districts of the city, including Auburndale and Waban.

WILLIAM MOKRAY

Bill Mokray To Speak At Church Here

The Men's Fellowship of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church are planning a dinner meeting in the parish house at 6:30 P.M. Tuesday, December 14th. This is to be a meeting of special interest to fathers and sons and nephews and neighbors, in fact any boy from six to sixty who is sports minded.

The speaker for the evening is to be William "Bill" Mokray, promotion director for the Boston Celtics. He will have many interesting things to tell about the Celtics and will also show a basketball movie as well as a color silent film, prepared and edited by him, at the time of Bob Cousy's retirement.

Mr. Mokray is well qualified as a speaker as this is his 49th year in basketball and he is generally regarded as the No. 1 authority on the history of basketball.

Over the years he has scouted and secured for the Celtics such players as Sam Jones, Gene Conley, Jim Loscutoff, Dan Swartz and Red Morrison. He has written many books and publications and has been with the Celtics since their founding in 1946.

Mr. Mokray graduated from the University of Rhode Island in 1929, and remained there for 13 years as campus sports publicity director.

Political Highlights

In view of that allegation, it seems somewhat strange that O'Donnell intends to contest for the convention endorsement instead of bypassing the conclave.

There is some basis for O'Donnell's assertion that the pre-primary convention system was fathered by the Republicans and forced onto reluctant Democrats.

Pre-primary conventions were held by both parties back in 1934 and 1936 but then were abandoned because of scandalous things which happened at the Democratic conclaves.

In 1952, when Republican fortunes in this State were at an extremely low ebb, GOP leaders launched a move to revive the convention system of endorsing candidates. A bill, backed solidly by Republicans and a scattering of Democrats, was passed by the two branches of the Legislature.

But the late Governor Paul A. Dever, who remembered vividly some of the happenings at the '34 and '36 conventions, vetoed the measure when it reached his desk. Supporters of the bill were unable to muster the necessary strength to pass it over Dever's veto.

Despite the rejection of the bill, the Republicans that year held an unofficial convention in Worcester, endorsed a slate of candidates headed by Christian A. Herter, the choice for Governor, and by the enforcement of rigid party discipline made the endorsements stick in the primary.

With Herter serving as Governor and the Republicans in control of both branches of the Legislature, the GOP in 1953 pushed through a bill reviving the convention system and giving the conclaves official and legal status.

The first Democratic State Convention held under that law in 1954 was an uproarious, brawly affair, with fist fights on the convention floor as dawn broke on a Sunday morning.

In 1956 Foster Furcolo, then seeking the Democratic nomination for Governor, appeared before the Democratic State Committee and appealed to its members not to hold a State Convention that year.

While there was considerable support for Furcolo's stand, legal experts declared that the law provided that the Democratic Presidential elections were to be chosen by the delegates at the Democratic State Convention.

They said that if there were no convention, there would be no Democratic Presidential Electors to represent Massachusetts in the event the Democratic candidate for President carried the State. That provision in the law had gone unnoticed until then.

So a Democratic State Convention was held. Ironically, Furcolo, who had opposed staging a convention, won its endorsement over Executive Councillor Patrick J. McDonough and went on to become Governor.

That was the convention at which Furcolo, after winning the endorsement for Governor, was sitting in his hotel room trying to persuade a prominent Democrat to accept the nomination for Lieutenant Governor while the delegates were in the process of nominating Robert F. Murphy for that office.

The late Persident John F. Kennedy also was no great admirer of the convention method of picking State tickets. At JFK's behest, former Democratic State Committee Chairman John M. (Pat) Lynch, now collector of port, filed several bills to abolish State conventions. All his measures landed in the waste basket.

There is no doubt that the restoration of the convention system weakened the power of the voters to choose the nominees of their party for high State office.

At least one candidate endorsed by a Democratic State Convention has been rejected by the Democratic voters in each of the primaries held since 1954 when the pre-primary convention system went back into operation.

But only one Democratic candidate who lost at a convention and then won in a primary has gone on to achieve election. All the others were defeated in the final election. The lone exception was former State Treasurer John F. Kennedy of Canton who turned the trick three times.

The reason all efforts to wipe out the convention system have been unsuccessful is that a sizeable number of Democrats realize that their only hope of achieving high State office would be by getting catapulted into prominence through winning a convention endorsement.

Strangely enough, O'Donnell probably falls in that category. However little chance he would have at a convention, he would have even less in a primary since he is not well known to the rank and file of Democratic voters.

O'Donnell hopes to get his own campaign off the ground next month when a big dinner will be held for him at which U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield will be the principal speaker.

However, it is highly improbable that Mansfield will involve himself in anyway in the fight for the Democratic nomination for Governor in Massachusetts. Although his presence will add luster to O'Donnell's dinner, that is all it is likely to do.

O'Donnell is using the fact that former Attorney General McCormack has declared he will enter the primary, whether he gets the convention nod or not, as his reason for taking the same stand.

Kenny O'Donnell obviously has as much right as McCormack or anyone else to carry his fight to the Democratic voters in the primary.

The big difference between McCormack and O'Donnell is that McCormack would be strong in a primary and O'Donnell wouldn't. O'Donnell is far better known to the politicians than to the people.

If Donahue emerges as the victor from the Democratic State Convention, he would face a primary fight with McCormack and O'Donnell.

His chances probably would be better in a three-man scramble than in a head-to-head battle with McCormack.

If McCormack gains the convention endorsement, he might welcome a primary contest with O'Donnell. (Donahue has announced that he will abide by the convention decision and that he will not enter the primary if he loses at the convention.)

The theory that a primary race weakens a candidate for his final election battle has been proved wrong more often than right.

A number of candidates have achieved publicity and prominence in primary campaigns which helped them to win the final election.

Foster Furcolo in 1956 and Endicott Peabody in 1962 probably would not have been elected Governor those years except for the momentum their campaigns received during succesful primary contests.

Secretary of State Kevin H. White is making a soft sell campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor while maintaining a firm anchor on the office he presently holds.

Like Senate President Donahue, White will abide by the decision of the Democratic State Convention.

If he fails to get the convention endorsement for the Governorship, which is likely, White appears to be third in the competition for the support of convention delegates. He is considered to be behind Donahue and McCormack but ahead of O'Donnell.

Most political experts believe that White has not yet reached the stage where he can match strength with opponents of the stature of McCormack and Donahue.

They also feel that White injured himself with some Democratic leaders when he backed Francis X. Bellotti at the convention and in the primary last dicott Peabody, then a sitting Governer.

Secretary White, incidentally, has won increased respect by his stand for fiscal responsibility on the part of the Democratic party. He has urged the enactment of a tax program which would provide sufficient new revenue to lower real estate tax rates and pay for better education and has made it plain that he considers Democratic prospects for next year will be injured if such a tax plan is not approved.

LETTERS

Editor of The Graphic:

A letter in the Graphic of December 2 questioned the purposes of the citizens of Newton who supported the March on Washington for peace in Viet Nam of November 27. As one of those citizens my opposition to the war is based on the following grounds:

From a military point of view, it is against the interests of the United States, a great sea and air power, to allow itself to be bogged down in a long infantry war, with over-extended lines of communication, committing hundreds of thousands of troops in a way which diverts American power.

From a diplomatic point of view, the Viet Nam war is against the interests of the United States because it has brought the Soviet Union and China closer together. The war has also divided the Western Alliance which has been the cornerstone of our foreign policy.

From the point of view of spreading democracy, the war destroys our reputation since the Governments which the United States has helped to maintain in South Viet Nam since 1954 have been completely authoritarian, without popular support and largely indifferent to the welfare of the local population.

From the point of view of controlling the danger of nuclear war, the situation has at least temporarily ended productive series of negotiations with the Soviet Union undertaken by President Kennedy which resulted in the 1963 Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, the hot line between Washington and Moscow and the agreement not to orbit atomic weapons. The Viet Nam crisis has made it impossible to reach agreement on stopping the spread of nuclear weapons to other nations.

From the point of view of building international institutions such as the United Nations to keep the peace, the United States has dealt an almost fatal blow by largely ignoring the charter of the United Nations and the Secretary-General, U Thant, in the conduct of the Viet Nam war.

From the point of view of the United States Government's reputation for honesty, our rejection of offers to negotiate by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong in 1964 and 1965 while denying that we ever received them, strikes at the credibility of anything our government says or proposes.

From the point of view of maintaining the magnificent performance of our domestic economy, a long war in Asia must result in the imposition of price and wage controls, plus an excess profits tax accompanied by an end to tax cuts. This would probably limit the rapid expansion of the United States economy and decrease the funds available for the war on poverty.

There are ways out of this mess in Southeast Asia which will allow us to withdraw eventually and at the same time guarantee the sovereignty and neutrality of the countries in the area. The participants in the March on Washington presented such proposals to the Government at the White House and to the citizens of Newton in the form of an ad in the Graphic. Let us hope that they will be heeded.

Sincerely
JEROME GROSSMAN

Nice To Make Rules

Editor of The Graphic:

As an average, easy-going Newton housewife, I feel I can truly say . . . "It's nice to make the rules . . ."

Last Wednesday morning I moved our children's broken-down wooden fort to the edge of the street, by myself. And without undue effort. I called City Stables, and they promised to come and remove it. They thanked me.

Then they came. Three men and a truck with an old gas stove in solitary splendor upon the back. But they could not take my pieces of wood (four sections, each 4 foot by six foot). As their cheerful 200-lb. foreman admitted, he and his fellows were not strong enough. He told me I would "have to chop it up and put it into neat bundles no more than 2 foot by 3 foot, and tied securely," before they could consider such heavy work.

So I moved it back to the shed. By myself, of course! I guess I might chop it up, too . . . but then we'll burn it!

Ah! But it must be nice to make the rules!

ANDY MARSHALL,
Typical Newton Housewife.

The first, a play, "The Royal Gambit," will be presented by the college's Workshop Players on the evenings of Thursday and Frday, December 9 and 10. Curtain time at Winslow Hall is 8 p.m. James Haney, Newton Highlands, dramatics instructor at Lasell, is directing the performance as well as taking part in it. There is no charge for admission.

Waban Square Church Offers Cantata Music

The choir of the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, at Waban Square, Waban, will present the cantata, "Uns Ist ein Kind Geboren" of Johann Sebastian Bach, at Morning Prayer, 10:30 A.M. Sunday, 12 December.

This cantata is thought to have been composed by Bach some time between 1710 and 1720. Taken from Isaiah 9:6, "For unto us a child is born . . .", the scope of the work is brief. Nonetheless, overture, concerted style chorus, recitative, aria and chorale, all present themselves in the musical setting.

Soloists will include Dorothy Wever, contralto; Walter Lee, tenor; and William Alston, baritone. Charles M. Sego is organist-director.

Lee Loumos Says:

With the prevalance of the supermarket and self-service type of stores, I am concerned that retailing is degenerating into just swapping things for people's money. Particularly in the types of items I sell, the only function of many salespeople seems to be to hound the customer and pressure him into making a purchase.

My concept is that my business is a semi-professional calling consisting of sound advice based on detailed technical knowledge of our products and service both before and after the sale. Rather than expend my substance on elaborate advertising and high pressure salesmen, I prefer to afford the buyer the proper environment, demonstration and information for an unhurried appraisal of his prospective purchase and, in the final analysis, let the instrument literally sell itself.

Help With VA Form Available At City Hall

Carleton P. Merrill, director, announces that assistance in completing the annual income questionnaire form the Veterans Administration may be obtained at the Veterans Services Department in City Hall.

He points out that due to the questionnaire's format change, veterans, their dependents and parents may experience some difficulty, and for that reason his department will be pleased to supply help.

The questionnaire was mailed by the Veterans Administration with the November benefits payments in special envelopes of the Treasury Department. Under provisions of the new form it is important to report the total income received during 1965 and the income expected during the entire year of 1966. Also under the new provision, the Veterans Administration will deduct any income which may be excluded.

Mr. Merrill wishes to remind those who have received the form that the completed questionnaire must be returned to the Veterans Administration by January 31, 1966, and that failure to do so could mean termination of future payments as well as the paying back of those benefits received during 1965.

The Veterans Services offices are open at City Hall from 8:30 to 5:00, Monday to Friday.

For its performances this year the Boston Ballet moves to the Back Bay Theater, one of the largest theaters in Boston, and this will provide an excellent opportunity for more and more people to see ballet, Miss Williams emphasized, many for the first time.

The Boston Ballet's Second Season will officially begin on Monday, January 17, to be followed by two other dance concerts on Feb. 7 and March 27. As a prelude to the season, the Company will present The Nutcracker, with guest artist Maria Tallchief, on Sunday, Dec. 19, at the Back Bay Theater. Arthur Fiedler will conduct.

Newton Meets Brookline On Ice Saturday

Newton High School's hockey team, after two preliminary games with Exeter and Andover Academies, will open its GBI League competition when it plays Brookline High at the Boston Arena at 12.30 Saturday afternoon.

The Tigers have an inexperienced but promising hockey squad which appears to be developing well under the tutelage of Coach Sarge Kinlin.

Whether they will come fast enough to make a real bid for the GBI championship is something only time will tell.

Mike Dezotell, Kim Britt and Gary DiRusso all shape up as solid hockey players who should make the Tigers an aggregation to be reckoned with in the race for top honors in the GBI League.

Suction -

Mrs. Marian R. Duby of 25 Royce Rd., Newton Centre, and Mrs. Marie Dutton of Winona St., Auburndale, were riding in the compact.

Mrs. Duby, who was driving, told police that she observed a car "tail-gating" immediately behind her compact.

She said that she pulled into another lane and that as she did the automobile, which had been behind her, passed her.

Mrs. Duby asserted that she felt the suction from the passing car which caused her compact to sway out of control. The compact swayed left and right and then overturned.

Police rushed to the scene and assisted the two women who declined to be taken to a hospital.

Dr. Robert L'H. Miller and Dr. Ernest Cassara of Tufts University led workshops on methods of conducting a business meeting and on the way Unitarians and Universalists look at their denomination.

Other workshop topics included in part; drama and dance in the church, the use of photography, junior choir material, finances, international affairs, publications, teenagers, and social action.

The Bay District Women's Association presented Dr. John Coniaris of the Worcester State Hospital on the subject, "Are Mothers Passe?" Dr. Zella Luria of Tufts University and Dr. Emily Wick were on the panel.

Delegates from 68 churches of the Bay District assembled at 12:30 for registration and then attended two Workshop periods, with a coffee break intervening. Marine Reserve Wants 30,000 Toys For Tots

Many individuals and organizations in this area have joined forces with the Marine Corps Reserve in their Toys for Tots program.

However, if the goal of 30,000 toys is to be attained this year, it will have to be a major effort on the part of the Marines and generous support from the civilian population of the Commonwealth.

Last Thursday night all persons who donated a new or usable toy to the program were admitted free to Christmas Wonderland at Pleasure Island.

Since the toy campaign was started in 1947, the Marines have collected more than 35,000,000 toys for youngsters.

Mailing Straps Being Left At All Local Homes

In an effort to cut the handlings and costs of the mounting Christmas card mail, letter carriers will deliver to Newton homes this week a kit of special mailing straps.

As explained in each kit, the six straps enclosed are for use in packaging Christmas cards after their being separated as follows: Local—all cards for Newton addresses; Massachusetts cities and towns outside Newton, and all destinations outside Massachusetts.

Postmaster Ephraim Martin of the Boston district, of which Newton is a part, states that tests show that approximately 60 percent of all cards mailed in this city are for delivery in Newton.

The straps are easy to use by wrapping them tightly around the cards and pressing them down. No moisture is required.

Noted Harpsichordist Newton Concert Guest

The guest artist for the Highland Glee Club's winter concert next Tuesday evening, December 14, in the Meadowbrook Junior High School in Newton Centre will be Hubert Bedard of Ottawa, Canada. He is a skilled performer on the harpsichord who has appeared on television, radio and concert stages in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Mr. Bedard, a graduate of the Province of Quebec Conservatory of Music in Montreal, and with several additional years of study in Vienna and Amsterdam has, in addition to his television and radio appearances, been a frequent performer at the Stratford Music Festival in Stratford, Ontario, and last summer was honored with the distinction of being the Resident Harpsichordist for the Festival.

During his study of the harpsichord Mr. Bedard became interested in the construction of the instrument and visited many European museums to study and to learn about the manufacture of early types of harpsichords. One phase of the manufacturing process which impressed Mr. Bedard was the method by which early harpsichord makers utilized wood in the production of the finest instruments. As a result of this study Mr. Bedard developed a strong urge to build such an instrument for himself.

Consequently he came to Boston and became associated with the well known harpsichord manufacturer Frank Hubbard. Mr. Bedard is now making his own instrument and hopes to have it completed in time to use in the Highland Glee Club concert on December 14. "In case it is not completed in time for the concert," Mr. Bedard promised, "I will use one of Mr. Hubbard's excellent two-manual harpsichords which combine a faithful reproduction of the best in earlier instruments with modern technique of woodworking."

Following the concert there will be a reception where the audience may meet Mr. Bedard who will be glad to answer questions pertaining to the playing of the harpsichord or of its construction. Those attending the reception, to which the entire audience is invited, will also meet the Highland Glee Club's new music director Robert C. Prince.

Mr. George F. Brewer, 1090 Walnut St., Newton Highlands, president of the Highland Glee Club has announced a change in the starting time of the concert because of the reception which will follow. The new starting time for the concert will be eight (8) o'clock and sponsoring memberships or single tickets may be purchased at the door.

Boston College Law Dean Speaker At Temple Event

The second in a series of Adult Education programs, arranged by Dr. Edwin Salzman, was held recently at Temple Shalom of Newton.

After the Sabbath Eve Service, Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, presented Rev. Robert F. Drinan, S.J., Dean of Boston College Law School, and Attorney Edward Barshak, Secretary of the Jewish Community Council and expert in church-state relationships.

Among the many points mentioned in his talk on "Religion, the State and the Schools," Father Drinan had this to say:

". . . It is submitted that the problem of furnishing academically adequate training religion and morality in the public school is more acute than most educators will admit and more important than most parents or churchmen realize. For the danger now is not that the schools will revert to some type of non-sectarianism but rather that the schools will, pursuant to the most laudable motives, teach moral values not as the products of any religious tradition but as truths to be accepted and adhered to because they are state-endorsed and state-enforced . . .

". . . The public school in America, furthermore, is expected to communicate moral and spiritual values. The public school teacher is told by her superiors, by the P.T.A., by the community and often by statutory law that she must develop the moral character of her pupils. At the same time she is made to realize that she must adhere to the directive of the United States Supreme Court and observe a 'wholesome neutrality' towards religion. By which standards and with whose moral values does the teacher therefore transmit values to her students? . . ."

Mr. Barshak, in his commentary on Father Drinan's presentation, expressed fear of State involvement, warning that religious involvement by the state would very likely bring about the same chaos and confusion that originally necessitated the first amendment to the Constitution.

Outline Mental Health Program For This City

Services of Newton's Mental Health Center were introduced to approximately 100 persons attending the Fall Delegate meeting of the Newton Community Council held last week at the Bishop MacKenzie Center in Newton Centre.

Proram participants included Kenneth Huberman, president, Action For Mental Health in Newton; Dr. William Stone, medical director, Dr. Sylvia Krakow, head social worker; Dr. Haskel Cohen, chief psychologist. The meeting was chaired by Robert C. Casselman, first vice president Newton Community Council.

Mr. Huberman introduced the panel by describing the origins of the idea in bringing a Mental Health Center to Newton which began about three years ago. He described the efforts of parents of emotionally disturbed children who banded together for mutual help.

With the help of state legislation and support from the School Department and city officials, as well as Community Council, Family Counseling Service, Psychiatric outpatient clinic held at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, clergy and a growing number of individuals who have joined as members of Action For Mental Health in Newton a Mental Health Center serving initially children was opened a few months ago. The Center is located at 398 Walnut Street in Newtonville, formerly occupied by the All Newton Music School.

Dr. Stone described the variety of problems, some of a minor nature, others more serious which the services at the center are designed to help. Ages of children to be served initially range from birth through high school. No restrictions other than age have yet been applied.

Fees for service are on a sliding scale and range from 50 cents on up depending on the families' ability to pay. Referrals have already come from many sources and include schools, clergy, agencies and self referrals.

Dr. Krakow, head social worker described her work as helping those coming for help to understand the kind of services available, the need for parents to be involved in helping their children. She indicated that in September when the Center opened full time 50 cases were waiting for service. Since then 50 others have been accepted for service by the staff at the Center.

Dr. Cohen, chief psychologist, spoke of their flexible approach in tailoring the treatment plan to each individual. In the past he stated some Mental Health Centers have been accused of too much diagnosis and too little treatment.

He stressed the helpfulness of other resources of information available through schools, clergy and agencies in assisting the center staff in gaining a well rounded picture of the child and his problem. He indicated they are already making use of community services such as the YMCA, Boys' Club and nurseries to supplement the work at the Center.

An informative question period followed the presentations. The Newton Community Council, a United Fund service, sponsored the meeting as a public service to better inform Newton residents of this new service.

Newton Resident Pioneers In New Language Approach

A Newton resident, Dr. Arnold Miller, is directing a team with backgrounds ranging from psychology and education to commercial art, at a recently established Language Development Laboratory at Wrentham State School.

The laboratory, sponsored by Dr. Edhard Meshorer, Superintendent of Wrentham State School, and a former resident of Newton, with the cooperation of state officials from the Department of Mental Health Drs. Lewis B. Klebanoff and Arthur Bindman, was established last September to investigate the acquisition of language among retarded and normal children and to apply techniques previously worked out and tested by Dr. Miller, to classroom settings.

In addition to his affiliation with the language laboratory, Dr. Miller holds appointments as Research Associate in Psychology with the Harvard Medical School and Research Fellow with the Stanley Cobb Laboratories for Psychiatric Research at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

He received his Ph.D. in Psychology from Clark University in 1959 and, after a period at Boston University, accepted an appointment with the Department of Psychology at Montana State University which he left, at the end of 4 years, with the rank of Associate Professor.

At present, Dr. Miller and his wife, the former Eileen Faythe Eller, live with their three boys Loren, David, and Ethan, at 37 Stearns Street, Newton Centre.

During his stay in Montana, Dr. Miller, with the support of several federal grants, conducted research concerned with the development of language, perception and personality which has been reported in scholarly journals and at national conventions.

Recently, a morning session was devoted to his work on language development at the New England meeting of the American Association for Mental Deficiency held at Portland, Maine.

One important goal of the modern, 5 room laboratory, is the classroom application of newly developed animated motion picture procedures which show promise of enabling retarded children to relate their understanding of things and event to spoken and printed words.

To make this application possible the laboratory is equipped with its own photographic, animation, and projection facilities under the supervision of Edward P. Germano, art and animation consultant to the laboratory, and a well-known cartoonist whose work has been exhibited at the recent New York World's Fair.

First to join Dr. Miller's staff was Mrs. Alan S. Morrison of Cambridge. A graduate of Newton High School and Barnard College, Mrs. Morrison, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Rosenbaum of Newton, received her Master of Arts in Teaching from Harvard University School of Education and taught English at Newton High School.

An important aspect of Mrs. Morrison's work is the continuing assessment of how well a group of retarded children, unable to benefit from conventional procedures, are able to profit from the laboratory's animation techniques.

Recent staff additions include Mrs. Kathleen Marko who received her M.A. degree in Special Education from Columbia University. Mrs. Marko, when she joins the laboratory in January, will coordinate its program.

Other new associates of the laboratory are Miss Ann Skendall and Mr. Howard Mason. Miss Skendall received her M.A. degree in Psychology at Boston University and now divides her time between the laboratory and the Wrentham State School's Psychology Department as does Mr. Mason who received his M.A. degree in Special Education from George Peabody College.

It is the hope of those associated with the Language Development Laboratory, that the application of its new procedures will, eventually allow many retarded children to find sense in words which are now meaningless to them.

Fund Interest Due City's Industrious Poor

Names of needy persons are being sought to share in the annual distribution of interest from the Kenrick Fund, it was reported Monday by Adelaide B. Ball, aldermanic chairman of the Kenrick Fund Committee.

The fund was set up in 1824 by John Kenrick with a provision that "the annual interest on $500 be distributed annually toward relieving the needy industrious poor of Newton, especially widows and orphans, none of whom have fallen under the immediate care of the overseers of the poor."

Jackson Homestead In Christmas Open House

Christmas Open House at the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington St., Newton, on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 12, from 2 to 5 o'clock, is an event everyone is looking forward to each year.

From the sparkling candles in the windows to the handsome wreath on the big front door, made of the natural fruits of the pine, beech and chestnut trees, and the old fashioned decorations inside, visitors will be transported into a happy New England home of the 1800's.

There will be something for all to enjoy: the lovely mannequins and two Camp Fire Girls in costume, flowers in all the rooms, candles glowing, a crackling fire in the huge kitchen fireplace, and a fragrant balsam in the old nursery, which has been transformed into a homelike parlour, complete with furniture, rugs and lace curtains.

The trees will be festive with garlands of cranberries and popcorn, tin candle holders, small gifts and French paper ornaments of the middle 1800's showing little girls in costume. Gifts will include toys, Christmas cards, lace handkerchiefs and collars, dolls and other things chosen from among the Homestead treasures.

Christmas flower decorations throughout the house will be arranged by the following members of the Newtonville Garden Club: Mrs. James H. Remley, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Allyn T. Gilbert, Mrs. Joseph G. Hallett Jr., Mrs. Harold H. Lounsberry and Mrs. Walter P. Phillips. Members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club who will be hostesses in the various rooms include Mrs. Harold R. Keller, chairman, Mrs. William E. Bailey, Mrs. William E. Connors, Mrs. F. Earle Conn, Mrs. E. Lake Jones, Mrs. John W. Merrill, Mrs. George W. Palmer 3rd, Mrs. Otis E. Stephenson, Miss Dorothy Taylor and Mrs. Stanton J. Ten Broeck Jr., president.

Professional quality power tools at popular prices! Power tools with power plus...combining a remarkable Power-Unit plus interchangeable, precision tool heads.

No chuck to change. No compromise. Join the Power-Unit with any of four heads. In seconds, you have a complete, properly geared power tool. Each combination offers exceptional power...precision...durability. More for your money! Read why...

General Electric introduces an entirely new concept in power tools: your choice of four interchangeable, precision tool heads...and a single, powerful motor to drive all of the n.

Like professional power tools, each head is a precision instrument. It's designed, balanced, and properly geared for its job. No fumbling with attachments. When you convert, you change the entire head. So each time you purchase a different head you're getting another complete professional power tool—without the expense of buying another motor. All heads have heavy-gauge, die-cast aluminum housings. All parts are built to rigid General Electric specifications ...made to last and last. And look at these other quality features:

The Power-Unit is a powerful 1/3 hp, 3 amp. General Electric motor—twice the power of many household tools. Features burn-out resistant windings, permanently lubricated bearings, extra-tough steel alloy shaft and gear teeth. Meshes instantly with tool heads...locks on with a few turns of 3 permanently attached screws. Has pistol grip...lock-on switch...3-wire cordset.

The Sabre Saw...unique design gives perfect up-front visibility...greater accuracy. 3-position saw table adjusts for bevel, straight or flush cutting. Special 3-position chuck lets you cut flush to and along wall. Built-in jet sawdust blower...calibrated rip/circle guide...3-position stick-type helper handle.

The Orbital Sander...special design gives exceptionally fine balance...allows flush-to-wall and in-corner sanding. Fast—without overheating. Helper handle.

The 3/8" Drill for heavy work. 900 rpm rating...power geared...drills without overheating. Jacobs precision chuck. Helper handle.

Start with one complete tool...buy heads as you need them...or get this set of 3 NOW!

If you already own a 1/4" drill, don't let that stop you. Complete your workshop with this economical set—the General Electric Power-Unit with 3/4" Drill, Sabre Saw, and Orbital Sander heads. Includes drill bits, sandpaper, saw blades, and helper handles.

Triangle Club Show Coming This Way Again

Paul S. Pilcher, a senior at Princeton University, is president of the famed Princeton Triangle Club, which is bringing its 77th annual musical show to Boston next week for the first time since 1919.

Paul is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Pilcher, 67 Berkeley St., West Newton.

The show is called "High Sobriety" and will be presented Thursday evening, Dec. 1 at John Hancock Hall. A special performance for students in the greater Boston area will be given Wednesday Dec. 15.

The Triangle Club is similar to Harvard's Hasty Pudding Club, which also puts on an annual musical. The all-male cast takes the part of men and women and puts on a riotous spoof of feminine foibles.

Paul Pilcher is not only president of the Triangle Club but is a soloist in the show. Edward Bent of Chestnut Hill is also in the cast. Dr. and Mrs. Pilcher will entertain the cast and stage crew at a dinner party before the Thursday performance.

Dr. and Mrs. John Frymoyer (the former Nan Pilcher) and Dr. and Mrs. David B. Pilcher will be here from Burlington, Vt.

The Club will continue on to other major cities.

Newton Women Play Parts In Quakers' Plan

During the observance of the United Nations Human Rights Week, December 10-17, which commemorates the Declaration of Human Rights formulated under the leadership of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, members and attenders of the Friends Meeting at Cambridge are being reminded of the nation-wide program of Friends who are participating for the sixth year in a self-imposed voluntary tax to the United Nations.

Mr. Proctor Houghton and Dr. Charles Woodbury, residents of Newton who are members of the Cambridge Friends Meeting, stated that Urbana, Illinois Quakers who first developed this idea, aptly expressed their views when they said, "Peace through world law today remains a vision, but we dare to believe that just as men of science have opened new frontiers in time and space, so men of good will can create new political and economic patterns to achieve a world community in which men are at peace with one another."

The self-imposed tax, a suggested one percent of gross annual income, not only expresses a citizen's willingness to be taxed and governed by a system of world law, but also seeks to increase monies available for the betterment of all peoples. Citizens of communities in Greater Boston who wish to contribute to this effort should send their checks to Martin Ross, Friends Meeting at Cambridge, 5 Longfellow Park, Cambridge, Mass. 02138. Funds should be designated by the donor for one of the following: UNICEF, Mechanical Assistance Program, World Health Organization, Food and Agriculture Organization, UNESCO, or the U.N. Special Fund.

Of the amount appropriated, $53,000 is for the rental of the classrooms, and $15,000 is to cover the cost of additional paving, covered walkways, new exterior door openings and stairway out of the present building and the needed utility connections to be brought in from Crafts St.

Another docket item that had to do with overcrowding of classrooms also received unanimous approval. It was a recommendation by the public buildings commissioner for an amendment to the building code by addition of the following paragraph:

"Wherever an acute housing emergency occurs in municipal school classroom accomodations as certified by the School Committee in writing to the Mayor, the building commissioner, upon recommendation of the Mayor in writing, with the approval of the building board of appeals and the chief of the fire department, may authorize the construction of one-story classrooms or other methods of design and materials suitable to the temporary purpose and not necessarily subject to the specific provisions of the code, but nothing herein contained shall authorize the use of such building after such emergency terminates or a maximum of five years."

Christian Science Lecturer Speaks At Newtonville Church

People should no longer be amazed at the achievements of spiritual healing, according to Francis William Cousins, on tour as a member of the Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

He spoke last week in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Newtonville.

Mr. Cousins, a Christian Science teacher and practitioner from Manchester, England, noted that the strong effect of "mental attitudes" on physical conditions is being increasingly recognized.

"If we can see for a moment that all disease is mental and subjective," he said, "then we shall also see that such a condition can be reversed by replacing the wrong ungodlike thinking with the pure spiritual truth of man as the expression of God.

"Our real challenge," he added, "is how we can meet every experience of daily life with the spiritual healing power of the Christ.

"Jesus' teaching that 'the kingdom of God is within you' shows clearly that it can only be a mental and spiritual condition," the lecturer declared.

"In all his healing ministry, Jesus taught that the knowledge and understanding of God was the only way to health and happiness.

"He taught emphatically that this healing work was not for him alone, but that his followers, too, could achieve these results."

Mr. Cousins quoted from the Christian Science textbook: "The central fact of the Bible is the superiority of spiritual over physical power" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

'As thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee,' were Jesus' words to the centurion, noted the lecturer. And 'his servant was healed in the self-same hour' (Matt. 8:13).

Jesus did not have to "debate within himself whether God would consider that the man was good enough to be healed and save . . . Jesus was ever conscious of man's true nature.

"No drugs nor material methods were used. But there was a keen perception of man as God's spiritual image and likeness."

This same "spiritual sense" of man, said Mr. Cousins, gave the Apostle Paul an absolute conviction that nothing "shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 8:39).

For all of us and for all time, "this fact of the unity of God and man exists to be grasped by spiritual sense," declared Mr. Cousins.

"But too often human understanding lies dormant. It needs to be awakened to spiritual sense.

"The first step for each one of us is to foster spiritual sense in his own consciousness" — and this is done through prayer and learning to maintain constantly a clear concept of God.

Without this, he said, "we remain in the realm of material illusion.

"The five physical senses don't give us correct information on the subject of God, or man, or the universe," he declared. "One cannot taste, touch, smell, hear, or see God with these senses . . . Everything that the physical senses tell us, therefore, falls short of being truly good . . . Indeed, in order to heal spiritually we have to take specific steps to deny the evidence of these senses.

"They only give us a picture or mental impression which includes much evil . . . This picture is often one which has been given to us from birth through education and association with others," but to the extent of its materialism, "it knows nothing of God, of man as he really is, or of spiritual reality."

The development of spiritual sense, therefore, "demands sacrifice" — "the endeavor to give up belief in, or reliance upon, matter in any form."

This is why Jesus "condemned materialism," said the lecturer.

He was helping men "to awaken from the dream of existence in matter so that they could understand and experience spiritual living."

And when an individual is roused "to the point of apprehending a spiritual fact, he is healed by it" — and soon finds himself helping to bring healing to others.

"The recognition of every individual as being, in his true nature, the expression of God is the beginning of healing.

"If the understanding of God comes to us and destroys the inner errors of thought that have appeared as outward subjective manifestations, this is spiritual healing."

Norumbega Boy Scouts Hold Year's 1st Court Of Honor

Troop 219, Norumbega Council, BSA, sponsored by First Church in Newton, recently held its first Court of Honor of this year in the presence of 40 parents and Scouts to recognize those boys who have advanced in rank so far this year.

Following an opening flag ceremony by a color guard comprised of Phil Anastasia, Al Carpenter, Mark Houghton, and Bill Keeler, and the Pledge of Allegiance, the troop sang "America". Scoutmaster Ronald Dean then welcomed the parents and boys to the meeting and briefly discussed the troop's activities so far this fall, which include two camping trips and a work day at the Council's Nobscot Reservation in Sudbury and a day hiking trip up Mount Cardigan near Bristol, N.H.

Assistant Scoutmaster Clifton Dean then announced the troop's annual Christmas wreath sale and the participation in the Council's Nobscot Guide Course, for boys of first class rank or higher who wish to know more about the local reservation, on December 11.

After the traditional candlelighting ceremony, conducted by Senior Patrol Leader Nick Scrimshaw, Troop Advancement Chairman Kenneth Patterson declared the Court of Honor open. Scoutmaster Ronald Dean then presented Tenderfoot ranks to: Bruce Guyon, Doug Nee, Gabor Lakner, and Laszlo Lakner. Al Carpenter then received First Class award from Troop Committeeman Carl Stiles, a 25-year veteran of Scouting. Assistant Scoutmaster Ken Patterson presented five merit badges to Mark Houghton, who then received the rank of Star from South District Advancement Chairman Charles Kantar.

It was announced that the following boys are troop officers for this year: Nick Scrimshaw, senior patrol leader; Mark Houghton, assistant senior patrol leader; Bill Keeler, scribe; Phil Anastasia, quartermaster and patrol leader; Al Carpenter, patrol leader, and Bruce Guyon and Bob King, assistant patrol leaders.

Senior Patrol Leader Nick Scrimshaw then conducted a candlelight closing ceremony; Advancement Chairman Ken Patterson declared the Court closed; and the Color Guard retrieved the flags. The meeting then adjourned.

"The House Ways and Means bill is faulty on four counts," Druker declared.

"First, it gives no tax relief to the municipalities or the property taxpayer. Second, it makes on real provision to carry out the aids to education embodied in the Willis Report and accepted by the legislature earlier this year.

"Third, while increasing 'sin' taxes and taxing the utility consumer directly by picking up the former federal telephone excise, it relies principally on the fair weather income tax to get the state off its immediate financial hook.

Most important, it runs out on the issue of providing a sound, adequate and all weather financial base grams the legislature it-for the improved state pro-self has been voting," Druker stated.

"Newton has just had a $7 tax rate increase and can expect a $5 to $7 further increase in 1966 unless the legislators act responsibly," Druker stated.

"To vote acceptance of new advances in education, yet deny the money to carry them out is an obvious and gross avoidance of responsibility," he continued. "And to indicate principal reliance on the income tax in order to duck coming to grips with the state's true obligations results only in hurting Massachusetts' image and competitive position to no constructive purpose," he said.

"Partisan politics are all right in their place, but, as many other responsible Democrats have shown by their votes, not when it comes to running out on the state's duty and selling out the homeowner and his children's education," Druker concluded.

James Kaufman, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Kaufman, 20 Fairlee Terr., Waban, has been made a member of Pi Delta Epsilon at Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis. The national honorary collegiate journalism fraternity works to improve campus publications and radio station. Kaufman is the campus station manager and is on the academic honor roll.

"God, Man's Preserver" Is Sunday Subject

"He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty." This verse from the 91st Psalm will open the Bible lesson-sermon this Sunday at all Christian Science churches. The subject will be "God the Preserver of Man."

The readings from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook will explore some of the ways in which the "secret place" is discovered by man.

These sentences from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be included: "It is ignorance and false belief, based on a material sense of things, which hide spiritual beauty and goodness. Understanding this, Paul said: 'Neither death, nor life, . . . nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God'" (p. 304).

Falls This Week Cause More Accidents Than Autom'biles

This past week saw more accident victims who came to grief as a result of falls than were hurt in mishaps in which automobiles were involved.

Mrs. Rose A. Howard, 75, of 126 John F. Kennedy Cir., Newton, was treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital for a right leg injury received in a fall near 303 Walnut St., Newtonville.

Leon J. Daigle, 4, of 65 River St., West Newton, was taken to the hospital after a fall in his back yard. He had a two-inch cut in the forehead.

Ann Harris of Watertown didn't fall herself, but a lamp in King's Department store did, and landed on her head. An employee of the store, she was treated at Newton-Wellesley.

Mrs. Isabelle Smith, 62, of 25 Bradford Rd., Newton Highlands, got head, leg and wrist injuries when she tripped over an electric cord near the Elm Farm Market at 978 Boylston St. Newton Highlands. She was taken to the hospital by police.

It was not a fall, but a kitchen accident that sent Mrs. Rose Grossman, 55, of 60 Audubon Dr., Chestnut Hill, to the hospital. The injury was a cut thumb.

One of the automobile accidents of the week happened to a 9-year-old girl, Susanne McDonald of 5 Carlton Rd., Waban. A car on Centre St., operated by Dorothy N. Jones, 22 Keefe Ave., Newton Upper Falls, injured her at Centre and Boylston Sts. Police said the door handle hit her.

Eleven motorists were injured in five accidents, including three one-car crashes.

A two-car crash early Saturday near 1256 Comonwealth Ave., West Newton, injured five persons. One of the drivers and four passengers were taken to Newton-Wellesley. Both cars were from out of state.

A little earlier, a car operated by Jean M. Machunski, 1744 Washington St., Auburndale, hit a tree opposite 1238 Commonwealth Ave., nearby. Miss Machunski was injured about the face and back, and required hospital treatment.

A Needham woman and a Natick man were hurt when two cars came together Friday evening near College Rd., Chestnut Hill.

Dorothy Trefethen of 98 Allen Ave., Waban, suffered a nose injury when her car crashed a pole shortly after she left her driveway.

A Roxbury man was injured when his car struck a tree Friday on Hammond St., Chestnut Hill. Police were unable to determine the cause of the accident.

Harry Lakin To Be Honored At United Synagogue Dinner

New England Region of the United Synagogue of America and the Solomon Schechter Day School will hold a dinner Thursday, Dec. 16, in Temple Emeth, Chestnut Hill, to honor Harry Lakin of Newton Centre on his completion of five years of distinguished service as president of the Region, and on his becoming president of the Day School.

Dinner chairman is Morris Rothstean of Temple Mishkan Tefila in Newton.

The gala event will also welcome 13 new Conservative rabbis who have come into the New England Region this year. Temple leaders and members from the Region's 66 affiliated congregations in five New England states are expected to attend.

Preceding the 6:30 p.m. dinner there will be a reception for all guests at 5:30. Reservations may be made at the regional office, 1330 Beacon St., Brookline, BE 2-8816.

Harry Lakin, the guest of honor, served as president of the N.E. Region of the United Synagogue for the past five years. Under his leadership, the Region launched and implemented a broad, intensive and imaginative program of service for its 66 affiliated congregations. He succeeded in involving countless lay leaders in the affairs of the Conservative Movement and was instrumental in the engagement of a full-time professional staff. During his regime, 26 new congregations affiliated with the United Synagogue. He has been responsible for the emergence of the United Synagogue as the largest synagogue body in New England. A past president of Temple Emeth, Chestnut Hill, Mr. Lakin's leadership qualities earned him re-election as national vice president of this parent body at the recent biennial convention of the United Synagogue. Last Spring he was elected president of the Solomon Schechter Day School.

$175,000 In School Fund Unlikely Now

The possibility that $175,000 will be appropriated this year by the Board of Aldermen for the purchase of 60,540 square feet of land for the site of the proposed new Bigelow Junior High School now appears extremely remote.

Alderman William E. Hopkins filed an order last month for the appropriation of that sum of money after Mayor Donald L. Gibbs had failed to respond to an Aldermanic resolution that he submit an order for the appropriation of funds to buy the land.

At the request of Hopkins, himself, however, no action was taken on his order at Monday night's session of the Board of Aldermen, and the measure was put over until the next meeting on Dec. 20.

While Mayor Gibbs has made no explanation for not presenting the appropriation order requested by the Aldermen, it is known that the surplus fund contains only $500,000, and it is understood that the Mayor is reluctant to deplete it by taking $175,000 from it at this time

The city would be confronted with a serious emergency if $175,000 were appropriated from the surplus fund and Newton was swept by one or more major snowstorms before the end of the year.

For this reason it is considered unlikely that the Aldermen will provide any funds for the purchase of the new Bigelow Junior High site until after the first of the year.

The decision as to when the land should be bought will then rest with Mayor-elect Monte G. Basbas who assumes office on New Year's Day.

Frances A. Stuart

A solemn requiem Mass for Mrs. Frances A. (Fitzgerald) Stuart, 82, of 260 Chestnut St., West Newton, widow of George E. Stuart, former Newton street commissioner, was offered Friday, Jan. 3, in St. Bernard's Church.

Mrs. Stuart died Nov. 29 at her home following a long illness.

Born in West Newton, Mrs. Stuart worked for a number of years for the Newton Highway Department. She leaves a sister, Miss Florence S. Fitzgerald, with whom she made her home.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Low-Income Living In Peru No Breeze

By Wigmore A. Pierson

Ed. Note—This is another in a series of articles written for The Graphic by Wigmore Pierson, Newton Peace Corps volunteer assigned to Chimbote, Ancash, Peru.

"Oh, what will I fix for supper tonight?" How many North American housewives ponder over that problem as they push their shopping carts through the aisles of canned goods, frozen foods, and meats, or as they stand in front of their own well-stocked refrigerators or freezers?

Here in Peru in the mat houses of the slum barriadas, the women of these low income families don't ask themselves such questions. The answer is obvious, for the meal is almost always basically the same. Often it's whatever is available at the lowest prices in the market.

Each morning the Peruvian housewife walks to the market to do the day's shopping. Having no refrigeration prevents buying food for the whole week or even for the next day.

Most of the vendors have small stands built of mat and cane poles in which they sell their produce. Others, usually the Indian women, spread their wares upon a blanket on the ground. One must be careful not to stumble over neat stacks of oranges, apples and tomatoes, or even occasional sleeping children and dogs. The trays in the stalls of this crowded open-air market display what is on the ground plus eggs, onions, lettuce, squash, corn, rice, bananas, potatoes, carrots, peas, string beans, garlic, and many other common fruits and vegetables.

And, of course, there is "aji" (pronounced "ah-he"), the innocent-looking spice that looks like a small red pepper, yet will ravage the throat and bring tears to the eyes of the unaccustomed foreigner. Passing through the less appetizing meat section, I choose whatever looks safest each day among the fish, chicken, beef, goat or lamb hanging on display for all, including the flies, to examine. Often I prefer no meat at all.

Many wives and mothers in these low income families vary their meals slightly day by day, but most provide little or no variation. I once ate with a family for six consecutive days, and the only variation was fish ONE day. The other meals were identical, and even the fish dinner included most of what the others had!

The meal begins with soup, usually made from wheat or starchy noodles. This contains a touch of "aji," which kills the blandness. On special occasions or families with more money, a salad is also served. This is basically uncooked fish smothered with "aji." The lining of the lips, mouth, and throat seem almost to glow after eating this hot "cebiche" salad.

Next comes the main dish. This is almost always one-third boiled potatoes and one third cooked rice, both served with "aji" sauce. The meat is usually cooked goat or cuy (guinea pig). After the meal tea or coffee is served, and following all that "aji" it is most welcome!

For special fiestas and birthday dinners, the family pig may be butchered, or more frequently, a chicken or a fey cuyes get the axe. These latter animals (as well as the chickens) run at will through the house and are eaten on special occasions. We gringos tend to react unfavorably the first time it is served to us, but after the initial shock wears off, we realize that it is delicious meat (what there is of it), although, again, the "aji" drowns out — or burns out - much of the flavor.

You may wonder how the women do the cooking. In these poor houses kerosene stoves provide all that the Peruvian mother needs to turn out a complete meal. Each family normally owns one or two single-burner pressure stoves or a double-burner-unit. These are small and sit upon a table or stand.

While I am on the subject of housework, do you wonder how she does the laundry? I wondered because a neighbor woman washes my clothes. She uses the stand-tub method and a box of sudsy detergent. Peruvians look for lots of suds, too. Some of my other neighbors carry their laundry to a nearby stream and scrub and beat it on the rocks, leaving it to dry in the reeds or on the rocks. My clothes always come back clean, whether washed in the tub or the stream, but I am afraid that each washing shortens their life expectancy considerably.

Where there is no electricity, pressing is done by a large cast iron iron. The hinged top opens, and a charcoal fire is built inside. Not only does this contraption weigh several pounds, but it is a real art to control its varying temperature range. A Peace Corps Volunteer tried this method and lost a blouse. These women deserve much credit for their ability to use such a device.

Such is the basic "housework" of the low income Perruvian wife and mother. There is no supermarket, automatic washer, or steam iron but she really doesn't miss them.

Sen. Cohen Files 6 Bills One Raising Teachers Pay

Among six bills filed with the Senate Clerk just ahead of the deadline by Sen. Beryl W. Cohen, whose district includes a part of Newton, was one requested by the Massachusetts Teachers Association to provide a higher minimum salary for the teachers in public schools.

It would increase the minimum from the present $5000 to $5500 per school year, and it would affect all teachers except those in training or employed as temporary substitutes. The increase would be effective Sept. 1 of next year. The measure further provides that all public school teachers with at least 10 years of experience must receive not less than $8500 per school year.

Senator Cohen also filed a resolve for a special commission study of, and recommend legislation on, the administration and extension of services of the public welfare system of the Commonwealth.

Included in the study would be the proposals made in "The Study of the Public Welfare System of the Commonwealth," conducted by the National Study Service under the joint auspices of the Massachusetts Committee on Children and Youth and the United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston.

The special commission would comprise three Senators, five Representatives and five gubernatorial appointees. It would report not later than the first Wednesday of April, 1966.

The names of President Henry M. Leen of United Community Services, and Sen. Leslie B. Cutler and Reps. Mary B. Newman, John W. Frenning, Katherine D. Kane and William M. Bulger are on another bill Sen. Cohen filed. It would authorize the state department of public welfare to "provide services to mothers bearing children out of wedlock through its own resources or those of other appropriate agencies."

A fourth Cohen bill would authorize the state public welfare department to participate in the federal food stamp program.

Senator Cohen also filed a proposed amendment to the state constitution relating to a possible disability of the Governor. The amendment provides that if the Governor notifies the Senate President and Speaker of the House, in writing, that he is unable to discharge his duties, or if the chief justice and a majority of the Supreme Court so inform the legislative leaders in writing, the office shall be deemed vacant, and the Lieutenant Governor shall assume it. The Governor shall resume office when he informs the legislative presiding officers in writing that his disability has terminated. If, however, the chief justice and a majority of the Supreme Court shall deem otherwise, the Legislature shall be called on to decide the issue, either in regular session or in a special session.

Jaycees' Campaign Will Buy Gifts For Children

Newton Jaycees are urging businessmen and residents of the community, particularly local children, to participate in the fund raising project to buy Christmas gifts for homeless youngsters.

Governor John A. Volpe has proclaimed the week of December 6th through 12th as "Children Helping Children Week" in Massachusetts. The project is sponsored by local Jaycees under the direction of Peter Harrington, 50 Crosby Rd., Chestnut Hill.

The Jaycee Christmas Fund will enable more than 5000 children who cannot be with their own families this Christmas to receive gifits of their own choice.

A special appeal is being made to children who know what it means to have a wonderful Christmas.

Area Jaycees ask that each child do a chore and mail his earnings to Jaycee Christmas Fund Headquarters, P.O. Box 153, Burlington, Mass.

The fund was originated by the Burlington Junior Chamber of Commerce and has expanded to include the entire Massachusetts Bay area. The children who will benefit live in Newton and all over eastern Massachusetts. They are in the care of four agencies: the Mass. Division of Child Guardianship, the Nickerson Home, the New England Home for Little Wanderers, and the Goodwill Inn for Boys.

Norman Einarson, of Burlington Jaycees, said today, "The unique quality of this program is that it will enable a homeles child to receive a gift he has asked for, something that he will treasure most."

"We have already received more than 200 requests for specific gifts and we anticipate hundreds more."

Einarson also said that contributions from adults would be welcomed and that adults wishing to purchase a special gift for one child should call 272-0938 in Burlington.

John R. McGaughey, director of the Division of Child Guardianship, praised the Christmas project.

High School Hoopsters To Open Tuesday

The basketball teams of Newton High School and Newton South High will play their first Suburban League game of the season when they meet at 3:15 next Tuesday afternoon at Newton High.

Two football players, Steve Cooper and Steve Parnell, will be in the Newton South lineup. The six-foot, two-inch Cooper looms as the potential star of the Lions.

Austin Moore and Leland Theise, a pair of guards, are two of Newton High's mainstays. Paul Moore, a 6-foot, two-inch junior, showed great promise in a game with Exeter which the Tigers lost 68-56.

Original Painting To Be Given At Meeting

Some fortunate person who attends the meeting of Newton Art Association, Inc., Thursday evening, Dec. 16, at 7:30 o'clock in the Beethoven School, Waban, will take home a fine oil painting.

It will be done at the meeting by a distinguished artist, Robert Douglas Hunter, a member of the Copley Society who has won the Jordan Art Show several times.

SOLOIST — Mrs. Aletha Munro of Randolph, widely known soloist, will be featured at the eighth annual Christmas concert presented by the sixty-voice Glee Club of the New England Baptist Hospital School of Nursing on Sunday, Dec. 12, at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre. Newton High Math Team Wins Contest

Newton High School's mathematics team took first place in the second league meet of the year held last week at Boston Technical High School.

Newton High scored 59 points, followed by Brookline with 55 and Newton South High with 54. Other teams included Boston Latin, Boston English, Boston Tech and St. Columbkille.

The purpose of the league is to stimulate more interest in mathematics throughout the Greater Boston Area. There are five divisions within the league each containing seven or eight teams. The various schools compete within their own divisions in four contests held through the year, and then a championship meet is held in the spring to determine the top team. Awards are given to the top team and to the senior, junior, and sophomore with the highest score.

Aldermen Give Approval For Zoning Change

The 19 members of the Board of Aldermen present at Monday night's meeting voted favorably on a recommendation of its Claims and Rules Committee for a change of zone from Private Residence District to Business AA involving eight lots from 40 to 76 Austin St., Newtonville, containing 73,290 square feet.

Harry H. Ham Jr., committee chairman, contended that the change would give the board tighter control over new construction, including setbacks and off-street parking. Business AA covers office buildings and banks, Ham reminded the members.

The proposal had been given the Planning Board's approval.

The item had been tabled at the previous meeting on motion of Alderman William M. Glovsky.

A 14 to 5 vote defeated a motion to reconsider, despite William M. Glovsky's suggestion that Alderman George L. Hicks of Ward 2, who was absent, should be given an opportunity to express his views on the rezoning.

Kenneth S. Brown of 548 Centre St., Newton, was awarded a BA in Social Science at Michigan State University, East Lansing. Another summer term graduate was Thomas H. Terrio of 201 Highland St., West Newton, who was awarded a Master of Urban Planning degree.

Gibbs-Basbas Unlimber Guns Against Turnpike Tax Moves

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Mayor-elect Monte G. Basbas this week blasted a proposal by the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority that Newton and other communities be deprived of the right to fix the tax assessments placed on buildings erected over the toll road under the provisions of the air rights law.

Gibbs and Basbas were stoutly supported by Boston Mayor John F. Collins who declared the new law the Turnpike Authority is seeking would be "an unconstitutional interference with the right of local government."

Basbas, who will assume office as Newton's next Mayor on New Year's Day, served notice that he will fight the Turnpike Authority bill in the Legislature next year and that he will ask all Newton legislators to join with him in the battle.

Mayor-elect Basbas said he desires to work with the Turnpike Authority and with prospective developers who desire to erect buildings over the toll road but that he insists on the right to encourage proposals which are good for Newton and to oppose those which are bad for the city.

The Mayor-elect said it would be "presumptuous on the part of the Turnpike Authority to try to take away rights which are logically and fundamentally the rights of the local community."

Basbas emphasized that he believes the city should have the right to fix tax assessments on structures erected over the toll road, to maintain zoning control over such buildings and to enforce the various city codes.

Army Honors To Lt. Huff At Monmouth

Second Lieut. Bradbury H. Huff, Jr., of Newton, has been appointed aide-de-camp to Brig. Gen. H. McD. Brown, commanding general of the U. S. Army Signal Center and School.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradbury Huff of 20 Asheville Road, Newton, Lieut. Huff was graduated from the Newton High School and took his degree in 1964 at Northeastern University.

It was while a student there that he met Mrs. Huff, the former Miss Diane A. Marks of 52 Whittier road, Needham. They were married in August og 1964.

Lieut. Huff arrived at the Signal School in January and, prior to his new assignment, served as processing officer in the Allied Liaison and Visitors Division. As general's aide he succeeds First Lieut. William M. Thompson, Jr., who was recently relieved from active duty.

Two Solons Give Reply To Druker

Representatives Joseph G. Bradley and Paul F. Malloy yesterday hit back at Bertram A. Druker, president of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, who had sharply criticized them for voting against Governor Volpe's $200 million tax program and the limited sales tax.

Bradley and Malloy declared that they had voted for a $200 million tax plan which "would have drawn most of income from income taxes." They said they considered this "the most equitable approach" to the State's tax problem.

The two legislators asserted they had supported a tax program "based on a person's ability to earn, rather than his ability to spend."

They charged that Governor Volpe's sales tax plan has "many weaknesses and inequities" which, they said, caused their opposition to it. Their statement in reply to Druker follows:

"We have vigorously supported three different tax programs which have come before the Legislature. Mr.

Creche Here Brings Rare Yule Spirit

Live sheep and authentic life-size figures recreate the atmosphere of that first Christmas in a rude outdoor creche on the lawn of the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd on Beacon Street in Waban Square.

White and black sheep graze among the Wise Men and the Holy Family, while Christmas carols blend with soft lighting to bring a sense of reverence and tranquility to the creche.

"This bucolic, antiquated scene is here," the rector, the Rev. William E. Foley said, "because we need something to draw sophisticated suburbia back to the realities of life."

"Since that first Christmas, through mathematics we have unlocked the secret of atomic power. Will this power be used for peace or destruction?," the Rev. Mr. Foley asked.

"With space exploration we are opening new worlds. Will the discoveries be used for good or for evil? In biology we are on the threshold of changing life itself. Will our knowledge be used to

Library Site Board Is Named By Basbas

Monte G. Basbas, Mayor-elect of Newton, today announced the appointment of the Library Site Committee, thereby fulfilling a commitment he had made during the campaign for Mayor.

Basbas designated former Alderman Hirsh Sharf as chairman of the Library Site Committee. Mr. Sharf has long been active in Newton community affairs and Greater Boston civic affairs. He is presently a member of the Board of Zoning Appeals of Newton, and is president of the Jewish Community Council of Boston.

The first meeting of the Library Site Committee has been scheduled this week.

In announcing his appointment of the Committee, Mr. Basbas said: "As in the case of the High School Site Committee, I felt that it was important that the Library Site Committee be in a position to commence its study of the site problem prior to Inauguration Day, so that the recommendations of the Committee might be forthcoming before March 1, 1966. It appears to me that something more than 60 days will be required for a

Postal Kits To Aid Yule Card System

In an effort to cut the handlings and costs of the mounting Christmas card mail which may reach 350-million pieces in the Boston Postal District, which includes Newton, letter carriers in this city are delivering Christmas Kits to local homes.

As explained in each kit, the six straps enclosed are for use in packaging Christmas cards, which have been separated as follows:

Local, all cards for Newton: for Massachusetts cities and towns outside Newton: and for all other destinations outside Massachusetts.

Postmaster Ephraim Martin stated that tests have shown that approximately 60% of all Christmas cards mailed in Newton are for delivery in Newton.

"If these are separated and bundled with the appropriate straps, they can be retained at the local postoffices in the city and

Heavy Jewelry Haul In Week-end Breaks

Furs, jewelry, clothing and money were included in the loot carried out of Newton homes by burglars after breaks during the past week.

Meanwhile, it developed that the shooting of two men, which supposedly took place in Newton Corner last Thursday night, actually occurred in Boston's "combat zone."

Both men wounded in the shooting, Richard M. Wallace, 24, of Watertown, formerly of Newton, and Neil R. Rudy, 33, of Brighton, have been arrested by Newton police on burglary charges.

As police now piece the story together, Rudy and Wallace apparently became engaged in an altercation with two men on LaGrange street in Boston.

They say that Wallace reached for his gun, that Rudy tried to prevent him from discharging it, that the gun went off, with the bullet passing through Wallace's hand and into Rudy's stomach.

The two men then evidently drove to Newton, threw the revolver into the Charles Rive. and claimed that they were shot by three men in an automobile in Newton Corner.

Loot worth thousands of dollars was taken out of Newton homes by thieves in a number of breaks, most of

Hospital Report Shows Busy Year

The busiest year in its history has been completed by Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and written into the record, according to the report just released by Director William S. Brines.

Discussing his annual report to the trustees, delivered last week, he reviewed several areas of significant accomplishment during the 12 months ended Sept. 30, the hospital's fiscal year.

"The hospital was very productive, from the standpoint of service to the community. Over 9,000 patients were admitted, a record number. Occupancy of medical-surgical beds averaged 92 percent for the year, the highest in over a decade.

Nearly 15,000 patients were received in the Emergency Department, another record. Supporting departments, such as Laboratory and X-ray, experienced a service increase of almost 10 percent, serving more people than ever in spite of space restrictions," the director said.

He hailed the hospital's affiliation with Tufts University

Federal Funds For Schools Discussed

An informal discussion before the School Committee last Monday night was held on the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, which makes available federal money in a number of ways, many of which could be of advantage to Newton.

Participating were Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of schools, J. Bernard Everett, assistant superintendent for instruction, and Donald T. Welch, coordinator of elementary education.

Dr. Brown, at the start, emphasized that the discussion would be informal, and that the point had by no means been reached at which any recommendations could be made for the city's participation in the federal program.

"What will be said," he continued, "will merely indicate our tentative thinking and what we are doing now."

The superintendent said that Washington's intentions at this stage were considerably ahead of any ability to act.

He then explained that J. Bernard Everett and Donald T. Welch were faced with a massive task of assembling data for presentation to

$30,000 Jewelry Theft In Newton

$30,000 in diamonds, stolen in Newton Tuesday night, is being investigated by police, according to a report yesterday.

Police say that the jewelry was stolen from the home of Natalie Klebenov, 386 Commonwealth Ave., Chestnut Hill. A side window was forced to gain entry into the house.

A $20,000 25-karat diamond pin and a $10,000 diamond bracelet were taken in the break, according to police.

Court Rules In Favor Of Rezone Here

A Middlesex Superior Court decision favorable to the city in the Norumbega Park Marriot motor hotel case by no means meant that a date could be set for starting construction on the proposed $4,000,000 complex.

The decision upheld the Board of Aldermen's action in rezoning 10 acres of the park land and granting permission for the installation. However, it invalidated the board's action in waiving the 40-foot height regulation for the motel.

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones has stated that he is considering an appeal on the invalidation to the Supreme Court, and the group of Auburndale residents who objected to the motor hotel may appeal the other parts of the decision.

Judge Thomas W. Tomasello's decision was on the bill in equity brought by Basil K. Woods, Albert C. Horton and

Shea Is New Alderman In Ward 7 Test

H. James Shea, Jr., has been officially declared the newly elected Ward Alderman from Ward 7. He will succeed Alderman William Carmen on New Year's Day.

Shea was ruled the winner over Boston University Professor Harry M. Crosby by a margin of four votes.

Judge Frank W. Tomasello in Middlesex Superior Court dismissed a petition by Crosby for a writ of mandamus seeking to overturn the results of a recount held by the city election department.

In so doing, Judge Tomasello upheld the recount tabulation which gave Shea 961 votes and Crosby 957. Melvin Norris was third with 953 votes.

Ted - for - Governor Reports Have No Foundation of Fact

Reports have been circulating for weeks on Beacon Hill and were published recently in one Boston newspaper that Senator Edward M. Kennedy may confound everybody by seeking election to the Governorship next year.

It would be bad news both for Governor Volpe and for those Democratic leaders hoping to stand against him in next year's election if Ted Kennedy were to suddenly decide that he wanted to move his office from Washington's Capitol Hill to Boston's Beacon Hill.

Some politicos leaped to the conclusion that this was why Ted had scheduled the Democratic harmony meeting at his home which was later postponed.

Nonantum Christmas Party For Kiddies To Be Sunday

The 66th Annual Nonantum Christmas Party will be held Sunday, December 19 at Our Lady's School Hall at 1:30 p.m. The party is for children 11 years or younger. There will be entertainment and refreshments and Santa Claus will leave gifts for all the children.

Hundreds were on hand a week ago Sunday when Santa arrived by helicopter at Our Lady's Church parking lot. Escorted by Police Captain William Quinn and Patrolman Joseph E. LaCroix the Jolly Old Man hopped aboard a float decorated by George Luncenti and Dominic Mazzili safely navigated Santa on a triumphant ride through the Streets of Nonantum to the delight of 6000 Newton parents and children. Marching ahead of Santa were more than twenty mounted National Lancers led by Dino DiCarlo.

Mayor-Elect Monte G. Basbas led a group of city officials in the parade including Aldermen Joseph M. McDonnell, Andrew Magni and Paul J. Burke. Also in the line of march were Representatives Joseph G. Bradley and Paul F. Malloy; Registrar of Deeds Edmund Buckley, Past Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias Sidney Small and Herbert L. Connelly.

Also in the parade were: the Newton Police Drill Team, the Newton Honor Guard, James Bergantino, Director; St. Mary's Annunciator Band of Cambridge; the Valiant Junior Band of Hyde Park and the Hobos Band led by Tony Marini and transported by Robert Battista. Other marchers included the Newton Boys Club led by Director Samuel Crocetti, helped by Pat Proia, Joseph Pasquorasa and Joseph Smith; the Pop Warner Leaguers led by Fred Dalicandro and Nick Pasquarosa. Also parading were a group of ten Antique cars led by Robert Delaney and Floats donated and driven by Victory Colintino, Morrocco Fuel, Herb Abramson, William Rollins and Pappy Terenzio. The floats were kept rolling by Henry Blakely. One of the brightest spots of the parade was Nonantum No. 1 an antique fire engine reconditioned by Fred Flynn and driven by Chick Lupo.

Hopping back and forth among the crowds lined up along the parade route were a group of twenty-five clowns and hobos who collected funds for Sunday's Christmas party. The Hobos and clowns were made up by a committee including Rita Devine, Lorraine Gaddis, Joanne Pelligrini and Louis and Terry Civeti.

The parade finished at Colletti-Magni Park which the Christmas Party association had decorated with lights and a larger than life Santa Claus through the generosity of the local Nonamtum merchants. Placed in the Park was a huge Mail Box built by the Boys Club in which the children can mail their letters to Santa.

The Christmas Party Association is sponsored by Post 50 Italian American War Veterans, American Legion Post 440, French-American Legion Post 24, Umberto Primo Lodge Sons of Italy and the Newton Boys Club.

Anthony D. Pelligrini is chairman and Dominic Bianchi, treasurer. Roger Morrocco was parade marshall. Chairman Pelligrini gave special thanks to all the mothers and children who helped in the parade. Among the Committee were: Dominic Serra, Joseph Delaney, Nunzio Pelligrini, John Bianchi, Robert Champagne, Robert Leone, Robert Vassalotti, Charles Feeley, Pova Rufo, Rudolph Lizott, Oscar Larossee, Tom Guisti, Gerard Morrocco, Peter Annese, Ambrose Cedrone, Paul Leone, Carmen Vitto, and Frederick Fox

Bomb Hanoi And We're In World War—Kennedy

Reporting on his trip to Viet Nam as chairman of the Senate committee on refugees, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, in an informal talk to 350 Ace of Clubs members and guests, at Chestnut Hill Country Club, Monday night, said he has no sympathy for draft card burners and demonstrators who violate the law and add little to the debate on national policy.

He contrasted such demonstrations with those of the Civil Rights movement, saying the latter had awakened the conscience of the nation and helped speed legislation long overdue in the field of human rights.

The Senator reminded his audience that the Vietnamese had been at war for 25 years, and declared that we have to help them build a nation, to develop free institutions, form civic and labor organizations.

In response to questions following his remarks, he expressed belief that if we crossed the 17th parallel or bombed Hanoi, the Chinse army would come in and "though we could obliterate Hanoi tonight," we'd be involved in a world war.

Ruling Affects Over-70 Home Owners Here

Chairman Edward A. Fahey of Newton's Board of Assessors reports that refunds will be made to home owners over 70 years of age although they may occupy only a part of the house they own.

Fahey made the report following a ruling of the State Supreme Court on a suit involving an Everett home owner and the City of Everett. The ruling nullified the interpretation by the Department of Taxation and Corporation of the over-70 abatement clause.

It means that a home owner who fulfills all other requirements under the 1965 legislation could, for instance, live in a single apartment of his four-family home, rent the other three, and receive an abatement of $4000 on his assessed valuation.

The Newton assessor estimated that the ruling would affect about 15 cases per year here.

Tower

er, which would be used to instruct firefighters on methods of battling conflagrations, has been urged for years by fire underwriters.

Because of the lack of funds, however, the drill tower has not been built, and Newton firefighters have been obliged to go to Waltham, Brookline and other communities for their training.

Mayor Gibbs, who leaves office on New Year's Day, said he decided to recommend that funds be provided for the erection of the drill tower before the end of his term.

All the expenses involved in building the drill tower, draft tank and other facilities would amount to an estimated $94,000, but $5400 already has been provided by the Board of Aldermen.

"These", Father Foley pointed out, "are the basic problems of life that still remain to be solved. And they can be solved," he added, "if we look at that ancient creche and see that today, two thousand years later, the Power that came on that first Christmas, is still in the world pointing to the Christ Child."

Legion Annual Yule Party Is Next Sunday

Newton Post 48, American Legion, has again named its annual Christmas party for its late and beloved comrade John B. Foley who, during his life, devoted time and interest to making the party a huge success in the eyes of the children he loved.

This year's John B. Foley Party will be held in the City Hall cafeteria Sunday afternoon, Dec. 19, at 2 o'clock. Families and youngsters of members will be treated to refreshments, movies and other entertainment, and gifts from Santa.

Commander Joe Fitzsimmons has sent all members the following letter about the party:

"We are now entering into the Holiday seasons and I am sure that by now you have all received your letter from the "North Pole Elves" and that you have sent these poor fellows a donation to carry on the good work that they are doing.

"On Sunday afternoon, December 19, these little elves have arranged to bring the Boss, Santa Himself to the City Hall Cafeteria for the annual John B. Foley Christmas Party. Santa is expected to arrive at 2 p.m. and I hope that there will be a good reception committee of members and their children to welcome him and join in the fun.

"I wish at this time on behalf of myself and my family to wish to each and every member of the post and their families a very Merry Christmas and Happy and Prosperous New Year."

Be Jolly But Be Safe

The cheerful Christmas season is upon us again. It is a frantic time of shopping, decorating, traveling, partying and remembering. It is also a time of high accident hazards.

Reluctantly we must admit that more accidental deaths occur in December than in any other month of the year. Chief causes are fires and automobile accidents.

In many families, the gay holiday season is plunged into stark tragedy by fires. Homes are destroyed and lives lost through neglect of the most elementary rules of personal safety.

A natural Christmas tree is beautiful and appealing, but it grows progressively more flammable every hour it is kept in a heated room. It can be a threat to your family's safety if precautions are not taken.

Christmas trees should be placed in a water-filled contained. They will keep green longer and be less flammable. Before setting it in water, cut the base off at an angle at least one inch above the original cut.

Choose a cool location for setting up your tree, away from fireplaces, radiator or any other source of heat. Be sure it does not block stairs or doorway.

Keep lighted cigarettes and open flames, such as decorative candles and chafing dishes, away from the tree or any other decorations.

Examine your electric light sets before they are placed on the tree to be certain that the wiring and light sockets are in good condition. For outside decorations use only lights and wiring made especially for use out of doors. Where fixtures are exposed to outside elements, there is danger from electrical shock as well as from fires.

Metal Christmas trees are becoming more popular each year. While they are non-combustible, there is the potential danger of electric shock if lighting strings are used on the tree itself.

A metal tree, illuminated by remotely located spotlights or floodlights, produces effective results with no electric shock or fire hazards, if the lights are properly designed and arranged.

Be cautious about using flammable materials for decorating anywhere in the house. The use of untreated cotton batting or crepe paper at the base of a tree is a dangerous practice.

Don't use hanging ornaments or mobiles which are not flameproof. Celluloid and certain plastics burn with a quick flash. Terrible tragedies have resulted from fires flashing across on combustible hangings and ornaments.

Many lives are lost by those wearing Santa Claus suits. Untreated cotton or paper costumes ignite easily and burn with great intensity.

Your home, at Christmas time, is apt to contain an unusually large amount of wrapping paper, boxes, excelsior, etc. These materials will burn like tinder; they should be removed as quickly as possible.

The Christmas season is a happy and holy one. It can be enjoyed as such by families everywhere if simple precautions are taken to guard against tragedy in the home.

However, if that stark alternative presents itself, if, in spite of safety measures, a fire breaks out—remain cool. Get the family out of the house immediately. Then call the fire department, do not wait to see if you can handle it yourself.

After calling for help, you can attempt to smother the flame with an extinguisher or garden hose. Of course, it is always good common sense to know the location of the nearest fire alarm box and the fire department's telephone number.

So, let the warm humanity of Christmas fill our homes and our hearts. Deck the halls and dress the tree for it is the season to be jolly. Safety measures will help keep it that way.

AJC Chapter In Chanukah Lunch

Newton Chestnut Hill Chapter, American Jewish Congress, will observe Chanukah at a luncheon meeting Wednesday, Dec. 22, at Brookline Motor Hotel, 1223 Beacon St.

Mrs. Sidney Shadovitz of Newton Highlands will review a current best seller. Luncheon will be served at noon and the meeting will begin at one o'clock.

Mrs. Shadovitz, who is well known for her intimate book reviews, also is discussion leader of a weekly study group on Jewish history.

Mrs. E. Louis Friederman of Newton Centre will give the invocation and Mrs. Harry Fisher of Newton Centre, president of the chapter, will preside.

Mrs. George Kramer of Newtonville and Mrs. Charles Santis of Newton are program co-chairmen for the meeting.

The meeting is open to the public.

"Blue Bird" To Be Given Sunday At Eliot Church

The Eliot Church of Newton will present the play "The Blue Bird" on Sunday, December 19, at 4:30 in the afternoon as part of its Christmas program.

Under the direction of Miss Susan Crawford, head of the Newton School of Theatre Arts, "The Blue Bird" is a 19th century impressionistic play by the French author Maurice Maeterlinck. Set at Christmas time, it is a charming and meaningful story which holds appeal for theatre audiences of all ages.

David Fray and Dawn Gayzagian are playing the leading roles of the brother and sister. Other members of the cast are Danielle Jeanloz as the dog, Melba Anne Biggs as the cat; and Chris Lovell, John Skinner, Steve Skinner, Linda Clark, Susan Knight and Susan Fray as Bread, Fire, Sugar, Water, Milk and Light respectively.

These are the elements which come alive and accompany the children on their journey searching for the Blue Bird. The cast also includes Mrs. Daniel Knight, Susan Atkinson, Rev. Harold Fray, Kathy Fray, Allen Biggs, Kim Knight, Derek Knight, Joyce Atkinson, Sylvia Jeanloz and Helen Fray.

Following the presentation of "The Blue Bird" there will be a Hymn Sing which is a regular monthly event under the direction of Ralph L. Angier. The favorite Christmas hymns will be featured. Supper will be served by the John Eliot Fellowship under the direction of Mrs. Joel Leighton.

Newton Man To Conduct Yule Concert In Hub

Boston's illustrious 120-voice Chorus pro Musica will present a Christmas Concert of traditional and contemporary choral music at the Old South Church in Boston, Copley Square, on Sunday, Dec. 19 at 7 p.m. The public is invited without charge.

Alfred Nash Patterson, of Newton Centre, founder of the 16-year-old organization which has gained national recognition, will conduct. He is also organist and director of music at the hostoric church, conductor of choruses for the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and music director of the Worcester Festival.

The soloists are Carolyn Stouffer, Hingham, soprano; Ruth Romberg, Pawtucket, R.I., soprano; Walter Brassert, Cambridge, baritone; Barbara Patterson, Newton Centre, alto; Virginia Johnson, Marlboro, soprano; Janet Kelsey, Newton Centre, soprano; Lawrence Chvany, Watertown, baritone; Betsy Close, Wellesley, mezzo soprano, and Claire Cronin, Arlington, alto.

The group will be assisted by Ildefonso Lauron, flute, and Elizabeth Freas, drum, both of the New England Conservatory of Music. Donald Teeters is associate conductor and accompanist, and Peggy Cooperman, assistant accompanist.

The program, ranging from Palestrina to Bartok, will open with settings of the chorale, "Awake, A Voice is Calling," by Bach, Distler, and George Schumann.

In addition, there will be a motet for two choruses by Gabrieli and Christmas works of Nelson, Freed, Pfautch and Warlock. Familiar carols and The Halleluia Chorus from Handel's "Messiah" will complete the program.

Dog Show Set For Saturday

Saturday, Dec. 18, is the date for the 52nd annual Eastern Dog Club Show in War Memorial Auditorium, Prudential Center.

Nearly 1500 entries are expected for the event, which is rated among the top 10 canine classics in the United States.

An Irish terrier, Ch. Clannegalt Jubilee, owned by Robert Schnitzer of 146 Beacon St., Waban, was winner of the breed at the last show.

The fact is that Ted Kennedy has no present intention whatever of running for Governor or any other office next year. Governor Volpe and the candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination all can rest easy on that point.

It would make political sense for Ted Kennedy to shift from the U. S. Senate to the Massachusetts Governorship next year—if he were going to seek the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1968.

But while Senator Kennedy probably will be a candidate for the Presidency one day, that day is likely to be well in the future.

President Johnson is virtually certain to be a candidate for reelection in 1968 if his health is good, and few politicians are peering as far into the future as 1972.

He is the State's top Democratic leader, and he does not take that responsibility lightly.

Ted saw the Democratic party in Massachusetts torn by strife last year while he was in a hospital bed recovering from a broken back. He hopes to prevent that from happening again.

That's why he held one so-called unity meeting at his home earlier this year and is planning another.

How much harmony and unity Ted actually will be able to promote is a big question since politicians, whether Democratic or Republican, are not disposed to sacrifice their own ambitions or put aside their own objectives for the greater good of their party.

And while Ted Kennedy is striving to carry out his role of Democratic leader, he is not seeking to set himself up as a political boss or dictator.

Of the three candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor, two — former Attorney General Edward J. McCormack and former Presidential Aide Kenneth O'Donnell — have served notice that they will run in next September's primary regardless of the outcome of their bids at next June's Democratic State Convention.

That's one primary clash Ted will be unable to prevent, and it would be a three-way struggle if Senate President Maurice A. Donahue gains the convention endorsement.

A long-range guess at this point is that there will be primary battles next year for the Democratic nominations for Governor, U.S. Senator, Attorney General and Lieutenant Governor.

There will not be much, if anything, Senator Kennedy can do to stop those contests from developing.

Most political observers, in fact, consider Ted Kennedy is undertaking a hopeless task when he schedules a unity meeting to be attended by political enemies and by candidates planning to run against each other.

Under those circumstances there's likely to be more fire and fury than harmony at the meeting.

Dems Believe Brooke Will Move Up or Out

While most Republicans believe that Attorney General Edward W. Brooke will seek reelection next year if there's no opportunity for him to strike out for higher office, a number of Democratic politicians are convinced that Brooke will move either up or out in 1966.

They feel that Brooke will not run again for the post he now holds.

That's why a lively fight is beginning to shape up for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General.

Former Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti and former Governor's Councillor John W. Costello both have intimated that they will set their sights on the Attorney Generalship.

Bellotti and Costello, incidentally, were the Democratic nominees for Governor and Lieutenant Governor respectively in the 1964 election. Now the two former ticket mates loom as potential adversaries at the Democratic State Convention and possibly in the Democratic primary as well.

It's doubtful that either Bellotti or Costello would fight very hard for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General if they thought the nomination were to carry with it the dubious privilege of matching vote-getting strength with Brooke.

Lester Hyman, one of the outstanding figures in ex-Governor Peabody's administration, is the only Democrat who has expressed a willingness to take on Brooke in an election battle.

Hyman has had the Democratic Attorney General field all to himself for months and has lined up substantial convention support.

He's so far out in front that even Bellotti would have a hard time beating him at a convention and might be forced to fight him in the primary in order to get the nomination.

Both the overall Republican picture and Attorney General Brooke's political plans will remain uncertain until after Senator Leverett Saltonstall announces whether he will stand for another term next year.

If Saltonstall decides to retire from office, Brooke definitely would seek the GOP nomination for either U.S. Senator or Governor.

If Saltonstall chooses to run again, Brooke then will be confronted with the hard decision of whether to stand for reelection or retire from public life and accept one of the posts he has been offered.

Like other members of both political parties, Brooke is waiting for Saltonstall to declare what he will do.

If Saltonstall runs again and Brooke decides he doesn't want to be Attorney General for Governor Elliot L. Richardson may move over and become a candidate for Attorney General.

Richardson isn't as interested in being Attorney General as he was when he sought the office in 1962.

But if Brooke steps out, Richardson might seek the office both to strengthen the Republican State ticket and to improve his own future political prospects.

While Richardson has been an unusually active Lieutenant Governor, the position he holds has not been an effective springboard to higher office in the past.

As the Republican nominee for Attorney General, Richardson would be a formidable opponent for any Democratic candidate.

If Saltonstall retires from office and Governor Volpe and Attorney General Brooke become involved in a fight for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate, Richardson would be the GOP candidate for Governor.

As Republican politicos wait for Saltonstall's pronouncement on whether he will or won't, some of them have been trying to assess the respective strength of Saltonstall, Volpe and Brooke as possible candidates for the U.S. Senate in next year's election.

They believe Saltonstall would be a potent contender for reelection even though he will be 74 years old next year and would be 80 at the expiration of the six-year term he would be seeking.

(Polls have been made to appraise Saltonstall's prospects of achieving another term. Such surveys mean little, however, when they are not made during an actual election contest.)

While Volpe and Brooke both would be strong as Senate candidates, neither would be as strong in a Senate race as if he were running for reelection to his present office, in the judgment of most students of politics.

A Christmas Carol

HE lived alone in a cheerless tenement in a dim alley in the heart of the squalid and congested East Side of London. Who he was, from whence he came, what he did, nobody seemed to know. To tell the truth, nobody appeared to care. A stooped, pinched and shabby little figure with an air of timorous shyness and haunting pathos about him, he looked for all the world as if he had just emerged from a drawing by Daumier. When he went out, he was swallowed up immediately in the immensity of the metropolis. When he came back, he retired at once unto himself. He seemingly lived in the desolation of utter loneliness and the hopelessness of abject poverty—a forgotten man submerged in the teeming population of the vast city.

As the Winter set in, he was seen less and less. For several days before Christmas, he was not seen at all. Then some incident with which I am not familiar led the authorities to visit his wretched habitation. They found him dead—dead on the greatest day in the Christian calendar, a victim of acute privation and long neglect. As he had lived by himself, apparently alienated from his fellowmen, so he had died, with no one to smooth his pillow for the last time, or to say a prayer or utter even so much as a friendly word to mitigate the pangs of departure into the great unknown.

When they took out his pathetic remains, consigned no doubt to a potter's grave, the neighbors merely shrugged their shoulders. Another poor devil gone, who was doubtless a sore burden to himself and certainly of no possible good to anybody else. Then they dismissed him from mind. There was, however, one fact that the neighbors did not know.

When the authorities examined his poor and meager effects, they found literally thousands of receipts for postal orders. They covered a period of many years. They were not large in individual amounts but they represented hundreds of English pounds in the aggregate. They all went to charities—charities of all kinds, without discrimination as to race, creed or color of the beneficiaries. Orphanages, hospitals, shelters, homes for the aged, all manner of institutions for the relief of human misery in all its pitiful forms were included in the benefactions. Yes, and among the list animal welfare societies had not been forgotten. The last receipt was for a contribution to the Salvation Army to buy Christmas dinners for the poor.

This man had lived in extreme penury and died in utter destitution that the least of these, his brethren, might be administered unto in their helplessness, want and suffering—that those who were hungry might be given meat, that those who were thirsty might be given drink, that the stranger might be taken in, the naked clothed, and the sick visited. The brief item I read in a London paper some years ago, and upon which this story is based, gave no hint of the personal drama or inner crisis—if such there was—which led to this great renunciation. But surely in some way the transforming power and grace of that love and compassion which Jesus insistently preached and consistently lived and died to vindicate, had quickened the heart and possessed the soul of this man of the London slums, and had become the absorbing passion of his life.

Mistletoe Ball Is Gay Event Due December 18

Transforming the Louis XIV ballroom of the Somerset Hotel into a veritable Christmas scene with red and gold decorations, and a tree resplendent with gifts for the fortunate recipients, the Yule time festivities will be ushered in joyously by the Hellenic Women's Club on Saturday, December 18, with a Mistletoe Ball.

Coming at almost the exact moment of the beginning of their Christmas holidays, many college students will close their books happily just in time to attend this now traditional event over a quarter of a century old. Among the young people attending are several whose mothers are busy members of the committee, and their attendance at this affair will complete happy family groups.

Injecting an international note is Mrs. Charles Maliotis of Belmont, in charge of arrangements, who is donating an exquisite gold hand wrought bird which she brought back from her recent trip to the Orient.

Hockey Loop Opener Sees Tigers Win

Newton High School's hockey team, which opened its GBI League competition by defeating Brookline 3-1 last Saturday, will be favored to chalk up its second triumph of the young season when it meets Somerville at the Boston Arena Saturday afternoon, with the faceoff scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

On the basis of their development and improvement thus far, Coach Sarge Kinlin's pupils should be able to make a real bid for the GBI League championship this coming winter.

The young and inexperienced members of the Tiger squad, who are beginning to find themselves, should get better as season progresses.

Steve Toomey, Bob Cotter and Gary DiRusso scored the three Newton goals against Brookline in the opening GBI League game.

Toomey and Cotter have older brothers who starred on the ice for Newton in recent years.

Dick and Bob Toomey played for the Tigers for the past three winters, and Billy Cotter was the top GBI League scorer four seasons ago.

Newton and Brookline played to a 1-1 tie for the first two periods last Saturday.

Steve Toomey tallied the first goal after a little less than eight minutes of play in the second period, and four minutes later Joe Brady of Brookline deadlocked the count.

Newton's senior defenseman Gary DiRusso put the Tigers into a 2-1 lead with a spectacular goal midway through the third period.

He turned back 18 Brookline shots and stymied the Wealthy Towners as they turned on the pressure in the final period.

NEWTON 3, BROOKLINE 1

BROOKLINE — G. Steverman; ld. Delaney; rd, Murphy; c. Brady; lw, Morrison; rw, Heavey. Spares—Tynan, Hunter, B. Steverman.

Brookline	0	1	0—1

Family Christmas Services Sunday At First Unitarian

"The Hope for Joy, Light and Peace" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. Leslie T. Pennington at the Family Christmas service of the First Unitarian Church in Newton on Sunday, Dec. 19, at 10:45 a. m.

Preceding the service, the Adult Choir, directed by Mrs. Roberta Humez will be joined by the Youth and Junior Choirs under the direction of Gary Feurer, presenting special music from the balcony.

At 3:30 p. m., there will be a concert of Christmas music by the Adult Choir and a program by the students of the Church School. The Adult Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Roberta Humez, will sing The Christmas Story, an early seventeenth century piece by Heinrich Schutz, with soloists and organ, and Christmas Cantata, by the contemporary composer, Daniel Pinkham, with brass accompaniment.

Following the concert, the students of the Church School will offer their Christmas program, entitled "Our Gift to You," arranged by Mrs. Dutton Van Alstine and Mrs. Arthur Laughland, Religious Education Director.

Each group offers its presentation as a gift to the congregation. The third graders will start the program, clad in saris, carrying depas, Hindu pottery lamps which they themselves have made, demonstrating the Diwali Festival, the Hindu Festival of Lights. The children will sing a song written by Mahatmi Ghandi, led by their teacher, Mrs. Thomas Morris.

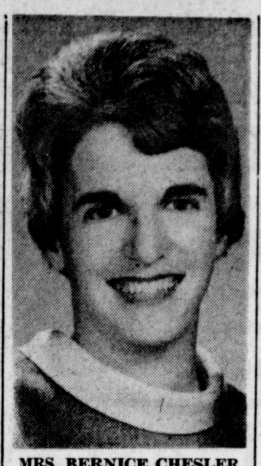

Mrs. Nevi Scrimshaw, who has spent several years in Guatemala, is conducting a study of that country with the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth graders. This group will present a colorfully costumed Posado Festival or Search for Lodging. Authentic Posada music has been provided by Music Coach, Gary Feurer. These young people will also have on display in the Parish Hall, a large diarama, a scene of Guatemala, called The Naciemento, which they have made under Parker Lord, their Art Director.

Drama coach, John Adams, has dramatized Dylan Thomas' poem, "A Child's Christmas in Wales" and will direct members of the Junior Division in its presentation. The Youth Choir will sing The Wassail Song.

Our Gift to You from the youngest children in the school will be traditional Christmas Songs, taught them by Primary Choir Director, Mrs. Elizabeth Sweetser.

At the conclusion of the program, the children will hang mittens on a "Mitten Tree" which will be sent to the Multu-Service Centre in Roxbury.

It is hoped that many friends in the community will attend as well as the members of the Church. The address is 1326 Washington St., West Newton.

MRS. BERNICE CHESLER

Newton Mother Author Of New Kiddies Book

How to have a thoroughly enjoyable time in Boston, complete with the kiddies, has been made easier and more bearable by a Newton Highlands woman, Mrs. Bernice Chesler.

Mrs. Chesler is the author of the first comprehensive children's guide to Boston and vicinity. Entitled "In and Out of Boston with Children" (Barre Publishers) it will be on the news stands in February.

The outgrowth of a mother's frustrations in learning where and when for what age groups as well as hours and expenses involved, the book will contain anything and everything a child or parent might want to know about all the fun and interesting things to do and see in Boston and within easy day trips from the city.

A native of New Bedford, and now mother of three children, Mrs. Chesler attended Syracuse University, graduated from Northeastern University and was formerly with the public relations department of Boston's educational radio and TV station — WGBH.

Information about zoos, museums, historic sites, children's theatres and concerts, stores, tours, sports, parks, beaches, restaurants, party suggestions, calendar of events will all be in this 128 page guide and no detail of convenience and cost has been omitted. It will also include map and Index.

No Opposition To Dorm And Duplex Quests

There was no opposition to two petitions given a joint hearing Monday night by the Planning Board and the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

One was a proposal for a dormitory for women graduate students at Andover Newton Theological School. The other sought permission to create a duplex house in a single-family zone.

Atty. Oliver Waite of 174 Mt. Vernon St., Newtonville, representing the theological school, said that the dormitory would house 30 students at 210 Herrick Rd., Newton Centre, in 30 single rooms on the upper floor, and would have a faculty suite and student lounge at the lower level. He said a wooden structure now used as a dormitory would be vacated.

Francis Farrintgon sought permission for an addition to his two-family home at 24 Adams Ave., West Newton. He said two existing rooms at the rear would be removed, and the new rooms would convert the house to a duplex.

Mr. Farrington said the zone was changed from two-family to single zone after his purchase of the house.

Decision on the applications was reserved.

Organizations Join Community Council In City

Two organizations in Newton were voted into membership by the Newton Community Council, Inc. at the Fall Delegate Meeting held last week at the Bishop MacKenzie Center in Newton Centre.

The Community Parents Organization of Newton represented by President Matthew Jefferson was initially organized a number of years ago to provide better recreational facilities for the children of the community. Last year a scholarship of $200 was presented through the South Middlesex Branch of the NAACP. This year the scholarship was raised to $500.

The second group is The Newton Citizens for Dental Health represented by Mrs. Stewart R. Smith, president. This group organized initially to promote fluoridation of Newton's water supply has broadened its focus to include dental health education and welfare, public health projects and research designed to make use of volunteer services.

Police Get Ice Balls

A box of the colored ice balls the State Health officials have labelled as dangerous, was turned over this week to Lt. Albert Yanco at police headquarters. He, in turn, put them in the hands of Charles W. Hopkinson, Newton sanitary inspector.

The public has been advised not to use the balls, which are said to contain a liquid dangerous to health if swallowed.

Rosary Academy Christmas Party Is Held Tonight

Tonight, Thursday evening, December 16th at 8 o'clock the Mothers Guild of Rosary Academy, Watertown, will hold its annual Christmas Party in honor of the Dominican Sisters who staff the school.

A portion of the evening will also be set aside for conducting a "silent penny sale". The items on sale will be Christmas gifts, etc., which were not sold at the Bazaar earlier this month.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Santa Claus is expected to drop by and refreshments will be served by members of the Guild.

Metropolitan College Names Joseph Selame

Joseph Selame, corporate design consultant and president of Selame Associates, Newton, has been appointed to represent the Graphic Arts Institute of New England on the Academic Board of the newly established Metropolitan College.

He will continue to lecture at Boston University and to serve as chairman of the Committee on Industry Development and Education for the Institute.

Report

School of Medicine as a salient 1965 milestone.

"So far as I know, we are one of the first community hospital centers to complete a formal affiliation with a medical school, certainly in recent years. The move integrates this hospital and a university teaching center, interlacing medical services and educational experiences that otherwise could not be. It permits us to structure our development with sound planning.

"Our communities will share continuously from the progress enriching Medicine."

He called the opening of a medical building on hospital grounds another milestone. Dedicated on Jan. 10 and verging on complete occupancy now, the building conserves physician time, gathers medical specialties at one place for maximum patient service, and is a valuable community resource.

Mr. Brines lauded physicians who served on a special medical staff committee, organized to review the functions of the staff and to plan for the future. Because of the committee, full-time chiefs of health services were appointed during the year, supplanting voluntary chiefs who had served previously. The action, Mr. Brines explained, forecasts stronger achievement in post-graduate medical education and in patient care.

He discussed the hospital's $3.5 million Crisis Drive, to finance a 100-bed addition plus new major diagnostic and treatment facilities, and continued work by board committees to prepare the hospital for enlargement.

"Called into temporary suspension during the United Fund, the drive needs $700,000 to reach the goal. Traditional year-end letters are in the mail now and we are hopeful they will stimulate additional help. We are grateful for the support citizens have furnished, we are working to get the facilities under construction within the year, and we look and pray for success," he said.

He noted the loss of two outstanding men during the year.

"The contribution of the late George L. White to the hospital and to his community never will be out of sight and mind," Mr. Brines said. Mr. White was president of the hospital from 1962 until his death in September.

"For 20 years until his resignation recently, our Chief Pathologist, Dr. David Skinner of West Newton, provided capable leadership. His move into a field of special interest, Bacteriology, requires us to fill a position that has had an enviable record," Mr. Brines said.

Calling the hospital a place where people rightly expect and demand performance, he commended the medical staff, trustees, volunteers and personnel for performing well.

"Medicine is going places," he emphasized. "Our hospital remains in the vanguard, where it belongs, and where our communities want it. With the kind of people we have to chart the course, I have every confidence we will continue our forward progress."

Young People Cast In Yule Play Sunday

A play, "The Story of Artaban, the Other Wise Man," by Clive Robbins, with music by Paul Nordoff, will be the Christmas presentation of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

Directed by the Rev. Judith E. Hjorth, assistant minister, it will be given Sunday afternoon, Dec. 19, in the parish hall, at 4:30 o'clock.

The cast will comprise young people of the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship, with John Lorin in the leading role of Artaban.

Featured will be Mrs. Gordon R. Miller, soprano; Charles A. "Tommy" Thompson, drums and cymbal, and Arthur Flagler Fultz, piano. Children of the church school will bring white gifts to the play so that they may be given to St. Mark Social Center in Roxbury.

The play will be only one of the church's Christmas events. There will be a candle lighting service with carols for the entire family on Christmas Eve at 7:30 o'clock in the sanctuary. College students and young business people have been invited to join the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship and the Youth Choir in leading the congregation in carols.

On Christmas morning at 10:45 o'clock, the service will be conducted by the Rev. Paul G. Pitman, minister, assisted by the Rev. Judith E. Hjorth, and with Edward H. Hastings, the organist and choirmaster.

"Hustle, Holly and Holiness," is the title of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Pitman.

Six Potential Scientists At Museum Affair

Six residents of Newton were among 350 superior high school students in science that were selected to attend a Science Frontiers lecture, held last Friday at Boston's Museum of Science.

Chosen by their science teachers and supervisors, they were:

Janet Foley, 24 Paul St., Newton Centre. Sacred Heart High: Jorge A. Chavier, 170 Summer St., Newton Upper Falls, Chauncey Hall; Richard Michael Berger, 5 Sharpe Rd., Newton Centre, Roxbury Latin; Mary Margaret Galvagno, 53 Falmouth Rd., West Newton, St. Bernard High; John Coffidis, 173 Craft St., Newtonville, Our Lady's High, and Melania Zibit, 517 Commonwealth Ave., Newton Centre, Brimmer and May School.

United Fund To Make Big Final Drive

A final and concerted effort is being made here to send the 1965 United Fund campaign in Newton over the top.

According to a report issued this week, only a small percentage is lacking to assure the complete success of the city-wide fund-raising drive.

Taking part in the unveiling of the "Money Tree" were: Henry B. Shepard, Jr., special gifts chairman; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Hill, joint chairmen, all of Waban.

"The "Tree" symbolized a brighter 1966 for needy people who are assisted through gifts made to the Newton United Fund.

It was announced that residents of Newton who have not had an opportunity to give to the local campaign, may still make their donations, either by mail or in person, at the Newton United Fund, 12 Page road, Newtonville.

Court

Bert F. Richards against Marriot Motor Hotel of Newton, Building Commissioner Vincent D. Burns and the Board of Aldermen, seeking to set aside the change of zone to Business AA of some 10 acres of the park and to enjoin the commissioner from issuing a permit for construction.

The judge's ruling was as follows:

A. That the joint hearing held by the Board of Aldermen and the Planning Board on Aug. 12, 1963, met the requirements of the statute.

B. That rezoning of the locus to Business "AA" and granting permission to construct a motel thereon will conserve the value of the land and buildings in the vicinity as intended by General Laws Chapter 40A Section 3.

C. That the locus is substantially different in character for zoning purposes from other land in the vicinity differently zoned and as such does not conflict with the restrictions in General Laws Chapter 40, Section 2.

D. That the rezoning as aforesaid will increase the amenities of the city of Newton and will promote the convenience and welfare of the city's inhabitants.

E. That any extensions under the grant of the special permit by the Board of Aldermen for the construction of a motel upon the locus are deemed to be permitted within the intent of the ordinances of the city of Newton.

F. The permission to extend the height of the motel from 40 to 58 feet is not valid but must be made the subject of proceedings for a variance by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

C. That the building commissioner may grant a permit for the building not to exceed 40 feet unless a variance is obtained or the zoning laws are amended.

The petitioners in the case were represented by Michaels and Adler of Boston. Gael Mahoney of Boston was with Matt B. Jones in representing the respondents.

Local Figures Attend Seminar On Education

Metropolitan cooperation between cities and suburbs as an approach to problems of education in the inner city were discussed by community leaders and educators last Saturday at a conference in Harvard Business School.

The occasion was a seminar, "The Broader Context: Metropolitan Planning for Education," sponsored by Pi Lamda Theta, education honorary society.

Participating were the following Newton residents:

Mrs. Vivian Burtman, Newton public schools; Mrs. Hope Danielson, Hamilton School principal; Hart Fessenden, Fessenden School headmaster; Dr. James Lauritz, assistant superintendent for personnel in the Newton school system, and Mrs. Mary Berger, Massachusetts Freedom Movement.

David Greenblatt, son of Dr. and Mrs. Milton Greenblatt of Newton Highlands, was awarded his third varsity "A" in football at Amherst College. He was guard and co-captain on this year's team that had a 7-1 record. Jeremiah Putnam Mead, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Mead, 56 Pine Ridge Rd., Waban, a sophomore, was awarded his first varsity letter in cross country.

Temple Reyim Family Service A Tradition

Members of Temple Reyim will participate in a family Sabbath service Saturday morning, Dec. 18.

These services are held on one Saturday each month. Parents and children attend together, then partake of a Kiddush luncheon.

During the service, Rabbi Philip Kieval discusses the Torah lesson, making explanations and calling attention to pertinent points of interest.

The service, unique in this area, was introduced at Temple Reyim several years ago by Rabbi Kieval, and has become a tradition. The luncheon is prepared by the women of the Sisterhood and is co-sponsored by the Temple's Sisterhood and Brotherhood.

Bears May Now Be Able To Stay In Win Column

When Newton Junior College Bears play their first basketball game of the new year Teusday evening, January 4, the local hoopsters hope to add another to the list of victories that started with their fifth game of the season.

The boys were late getting into the winners' column in league play, but that was expected, because the Bears opened the season last month under a handicap. Their new coach, Dick Rollins, was faced with a re-building year with only three lettermen returning to action.

But by the time the Dec. 3 game with Calvin Coolidge College arrived, the new coach was able to field a winning combination. The game ended in an impressive 82-72 win for the Bears.

The Jan. 4 contest will be played in Newton's High's gym against New Hampshire College.

Memorial School Girl Scouts See TV Studio

Girl Scout troop No. 597 of Memorial School, of Newton spent an evening at WGBH-Channel 2, in Cambridge recently. Their leaders Mrs. S. Blackner, Mrs. W. Gershlak and Mrs. M. Kopelman were assisted with the transportation by Mrs. C. Goldberg and Mrs. W. Kaufman. The girls attended a live Jazz show at the studio and were given a tour of the television and radio building.

Their guide was a volunteer who answered the questions of the curious youngsters and filled their minds with much information.

Many of the settings were familiar to the girl scouts from previous television programs that they viewed at home or in school.

They presented the studio with a donation in appreciation for a most informative evening and hoped they might help to further the work of this educational station.

"Is Universe Atom Evolved" Science Topic

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" This is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be presented in Christian Science churches this Sunday.

A major theme will be the ultimate supremacy of the spiritual laws through which God's will and government of the universe is expressed. The Golden Text is from I Chronicles (16:31): "Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice: and let men say among the nations, The Lord reigneth."

In addition to selected passages from the Bible on this topic, there will be readings from the Christian Science textbook. Among them will be these lines: "Suns and planets teach grand lessons. The stars make night beautiful, and the leaflet turns naturally towards the light. In the order of Science, in which the Principle is above what it reflects, all is one grand concord" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 210.

The whole team saw action as goalie Paul Buckley had little trouble pushing away Revere's shots. Outstanding on defense were Kevin Hampe and Bobby McCann.

More Than A Birthday

Christmas is much more than commemorating the Birth of Jesus.

It is the time for us to be inspired by the same perfect love, his coming brought to the world. And to express this love to our fellow man is the greatest gift we can give . . . all the year long. If you are looking for a deeper meaning to Christmas, you are invited to listen to these programs.

He declared that he would vigorously resist any efforts to take these rights away from the city.

An anticipated development over the toll road in Newton Corner would be affected if the Turnpike Authority bill were enacted into law.

A development costing between $12 and $15 million has been envisioned in that area and has been discussed by city officials and members of the Turnpike Authority for more than two years.

Tentative plans call for it to include a complex of apartment houses and department stores, a motel and a group of small stores built over the toll road.

The $400,000 Star Market already has been built over the toll road in Newton and yields about $28,770 a year in taxes for the city.

Mayor-elect Basbas said he was particularly disturbed because he has been conferring with Turnpike Authority Chairman John T. Driscoll since November of last year and met with Driscoll as recently as two weeks ago.

Basbas voiced the belief that Driscoll's bill was not aimed at Newton but added that the measure nevertheless, would affect Newton and the rights of the city government.

Under the plan advanced by Driscoll, which both Gibbs and Basbas termed unacceptable, the State would collect the taxes on buildings constructed over the toll road, and would return the money to the local sommunities.

The tax bill would either be 20 per cent of the building's revenue or would be based on the valuation placed on the building by the State, whichever was the smaller amount, if Driscoll's bill is approved which now is considered unlikely.

Funds

Washington through the State Department of Education in order that Newton can make formal application for federal funds made possible by the new law.

This job, he said, involves filling out governmental forms with information they must seek in school records that go back several years. The application must be in Washington by next March, and they cover federal funds only up to August of next year.

Dr. Brown expressed fear that the funding might not extend beyond next August should the Viet Nam situation not improve.

The subject matter under two of the titles in the Act have been the concern of Everett and Welch, Dr. Brown explained, namely Title I and Title 2. Title I, he went on, offers funds to school districts for special programs designed to meet the needs of educationally deprived children in attendance areas with high concentrations of low income families.

The following is how the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Office of Education describes Title I—a program for "Better Schooling for Educationally Deprived Children":

"Grants may be made to local educational agencies from State allocations for a wide variety of programs, which could include supplementary and remedial instruction, guidance and counselling services needed to overcome learning handicaps. Equipment may be acquired and school facilities constructed when necessary to carry out approved programs."

Welch pointed to areas on a map of the city which, it had been determined, were the ones that most nearly fit the low-income areas mentioned in the Act. He told the members that 80 percent of the people of these areas had an income of $2000 or less and were drawing Aid to Families with Dependent Children. To provide them with the benefits made possible by the Act, he said, he and Dr. Everett proposed to establish two centers at the outset, one in the Lincoln-Eliot School, and the other in the Emerson School.

Said Welch: "We would like to have these centers open during the day and into the evening hours with special people such as librarians, psychologists and vocational counsellors in attendance." He expressed assurance that a program could be set up to cover the summer vacation period.

Dr. Everett declared that as much as $140,000 might be made available to Newton for the Title I phase of the program.

Dr. Brown explained that children in private and parochial schools could participate in the approved programs.

"Projects to be carried out under this program will be determined by the imagination and discretion of local school leaders, and will be as varied as the special educational needs of each community," according to the Washington officials.

"A creative approach in designing project activities using all available community resources is encouraged. Projects may be undertaken by a singe local school system or a group of eligible systems."

Going on to state that the task is a cooperative one, Washington says, "Project proposals are subject to approval by the State educational agency, under guidelines established by the U.S. Commissioner of Education. In considering an application for a grant, the State agency will weigh such factors as the scope and quality of the project and its promise of success in meeting the special needs of educationally deprived children."

The Washington authorities say that the local educational agency is expected to:

"Adopt appropriate procedures to test and evaluate the effectiveness of its program at least annually.

"Adopt effective procedures for disseminating information about improved educational practices to teachers and administrators.

"Coordinate its program with any community action program operating under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964."

Dr. Brown referred briefly to Title 2, saying that it was for the support of libraries, and that as yet no proposal had been submitted. Title 3, he said, has to do with the arts, music and guidance, and added that "we are particularly interested in the arts, and are talking with four distinguished institutions about possible cooperation with us. Title 3 is a very enriching program that provides things to schools they otherwise can't get."

Brown said that he preferred at this time not to name them, but that the four institutions he has approached are a "very distinguished museum of fine arts, a very distinguished dance group, a very distinguished musical organization and a very distinguished theater group."

Title 4, Dr. Brown said, has to do with the establishment of language laboratories across the country—"a national network of laboratories for research funded by the federal government."

Saying that "we are involved in this title with Boston University, Tufts, Harvard, Northeastern, Station WGBS and the State Department of Education," he declared that "we are reasonably confident we will be involved in a New England regional laboratory."

Newton Man Is President Of Two-Ten Assoc.

The election took place at the 26th annual dinner meeting of the association held on December 8th in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Sheraton-Boston, Prudential Center, Boston.

One Skid, One Fall, Several Car Crashes In Week's Toll

It happened in Waltham, but a Newton man was the victim of the year's first accumulation of snow. Gordon Megrian of 18 Ripley St., Newton Centre, sustained a broken nose when his car skidded and struck a fire hydrant in the Watch city Sunday.

The only reported accident of the week without automotive involvement happened to John J. Dolan, 57, of Brighton, fell from the back porch of the home of Leo Freedman, 17 Sunset road, Newton, where he was repairing a spotlight. Both ankles were fractured, and police transported him to Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

During the weekend there were seven automobile accidents, and in one of them a grandson of Franklin D. Roosevelt was involved. James P. Roosevelt, a student at Harvard, escaped injuries Saturday evening, when his car in collision with one whose operator was Thomas H. Moody of 128 Jewett street, Newton, at Centre and Pearl streets. Moody reported a neck injury.

Four-year-old Cheryl A. Murray of Allston was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital by police after her sled was struck by a car Sunday evening near 41 Carlton street, Newton. The driver was Ellis Burgess, 47 Carlton street.

Mrs. Joanna Widger, 1304 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, sustained a back injury when her car was struck in the rear by one whose operator was a Framingham man. The place was the West-bound lane of Route 9 at Woodcliff street, Newton Highlands.

A two-car crash early Saturday evening on the turnpike at Elliot street, Newton Highlands, brought injuries to two. Joseph B. Mathis, 573 Dudley road, Oak Hill, was treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital for a head injury. Barbara Cooper, 20 Hillside avenue, West Newton, a passenger, sustained a knee injury. The driver of the other car was a Dorchester man.

A skid on a curve of Auburn street, West Newton, injured two persons. The car of Kenneth Ridgeway, 8 Beach street, Newtonville, struck a tree. His passenger, John Barisano, 53 Court street, Newtonville, was held for treatment at the hospital, as was the driver.

A Beverly and a West Roxbury woman were injured in separate accidents. The car of the former hit a light pole at the entrance to the Route 128 Howard Johnson restaurant in Auburndale. The latter was hurt when struck by a Weston woman's car on Hammond street, near Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill.

Goal

Alderman Carmen, who was a candidate for Mayor in last month's municipal election, goes out of office on New Year's Day, as do several other Aldermen who did not seek reelection.

One measure presented by Carmen last summer calls for a change in the city charter to provide for special elections when vacancies occur on the Board of Aldermen.

If Carmen's proposals were approved, the Aldermen would petition the State Legislature for a change in the charter.

Many groups, including the League of Women Voters, have advocated such a change in the charter. They have sharply criticized the present system under which the Aldermen themselves usually fill vacancies which occur on their own board, carrying on what has been termed a self-perpetuating process.

Carmen also has asked that the power of the Newton Housing Authority be broadened and that the present restriction which allows it to build developments only for the elderly be removed so that it would construct developments for other persons in the low-income brackets.

The Ward 7 Alderman has requested that a committee be appointed to make a study as to the need for other public housing and determine the merit of his proposal.

Creation of a Conservation Commission also was sought by Carmen in another resolution. The purpose of setting up such a commission would be to acquire land for parks and to preserve open space, which, he points out, is rapidly disappearing in the city.

Under the 1965 Federal Housing Act, Carmen asserted, the national government would pay 50 per cent of the cost of acquiring such lands.

A resolution urging the establishment of a Historic Commission for the preservation and designation of historic, residential and industrial buildings and sites in Newton, was another measure introduced by Carmen which has not been acted upon. He said the sites and buildings to which he refers are gradually vanishing.

"In the event that the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee finds it impossible to report on these matters next Monday night, I trust that the incoming Board of Aldermen will in its wisdom look favorably on these recommendations during the New Year and ultimately will seek the enactment of legislation to provide for their implementation," Aldermen Carmen declared.

Newton Chairman Plans March of Dimes Dinner

Rubin Epstein, of Newton, co-chairman for the 1966 March of Dimes Dinner, announced today that the event will be held on Jan. 20 at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Epstein and Middlesex County Sheriff Howard Fitzpatrick, also a co-chairman, are heading the committee planning the $100-a-Plate event.

Proceeds for this 22nd annual dinner will go to aid children stricken with the nation's second largest killer—birth defects.

"For 22 years this event has helped the March of Dimes to provide funds for research, aid, and education in the areas of these terrible afflictions that are visited upon our children," Mr. Epstein said.

Serving on the committee are: Mrs. Joseph A. Tomasello, Arthur Rabinovitz, Harry Sher, and Edward C. Donnelly, Jr., all of Boston; Joseph Pacella and Frank DeFalco, both of Dedham; William Coleman and Benjamin T. Kaplan, both of Newton; Mrs. Paul Fryer of Dover; Joseph Cortes of Bellingham; Peter Gamage of Lynn; John V. Harvey of Belmont; Raymond G. Paten of Brookline; Edmund M. Wheelwright of Medfield; James P. Winchester of Needham; and Milton J. Zabarsky of Cambridge.

Lasell Jr. College Dorm Story Told Auburndale Neighbors

Inside there is the following report:

Last winter, Lasell Junior College applied to the City of Newton for permission to build new dormitories on nine acres of college-owned property in Auburndale.

The request spurred immediate opposition in the neighborhood. About 200 families signed a counter petition urging Newton Aldermen to deny Lasell's request. Their opposition was effective. Lasell's first petition was denied, and a second later withdrawn by the College in April when it was evident neighborhood objections continued.

Yet last month Lasell got its permission to build. The Woodland Neighborhood Association which had previously led the fight against the dormitories not only did not object, but actually gave the project its blessing. What happened during the intervening six months—the step-by-step cooperation on both sides in identifying differences and finding solutions, the mutual willingness to consider this a problem to be solved rather than a fight to be won, the long series of meetings both large and small between neighborhood spokesmen on the one hand, and College Trustees, administration and architects on the other, all form a case study in town-gown relations.

Herewith is Lasell's report on the way specific aspects of the problem are being resolved:

1. Residents had objected to the proposed placement of the dormitories on the lot, to what they considered inadequate parking space, and other features. As a result, the plans have been re-drawn and objections hammered out in repeated discussions. The artist's conception on the cover is a progress sketch indicating the character of the building.

2. Neighbors had pointed out that complications might arise if Newton Aldermen adopted a new dormitory building code which was then (and still is) being considered. Solution: dormitory plans now conform to the proposed code; even if passed at some future date, it would pose no problems.

3. There was fear the new dormitories would aggravate traffic conditions along Woodland Road—already a problem thoroughfare. Traffic is, of course, the responsibility of the City of Newton; neither College nor residents alone can provide complete solutions. At the request of its neighbors, however, Lasell agreed to hire a Newton police officer to regulate Woodland Road traffic at various times during peak hours. This officer has been on duty from time to time since early October.

4. Another objection did not relate directly to the dormitories but contributed to neighborhood attitudes toward Lasell in general. This involved the Esker, a seven-acre tract being converted into playing fields. The conversion process has been long and slow, and the resulting dust, noise and inconvenience from heavy trucks and power shovels have been a considerable annoyance to residents of the area.

This problem also seems headed for solution. The basic grading has been completed, and Lasell has pledged itself to complete the landscaping of the area as quickly as possible. Estimated cost to complete the conversion and landscaping is $50,000, and Lasell will conduct special fund campaigns among its alumnae, parents and friends to make this sum available this year.

That is where the situation stands today. It would be too much to hope that every criticism has been met, or every future objection prevented. Meanwhile, Lasell is happy to echo the sentiment expressed in one letter from the Woodland Neighborhood Association to the Board of Trustees.

"We are all anxious to improve a sympathetic, constructive relationship between the College and the residents. Such a relationship can be established and maintained compatible with short and long-term growth and will result in a College of which we as residents and you as Trustees can be proud."

Sidney Hill Breakfast To Honor Business Men

Three men — with the vigor of those men many years their junior — Herman Gilman of 80 Otis St., West Newton; Milton Kahn and Reuben B. Gryznish, both of Brookline, will be feted next Sunday.

The three, with impressive records of service to their community, will be honored by the Business Men's Council of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston at the 36th Annual Breakast on Sunday morning, December 19th, at the Sidney Hill Country Club.

In making the announcement, Harold Sherman Goldberg, BMC president, said, "BMC wants to pay tribute and say a hearty thank you to the veteran trio of Gilman, Gryzmish, and Kahn for their inspiring efforts and devotion in behalf of the Jewish community throughout the years."

Active in the community for over 50 years, Reuben Gryzmish today is a widely known businessman and philanthropist. He is a founder and past president of the Associated Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston and was a founder and past campaign chairman of the Combined Jewish Appeal.

He served as a trustee of the nationally renowned Beth Israel Hospital, a major CJP agency; as a member of the national cabinet of the United Jewish Appeal; and is a director of the Joint Distribution Committee. During World War II, he was associate director for the United States Treasury war bond organization in Massachusetts, and also served as chairman of the Boston area.

Also a tireless worker for humanitarian causes for three decades, Herman Gilman served as president of the Combined Jewish Appeal in 1948-1950, and was a national chairman of the United Jewish Appeal.

Prior to these positions, he involved himself with almost every phase of campaigning, including positions as chairman of the Women's Wear Team, chairman of the Business Men's Council in 1943, campaign vice chairman, and general campaign charmain of the Combined Jewish Appeal in 1946 and 1947.

He is an honorary trustee of the Beth Israel Hospital, and has been a trustee of the CJP, and a board member of Temple Ohabei Shalom, the United Service for New Americans, and the Jewish Memorial Hospital, a CJP agency.

Mr. Kahn, active for over four decades, served as president of the Associated Jewish Philanthropies from 1947 to 1950. Mr. Kahn was a member of the Massachusetts executive committee of the U.S.O. from 1945 to 1947, served as national chairman of Brandeis University Associates, and has held the post of president of the New England Region of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds.

He was a director of Children's Hospital and served as National Chairman of the Speaker's Bureau. He is a member of the national cabinet of the United Jewish Appeal and he is an honorary life trustee at the Beth Israel Hospital.

The Business Men's Council, some 2,500 strong, represents the leaders and workers from the Campaign division of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies.

Creation of School At Brandes Announced On Birthday Of Donor

The Philip W. Lown School of Near Eastern and Judaic and programs in Near Eastern and Judaic studies, whose creation at Brandeis University was announced last Sunday, was made possible by an undisclosed major gift from Philip W. Lown of West Newton, nationally-known industralist and philanthropist.

It will enable Brandeis to incorporate several separate existing departments, institutes and programs in Near Eastern and Judaic studies and research programs in these areas.

The creation of the school, coupled with the recent decision of the autonomous American Jewish Historical Society to relocate its headquarters on the Brandeis campus, will, according to Brandeis President Abram L. Sachar, "establish Brandeis as a leading center of Hebraic and Judaic learning in the United States."

Dr. Sachar, who served as toastmaster at the birthday party, said that "the Board of Trustees of the University had gratefully accepted Mr. Lown's generous action in creating the new school.

"Mr. Lown's munificence crowns several earlier major benefactions at Brandeis, including a professorial chair, research programs and a scholarship fund," Dr. Sachar said.

"In gratitude for his foresight and dedication to education," Dr. Sachar continued, "the new school will be named in perpetuity as the Philip W. Lown School of Near Eastern and Judaic Studies."

Commenting on the new school, Mr. Lown said that "for more than a quarter of a century, I have taken a keen interest in and have worked for the advancement of Jewish education and culture on all levels.

"I am, therefore, most delighted and privileged to be able to contribute to the intensification and expansion of the Near Eastern and Judaic departments at Brandeis," Mr. Lown said.

The new school will embody the three major programs in Judaic Studies created through previous gifts from Mr. Lown as well as the broad curricula at the undergraduate and graduate levels in Near Eastern and Judaic study areas already in effect at Brandeis.

Mr. Lown, a vice-chairman of the Fellows of Brandeis University and a member of the executive board of the Fellows, is honorary president of the American Association for Jewish Education. He also is the president of Hebrew Teachers College in Brookline, Mass.

He is vice-president of American Friends of the Hebrew University; treasurer of the National Hillel Foundation and member of the National Hillel Commission; an honorary trustee of Boston University's Hillel House; and honorary president of Camp Lown Association, a non-profit educational summer camp for children in Oakland, Maine.

He is also a cabinet member of the United Jewish Appeal and vice-president of Combined Jewish Philanthropies; also a co-founder of State of Maine Israel Bonds and chairman of Maine Israel Bonds and the United Jewish Appeal in Maine.

A former member of the Jerusalem Economics Commission, Mr. Lown is a trustee of Beth Israel Hospital and a vice-president of Israel Investor's Corporation.

A University of Maine graduate with a degree in chemical engineering, Mr. Lown was awarded an honorary doctor of laws by his alma mater in 1954. He served during World War I in the Research Department of the Chemical Warfare Division and after his discharge from the service operated a chemical factory before entering the shoe manufacturing field.

A former president of the Maine Jewish Council, and the YMCA and Community Chest, both in Lewiston-Auburn Me., Mr. Lown received an award from the Lewiston Order of Elks for being one of the community's outstanding citizens.

Social Security Retirement News

More and more persons in this area are applying for social security retirement benefits as soon as they reach 65, even though they still work regularly, John G. Bynoe, social security district manager in Norwood, reported today.

"We are pleased that so many are heeding our advice to apply at 65. Others who are eligible, but have not applied, should take a close look at the experiences of these recent applicants," Mr. Bynoe continued.

Some were surprised to find that their earnings permitted them to receive some benefits this year.

Others, as they expected, are earning too much to receive any benefits this year. Even so, Mr. Bynoe added, they know how much their payments will be when they do retire. Now, all they need to do is notify the social security district office when they stop working to get their benefits started.

Several applicants thought they might lose credit for future earnings if they applied before they had quit work. They were assured there are no disadvantages in applying at 65. The benefit rate, established when the application is filed, will be refigured automatically after each year in which earnings are reported that would increase it.

"Any insured worker now 65 or over should apply without delay. Even if he gets no monthly payments at this time, he will insure he has the full protection available under the new Medicare, or health insurance program, which is effective next July."

An eligible worker who applies will find that a single application will establish his eligibility for a monthly retirement benefit, hospital insurance and voluntary medical insurancec, if he so decides to sign up.

The medical insurance enrollment period for those reaching 65 before 1966, ends March 31, 1966. Only people who apply before April will be eligible for all Medicare benefits when the program first goes into effect next July, Mr. Bynoe concluded.

Just come in, telephone, or write the Norwood Social Security District Office at 17 Cottage St., East, if you would like more information. The telephone number is 762-6838.

Druker's intemperate remarks clearly indicate the fact that he is not familiar with our position on taxes.

"We have both supported a program which would have raised in the vicinity of $200 million; this program would have drawn most of its income from income taxes. We feel that this is the most equitable approach to the problem of more income for the Commonwealth.

"Mr. Druker seems to have fallen sway to the many-sided press releases cranked out by Governor Volpe's office. His first consideration is the improving of educational facilities and the need to implement the Willis Report. If Mr. Druker were familiar with educational costs, he would know that the first year cost for the Willis Report recommendations is $750,000, and not $100 million.

True, in years ahead there will be additonal sums required, and we feel quite confident that the Legislature will raise and distribute such funds as needed.

"Our position has been consistent in that we have supported a tax program based on a person's ability to earn, rather than his ability to spend. Governor Volpe's sales tax program has many weaknesses and inequities, which are the basis for our opposition.

"It would require at least 200 new employees to collect it. There would be leakage of taxes paid by the people which would never reach the Treasury of the Commonwealth.

"The growth factor of the sales tax is poor compared to the growth factor of the income tax.

"The alleged real estate tax reduction of $4.40 in this City would be far offset by substantial increases in the taxes paid by individuals through a sales tax. Mr. Druker, because of his extensive activities in the real estate market in the City of Boston, has a right to be interested in any program which would decrease the Boston tax rate by a dollar or two, without changing the income tax contribution which must be made. An officer corporation or trust which holds 3 or 4 million dollars in valuation in Boston would be foolish not to beat the drums loudly for a sales tax, as opposed to an increase in the income tax.

"If Newton were to receive a $4.40 return on its taxes, as Governor Volpe's program states, and a person had a home assessed at $10,000, he would receive a reduction of $44.40. At the same time, this average family of 4, based on the sales tax figures, would be paying $137 in sales taxes. We are not aware of the mathematical capabilities of the President of the Newton Taxpayers Association, but it is apparent to us that $137 minus $44.40 is a net tax increase of $92.60.

"We have no idea of the makeup of the membership of the Newton Taxpayers Association, but we are quite sure that it does not include many of the 30 per cent of the City's population who earn less than $10,000 yearly, and who under most circumstances, find it difficult to get by on their limited earning capacities now.

"The proper approach, we feel, is the income tax, and we are supported in this position by a group of economists from local colleges who recently issued a public statement on this question. In January the original estimates for funds needed were in the area of $200 million. Since then, we have gained a $22 million surplus, a projected $11 million surplus for 1966, a $12 million gain through the enactment of Medicare, and as yet to be determined completely, millions of dollars under the new Federal Aid to Education Bill.

"We feel we have acted in the best interest of the people of our district in supporting this approach to taxation. We do not know of Mr. Druker's motivations, but we are sure that his approaching gubernatorial reappointment as a member of the Mt. Greylock Tramway Authority and his extensive interests in real estate in the city of Boston are at least two of the reasons why he is supporting Governor Volpe's tax program."

Mr. Basbas emphasized that, "In making the appointments of the High School and Library Site Committees, I have tried to enlist the assistance of the best talent available.

"I have done this strictly on the basis of an evaluation of the experience and talent of the individuals to be appointed and without any regard or concern for partisan or other affiliations. This is a policy I intend to pursue throughout my administration as Mayor."

Mr. Basbas designated James Miller, the City Planner, as Secretary of the Library Site Committee and stated:

"In appointing Mr. Miller as Secretary of the Library Site Committee, I have taken into account the desirability of centralizing all planning information. As in the case of the High School Site Committee, I felt that the City Planner's office was the logical place through which to channel all planning activities, and for that reason, I have designated Mr. Miller as Secretary of both Committees."

Melvin J. Dangel, Chairman of the Public Buildings Committee of the Board of Aldermen; Ernest J. Dietz, Member of the Board of Aldermen from Ward 6; Mrs. Thomas Burnap, President of the Newton P.T.A. Council; Joseph Selden, representing the Recreation Commission; Charles Dockser, President of the Newton Bankers' Association; Bernard Dresner, President of the Newton Centre Business Association; Benjamin F. Shattuck, President of the Newton Conservators; William MacNamara, Vice-President of Filene's; Charles W. Dudley, President of Newton Junior College; Father W. Seavey Joyce, Dean of School of Business Administration, Boston College; Vincent D. Burns, Commissioner of Public Buildings; Charles Downe, City Planning Consultant.

Mr. Basbas stated again that if the Committee felt it would be desirable, he would request from the Board of Aldermen the appropriation of funds to engage the services of a traffic consultant with respect to the site of the new Central Library.

Information On Medicare

Q. There have been recent news reports that some elderly people have been tricked, by individuals posing as social security agents, into paying in advance for medicare benefits. What can a person do to protect himself against such swindles?

A. An elderly person — or anyone for that matter — should beware of any individual who claims to be a social security representative and then asks for money to perform a service such as signing you up for the medicare program. Such a person is acting illegally.

If someone offers to sign you up in this manner, ask for his identification. If he is really a social security representative, he will be more than happy to present proof of his identity. If you still have doubts about him, call your social security office and ask if they sent the man to see you.

Q. People 65 or over who are getting social security and railroad retirement benefits will qualify automatically for the new medicare program of hospital insurance, but they will get the supplemental medical insurance only if they sign up for it. These beneficiaries will get a leaflet in the mail containing information about the program and an enrollment card for the supplementary medical insurance plan to help pay doctors' bills. When can they expect to get the application card and the leaflet?

A. Over 15 million of these applications will be mailed to the people 65 or over who are receiving social security or railroad retirement benefits. The mailing began Sept. 1. Over a million leaflets and enrollment cards are scheduled to be sent out each week, but it will take several weeks, perhaps through December, to finish the mailing. So if you or one of your friends or relatives have not yet received your enrollment application, don't worry. It should arrive within the next few weeks. ..

Q. I understand that all social security beneficiaries 65 or older will get information in the mail about the new program of health insurance for the aged. What about those people over 65 who, for one reason or another, are not getting social security benefits? How do they register for hospital insurance and medical insurance?

A. Anyone 65 or over who is not now getting monthly social security or railroad retirement benefits should visit a social security office to register for the hospital insurance program. At the same time he can enroll in the voluntary medical insurance plan if he wants this important extra protection. Those who enroll for the supplemental medical plan will pay a $3 monthly premium and the Federal Government will pay an equal amount.

A person who is 65 or over on January 1, 1966, has only until March 31 to enroll if he wants to be covered by the Medical insurance plan when it starts in July of 1966.

Q. The Social Security Administration is now sending to more than 15 million social security beneficiaries, 65 or over, enrollment cards for the voluntary medical insurance program. Just what is involved in filling out the enrollment card?

A. The procedure is not at all difficult. The card is small and very easy to fill out. Just check the appropriate box on the card: YES, if you'd like to get medical insurance coverage, or NO, if you do not want this medical insurance. Then sign your name in the designated space and mail the card back in the postage-free envelope which came with it.

You should fill out and mail the card even if you don't want medical insurance. The Social Security Administration will then know that you have had the opportunity to sign up.

Huge Santa Claus Mail Box Set Up Again By Boys Club

Santa Claus, through his friends at the Newton Boys' Club, has arranged once again for a huge 8-foot mail box to be placed at Colletti-Magni Park, Watertown St., Newton, to receive mail from all his friends.

The Boys' Club provided a great assistance to Santa during his busy season last year by receiving and answering a huge portion of his annual mail from the children, and his helpers are well prepared to repeat their services again this year.

The letter-answering service is one of the Community Service projects of the Newton Boys' Club. Providing the sender includes his or her name and address they guarantee that any child who writes a letter to Santa and places it in the mail box by Wednesday December 22 will receive a reply.

If the writer's identification is questionable, an attempt will be made to contact the parents according to Pat Proia, assistant director of the Newton Boys' Club, and chairman for Santa's Mail.

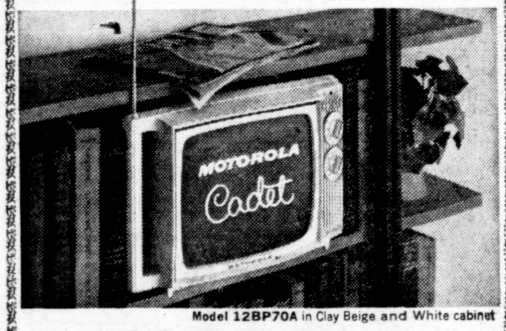

If no identification can be established, the letter will be discarded. Parents are again reminded to have their children write to Santa prior to the December 22 deadline.

Kenneth M. Selig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Selig, 89 Morton St., Newton Centre, has won a junior varsity football letter at Wilbraham Academy.

First Canine 'Cop' Soon On Duty Here

The first canine member of Newton's police force soon will be ready for such tasks as searching a building for a suspected burglar, tracking lost youngsters in the woods and hunting down escaped criminals.

Major Von Wolfkip, a German Shepherd dog, has passed an extensive and strenuous training course at the MDC police kennels in Stoneham under the supervision of Patrolman Charles F. Rivers.

Now Patrolman Rivers is teaching the dog strict obedience which he must learn before he can carry out police assignments.

Rivers explains that the dog must learn to obey every command before he can perform police duties.

If he didn't, Rivers points out, the animal might bite a suspect instead of holding onto him for the police officers under whose direction he was working.

The dog will be taken on tours of duty as soon as he shows he is well trained and

FBI School Course For 2 Officers

Two members of the Newton police department will take a course of instruction next month at the Federal Bureau of Narcotic Training School in Washington.

On their return to Newton they will be assigned to work on the problem of the use of narcotics in the city's public schools, Aldermen John P. Nixon told other members of the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

Nixon made the statement as he urged that an appropriation of $500 be approved to pay the expenses of the two officers for their training period. His recommendation was adopted.

Police Chief Philip Purcell originally requested that $750 be allowed so that three members of the police force could

Record Yule Delivery In Newton Area

More than 5 million Christmas cards and gift packages will have been delivered to homes throughout the Newtons by Christmas Eve.

That was the estimate of Superintendent Timothy J. O'Neil of the Newtonville postoffice where all mail addressed to the Newtons is sorted.

The Newtonville postoffice probably has been the busiest place in the city for the past two or three weeks and, if anything, O'Neil's estimate was considered to be on the modest side.

As soon as the incoming mail has been sorted, the letter-sized mail addressed to homes in the nine other villages has been sent to the postoffices in those areas.

The Newtonville mail, of course, is delivered by letter carriers working out of the Newtonville postoffice.

In addition to sorting all the Newton mail and delivering the Newtonville mail, the Newtonville postoffice has handled the delivery of all the parcel post bundles addressed to homes and business places throughout the city.

By Christmas Eve approximately 100,000 packages, most of them Christmas gifts, will have been delivered to Newton homes.

Local GOP Praises Senate Colleagues

Newton's Republican organization this week gave high praise to the GOP leadership in the State Legislature for its support of Governor Volpe's tax bill.

Citing Senator Philip A. Graham, Senate Republican leader, and Representative Sidney Q. Curtiss, House GOP leader, the Executive Committee of the Newton Republican City Committee passed a resolution commending the two legislators for their dedication and skill in supporting the Governor's tax program. The committee lauded their responsiveness to the

Salty Has Decided To Seek New Senate Term Next Year

Senator Leverett Saltonstall has indicated plainly to close associates that he intends to be a candidate for reelection next year.

He is expected to announce his decision within a short time, probably just after the start of the New Year.

When that pronouncement comes, it will close the door on any hope Attorney General Edward W. Brooke has of striking out for higher office in 1966.

Brooke will be confronted with the choice of standing for another term as Attorney General or stepping out of public office.

While Brooke does not relish the idea of spending another four years as Attorney General, most po-

House Breaking Costly To City

Burglars who have been breaking into Newton homes have been an expense to all Newton taxpayers as well as the residents whose dwellings were looted.

At Monday night's meeting a special appropriation of $8410 was approved for the police department. Close to half of that sum will be used to cover overtime pay for members of the department's burglary squad.

Report Calls For Beef-Up Of Police; Add Men, Higher Pay

A beef-up of the Newton police department in order to provide greater protection for residents of the city was recommended in a report submitted by a special Aldermanic committee and unanimously adopted at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

Major proposals in the report were:

An increase of 10 patrolmen in the complement of the city's police force. Purchase of additional vehicular equipment when the new members are added to the department. The fullest possible use of meter maids to free male officers for other police duties.

Higher pay for members of the police department to make it possible to attract and recruit new members for the force.

Both Mayor-elect Monte G. Basbas and Police Chief Philip Purcell suggested some of the proposals incorporated in the report and indicated their approval of all the recommendations made in the report, the members of the Board of Aldermen were told.

Alderman Franklin N. Flaschner was chairman of the special committee which drafted the report. Other members of the committee were Aldermen John P. Nixon, Paul J. Burke, William M. Glovsky and William Carmen.

Carmen originally filed the order calling for the appointment of a committee to study means of providing better police protection in Newton.

The complete report of the committee follows: "After a number of meetings and discussions and interviews with a number of officials, this Committee reached the following conclusions:

"1. The incidence of crime has been increasing throughout the country in recent years.

"2. The incidence of house burglaries, in particular, has been increasing throughout the country in recent years. This has been particularly true in relatively affluent suburban communities.

"3. It does not appear that either the number of crimes

Yuletide Goodwill Marks Season Here

Christmas will be celebrated here with song and prayer, with joyous gift-giving and festive family feasts and reunions.

The Spirit of the Christ Child which brought the light of new hope to a troubled world 1965 years ago was reaching a gladsome height as Christmas neared.

His birth in a cold and drafty stable behind an inn in the little town of Bethlehem is being observed with all the revered traditions and customs which have come down through the sweep of the years.

The Yuletide goodwill and gladness was mounting toward the flood tide it will reach on Christmas Eve.

And on Christmas Day bells in church steeples will ring loud their message of joy. Voices will join in carols which have gained the blessings of the decade. The laughter of children will have a new and happy timbre.

For us in this community, Christmas, 1965, brings not alone the traditions of the past. It brings new hope, and in the joyus tidings there is for all a reassurance of the message He brought to earth in a crude manger and a borrowed stable nearly 20 centuries ago.

For some family gatherings this year the message of peace will be accepted with bowed heads, prayer and hope. At many dinner tables

Chanukah Holiday Observed By Jews

Jews in Newton, in company with their brothers around the world, are observing the eight-day holiday of Chanukah which began this year at sunset last Saturday, December 18th.

Theme of the holiday commemorates the victory of a band of heroic Jews who, more than 2,000 years ago, fought off the efforts of a despot to snuff out religious liberty.

The victory was not easily won, but stretched over three years, and is duly recorded in the Books of Maccabees.

Angered by Antiochus, a Syrian monarch who sought to impose paganism upon them, the Judeans rose up and achieved history's first triumph in the cause of freedom of religion.

The holiday is celebrated through special services in synagogues, homes and religious schools, with the emphasis being placed on the right of all peoples to worship according to conscience.

Hymns, prayers and sermons touch upon the lesson of the Maccabees, that a minority plus a good cause can achieve success.

Chanukah is also known as the "Festival of Lights" and on each night of the festival, an additional candle is lit in the special holiday candelabrum or Menorah.

The crescendo of light symbolizes the added strength which comes to those engaged in sacred endeavors.

Local Homes Entered For Varied Loot

Furs and jewelry worth thousands of dollars were among the loot carried away by burglars after breaks in Newton homes last weekend.

A $2000 mink cape, a $1300 mink stole, an $800 watch, a $400 string of pearls and a coin collection were taken by burglars who broke into the home of Bernard Greenhood at 81 Intervale Rd., Newton Centre.

The thieves got into the dwelling by breaking the glass near the lock on the rear door after making an unsuccessful attempt to Jimmy the door open.

A mink cape, a mink jacket, a silver watch and a double string of pearls were taken by burglars from the home

Bowen School Scholarship Fund Started

The executive Board of the Bowen Parent Teachers Association announces the establishment of a special scholarship fund in honor of Bowen's principal, Edwart M. Clarke.

The scholarship will be awarded to a boy or girl at Bowen who would like to attend the Harvard-Newton Summer School session, who has shown an interest in learning, who has demonstrated good citizenship, and who would not be able to attend if he did not receive financial help.

Parents may make application at the Bowen School office, where information will be held confidential, at the time when applications to the Harvard-Newton Summer Session are being made.

A committee consisting of Mr. Clarke and two teachers who know the applicants will review the application and make the decision. The award will be made in the spring, possibly at the school assembly.

Last year at the final meeting of the executive board, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Green, retiring presidents, recommended that a Bowen Scholarship Fund be established, and be called the Edward M. Clarke Scholarship Fund. A committee was appointed to work out the requirements and nature of the scholarship.

This committee, consisting of Howard Murphy, Mrs. Richard Gladstone, Mrs. Alex Wallace, and Edward M. Clarke, has decided that the scholarship money should serve an elementary school need, and it recommended that full tuition to the Harvard-Newton Elementary School Session be the award. The money has been placed in the Newton Savings Bank, where it will continue to increase and help Bowen children in the years to come.

Neighbors Request Curfew For All-Night Donut Shop

A group of immediate neighbors of the Mister Donut establishment at 2305 Washington St. (Route 16), Newton Lower Falls, met Tuesday night with the Board of License Commissioners at City Hall in an effort to have the restaurant's hours of operation cut down. The establishment now runs 24 hours a day.

The commissioners, Endicott Smith, chairman; Frederick J. Fessenden, Jr., and Annis G. Asaff, found themselves confronted with a roomful of obviously weary men and women, their drawn faces giving mute evidence of sleepness nights, when the session began 50 minutes after the scheduled starting time.

Additional evidence, not of the mute variety, was given by three members of the visiting group, John E. Young of 2313 Washington St., Miss Katherine Kenjeska of 690 Grove St., and Joseph R. LeBrun of 21 Moulton St.

All three made strong pleas for relief from the noise at the doughnut shop that continues, they said, until the wee hours of every morning, from the strong odor of frying doughnuts that wafts throughout the area and, in the case of Miss Kenjeska, from the necesssity of clearing her yard of beer cans and liquor bottles thrown there, she claimed, by the shop's clientele.

Others present included Atty. Daniel Rakov of 11 Grayson Lane, president of the Lower Falls Improvement Association, who was there merely as an observer, and Joel B. Leighton of 31 Colgate Rd. The latter called the attention of the commissioners to the fact that Newton Lower Falls was one of the prime areas for urban renewal, and he raised the question whether the presence of the 24-hour doughnut shop would adversely affect the area's standing in the eyes of the urban renewal authorities.

Also present were two of the four co-owners of Newton Donut, Inc., holder of the Lower Falls Mister Donut franchise. Sumner Shore, treasurer, and Jim Lashus, manager, assured their neighbors that they wanted to cooperate with them. "We know you people are our neighbors," Shore said, "and we want your business."

Lashus maintained that in order to show a profit the operation had to be on a 24-hour basis. It was necessary to maintain production during the night, he said, and the night-time customers helped pay the production overhead.

At the outset, the chairman said he assumed that John E. Young was spokesman for gathering, and invited him to state the case.

Young produced a diary he had kept and read from it as follows:

"Oct. 18, 2:30 a.m., loud noise and talking.

"Oct. 19, 3 a.m., police radio on at high volume." It was explained that the police car was a Wellesley cruiser, and the Mister Donut manager said that a high percentage of the night business came from Wellesley and Newton police.

"Oct. 21, 2 a.m.," the diary continued, "horns blowing and car motors racing.

"Oct. 22, 2:15 a.m., loud talking by kids. Four carloads of young men, three of them obviously drunk, drove in.

"Oct. 23, 12:30 a.m., car doors slamming, motors of parked trucks left running. Motorcycle engines racing."

Chairman Smith explained that the board granted licenses not as a result of the personal opinion of its members, but according to the terms of the law. Mister Donut is legally entitled to conduct an all-night business, he went on, and so the board could not do otherwise than give it a license.

Young, who had circulated a letter complaining of the board's action, had charged that the license was granted "without a hearing and without representation by the people whose lives would be so drastically affected," apologized for the statement, after Smith explained the board's position.

"I understand," he said. "I'm in politics myself,"

He is a state photographer who, all during the Peabody administration, was assigned to the Governor's office.

Chairman Smith, at the end, assured the group that the commissioners would give their complaint all possible consideration.

It shouldn't be long, however, before he's an active member of the city's police force.

Newton DAV Plan Party At VA Hospital In January

Members of Chaplain William J. Farrell Chapter, DAV, and its ladies' auxiliary, will sponsor a party for shut-in patients at the Jamaica Plain VA Hospital on Friday, January 28th.

Commander Etta Twombley, assisted by Dept. Treas. Mary Coburn, of the auxiliary, and Commander Joseph G. Bradley of Farrell Chapter, assisted by twenty auxiliary and chapter members, recently held a similar party at the hospital.

Coffee and cakes were served and games and dancing were featured on the program, which proved so successful that the January 28th event was planned.

Following the Bedford program they visited the Chelsea Soldiers' Home and attended the annual memorial party sponsored by District No. 3 DAV. Other DAV groups visited Brockton, Northampton and Holyoke hospitals where parties were held.

"DAV Day" is an annual program instituted by the national organization to honor all disabled veterans in the Commonwealth. Governor Volpe designated the special DAV Day in an official proclamation.

Political Highlights

litical observers believe he will do so rather than retire to private life.

This would have an impact on the plans of several prominent Democratic figures who have been thinking in terms of running for Attorney General but who would be likely to shift their sights if Brooke stands in the path to that office.

Whether Saltonstall's decision to seek another six-year term in the U.S. Senate will keep any prospestive Democratic contenders out of the senatorial race is uncertain.

The only sure Democratic candidate for the Senate is Boston Mayor John F. Collins. His plans will remain unchanged since he has been moving ahead on the assumption that Saltonstall will be his opponent in next year's election.

At this stage a battle between Collins and Saltonstall seems probable, and it should prove one of the highlights of the 1966 campaign.

Saltonstall, incidentally, is 73 years old, but the years certainly rest lightly on him. He appears to be in excellent health and makes a good appearance on the public platform.

That, of course, doesn't mean his age will not be a campaign issue since he'll be seeking a six-year term which would extend to his 80th birthday.

Saltonstall, who in January will be starting his 28th consecutive year in high public office, has had almost a charmed political life for more than a quarter of a century.

His bad political luck came all at once in one big package when he was defeated in 1936 by Francis E. Kelly for the Lieutenant Governorship in one of the most stunning election upsets the State ever has known.

After that, the political ball always bounced in Salty's direction. If he didn't have a soft opponent, circumstance militated in his favor.

When he appeared headed for defeat, something always happened to save him.

Here's the rollcall of Saltonstall's major political victories and some of the factors which contributed to them:

In 1938 Saltonstall defeated the late James M. Curley for the Governorship. But Curley had wrested the Democratic nomination away from the late Charles F. Hurley, a sitting Governor, just as Francis X. Bellotti did last year from Endicott Peabody. The Democratic party was torn by dissension then as it was last year. The late Maurice J. Tobin, then Mayor of Boston, refused to endorse Curley for Governor, just as Mayor Collins abstained from publicly supporting Bellotti last year. Saltonstall had a lot of factors working in his favor in that fight.

Saltonstall had a close escape from political disaster in 1940 when he edged the late Paul A. Dever by a scant 5588 votes. Dever lost that fight because of his poor political judgment, his over-confidence and the over-confidence of the people around him.

Dever was convinced Franklin D. Roosevelt would be defeated in his bid for a third term as President. He refused to align himself with FDR. He ran his campaign independently of Roosevelt's and was cut by many Roosevelt backers. Roosevelt carried Massachusetts, and Dever lost an election he could have won.

When Saltonstall sought a third term in the Governorship, his opponent was former Springfield Mayor Roger Lowell Putnam who was no powerhouse as a vote-getter. It was at the height of the war, and people were not disposed to make changes. It was an easy fight for Saltonstall.

In his first two campaigns for the U.S. Senate — in 1944 and again in 1948 —Saltonstall's Democratic opponents were pushovers. Neither of them made a real fight against him.

The late John F. Kennedy, then a junior U.S. Senator, refused to give Furcolo an outright endorsement. Word was leaked to the newspapers by a Kennedy aide that Kennedy and Furcolo had a bitter row in a television studio, Kennedy associates gave quiet, behind-the-scenes help to Saltonstall who won by a narrow margin.

That caused the political pundits to begin re-assessing Saltonstall's strength. Furcolo at that stage in his career didn't shape up as that strong a candidate.

Furcolo was not especially well known at the time. He had served two terms as Congressman and one as State Treasurer. When Furcolo sought the Democratic nomination for Treasurer in 1952, Dever had to pack the field for him and then virtually carry him on his back to get him through the primary.

This was the man who almost toppled Saltonstall under rather adverse circumstances, and the politicians began to wonder.

Six years later, Furcolo, then Governor, was preparing to challenge Saltonstall a second time. Former Springfield Mayor Thomas O'Connor came out of nowhere to best Furcolo in a primary fight that shocked the State.

That's the Saltonstall story from 1938 to 1965.

Because he has been in a position where he has been remote from the people for the past 21 years, where he has not had the day-to-day problems and headaches of a Governor or Mayor, Saltonstall has retained his popularity to an amazing degree.

Part of that popularity was born way back in 1938 when James M. Curley, with one of his famed off-the-cuff quips, which brought great gales and gusts of laughter and cost him thousands upon thousands of votes, referred to Saltonstall's "South Boston face."

That one ill-advised remark by Curley helped to make Saltonstall Governor and start him up the political road to one election victory after another.

During his 21 years in the Senate, Saltonstall has achieved considerable seniority, a fact on which he undoubtedly will strive to capitalize in the 1966 campaign.

A factor which has helped Saltonstall enormously has been his ability to pick outstanding young men to work on his staff. Both Lieutenant Governor Elliot L. Richardson and Congressman Bradford Morse made their starts in politics as administrative assistants to Saltonstall and are still devoted to him.

As might be expected, political analysts differ in their opinions concerning the likely outcome of an election battle between Senator Saltonstall and Mayor Collins.

Actually, it would be impossible to size up such a contest until it was well underway and there had been an opportunity to study its developments. Polls now on a Saltonstall-Collins race mean little or nothing.

Collins, however, would probably be the most potent candidate Saltonstall ever has faced. He's certainly stronger than Furcolo was in 1954 and probably stronger than Dever was in 1940. And Massachusetts is much more heavily Democratic than it was in 1940 or 1954.

The Boston Mayor has a tremendous public image and projects better on television than any other political figure in the State. Saltonstall has never battled an opponent of Collins' potential.

Cardinal Cushing No Political Expert

We have the highest possible respect and esteem for Cardinal Cushing as a religious leader and a prince of the Catholic Church — but not as a political expert if he really believes that Barry Goldwater would have defeated the late John F. Kennedy in the 1964 Presidential election if JFK had not been assassinated.

President Kennedy would have scored a run-away victory over Goldwater. He might not have done as well in the South as Lyndon Johnson did, but in the rest of the country he would have run so far ahead Goldwater wouldn't have been able to see him.

As a master politician President Johnson is in a class by himself. But a good many shrewd and sound students of politics seriously doubt that LBJ could have defeated Richard Nixon for the Presidency in 1960 if he had been the Democratic nominee instead of John F. Kennedy.

Solons Praised

Editor of The Graphic:

It is topsy-turvy that Reps. Joseph Bradley and Paul Malloy should be viciously attacked for opposing a Massachusetts tax when they should, instead, be praised and thanked for having supported the more responsible and fair income tax bills.

The sales tax, besides its other disadvantages of exorbitant costs and probable corruption, is particularly unfair because it is related not to the taxpayer's income or his burdens (such as number of dependents) but to his needs.

For two families living on the same income, the family with more children already has a harder time making ends meet and would pay more sales tax besides because they have to make more purchases.

For two families living on different incomes, the poorer family spends a larger proportion on items which would be taxed while the wealthier family puts more of its money into savings, travel, servants, and non-taxed services (beauty shop care rather than shampoo, laundry and dry cleaning rather than soap or detergents, etc.)

The real estate interests and certain other large businesses have lavishly financed the sales tax campaign. Undoubtedly they would profit if even a small part of the property tax burden were shifted to the consumers, the general public.

With properties worth hundreds of thousands or millions of dollars, a few dollars a thousand off the tax rate would mean a tidy saving.

They are certainly entitled to fight for their own interests, but they should not be claiming that the sales tax would help the home-owner or be a boon to education.

Never has the Massachusetts public been subjected to a greater brain-wash. The average home-owner would pay out much more in sales tax than he'd get off his property tax, and any educator still supporting the sales tax is a champion optimist if he expects for education the same money the real estate groups are fighting for.

It can only be hoped that the public will appreciate those legislators who, like Reps. Bradley and Malloy, have stood firmly by their principles against the floods of misleading propaganda.

Sincerely yours,
Mildred Ann Myerson

CHRISTMAS NIGHT

The Wonder

Not the least of the wonders we commemorate this week was the simplicity surrounding the Birth itself. A carpenter named Joseph went with his young wife up from Nazareth to Bethlehem, the town of his fathers, to enroll for taxation as the governing Romans had ordered. Bethlehem was a simple hill town of no consequence at the time.

Joseph and Mary arrived late and weary, to find that the inn was crowded. So they took shelter in the stable with other late-comers. It was second-best, but humble travelers could not choose. It was shelter. There, in the stable, the Child was born.

This is simple beginnings. Add the shepherds on the night hills, the appearances of the angel, their journey to the stable, and it still remains one of the least adorned of all the great stories we cherish.

It is simple as was the Man Himself and His teachings. It was as simple as the Sermon on the Mount, which still remains as the ultimate basis of Christian belief and, in its essence, of the belief of free men of good-will everywhere.

Thus the simple beginnings. Add the shepherds on among them. And in a stable there was born One Who came to speak to the multitudes about freedom and justice and fundamental rights. One who spoke in a simple tongue, in terms of the beasts of the land, the birds of the air, the lilies of the fields, and of man's responsibility to man.

The captains and the kings were marching up and down the land in full panoply, even as He was being born, and in the end they seemed to silence Him.

But it is His simple words which still live, not theirs.

It is the Birth in the stable that we solemnly commemorate, not the gathering at the crowded inn.

Horace Greeley Award To Be Given By Press

A new honor designed by the New England Press Association as its highest award for public service will be initiated at NEPA'S Annual Winter Meeting on January 20-23 in Boston. It will be called the Horace Greeley Award.

Excellence, dedication, courage, and effectiveness in serving the public interest are the criteria for winning NEPA'S new Horace Greeley Award.

"Horace Greeley devoted his life to serving the public interest above and beyond his personal interests and safety . . . it is in the spirit of this excellence that this award is so named," NEPA'S directors commented in establishing the citation.

New England newspapers will be given priority, but non-New England papers are eligible.

"A winner does not have to be selected each year," John Ballentine, president of the New England Press Association, said. "The award will not be given if there is no outstanding job performed to merit its presentation."

Ballentine, publisher of the Somersworth (N.H.) Free Press, described Greeley's life in announcing the award:

"Horace Greeley often has been referred to as the foremost American journalist. This native New Englander, a weekly and daily editor and publisher, left contributions to his profession and society which are still with us, and which probably will survive as long as mankind endures."

Richard W. Davis, publisher, Transcript Press, Dedham, was named chairman of the Horace Greeley Award Committee by the NEPA directors.

Pomeroy Sextet Program Is Hit At High School

Recently, the Newton High School Music Club held its second meeting of the year in the school auditorium. Following a brief speech by president Peter Yaffee, Henry Lasker, faculty advisor to the club, introduced the featured artists, internationally famous trumpeter Herb Pomeroy and his Jazz Sextet.

The group began the concert with a fast moving number by Bronislaw Kaper entitled "Invitation." It was specially arranged for the group by alto saxman and flautist Jimmy Mosher. Next, came a Bossa-nova number written by Alec Wilder and arranged by Ray Santisi entitled "Moon and Sand." This was followed by "Mattey's Groove," a blues number composed and arranged by Jimmy Mosher. The fourth and final selection was a Czechoslovakian piece composed and arranged by Joe Privsek, entitled "Let Me Try."

A near capacity crowd made up of members of the Music Club and students of Adams and Barry House, the majority of whom have been brought up on rock n' roll music, received the concert with unusual enthusiasm.

The students particularly enjoyed the solo performances by each member of the group. The members are: Herb Pomeroy — trumpet; Gene Distasio — trombone; Jimmy Mosher — alto sax and flute; Joe Cocuzzo — drums; John Neves — bass; and Ray Santisi — piano.

The next Music Club meeting will be student concert on January .

City Gets Pupil Bus Ride Cash

Newton, one of 38 cities and towns to be eligible for state funds for public transportation of pupils who live more than a mile and a half from their school and for students who pay half-fare on public transportation, is slated to get a distribution of $77,032.

The money will be distributed under a formula set up when the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority was established in 1964. This will be the first distribution.

Yule Pageant Of Children Dec. 24 At Waban Ch'rch

The children's pageant, which will be presented at 4:30 p.m. on Christmas eve, December 24, at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban Square, is a colorful spectacle that tells the Christmas story in narration and song.

The magnificence of pages, kings and angels contrasts colorfully with the simple humility of the Holy Family and the shepherds. Members of the Church School narrate the story, which the Junior Choir underlines musically with joyous carols.

Pageant direction has been under the chairmanship of Mrs. Erik H. Suby, assisted by Patricia McCombs and Ann Price. The Junior Choir is under the direction of Mrs. Charles Sego.

Lee Loumos Says:

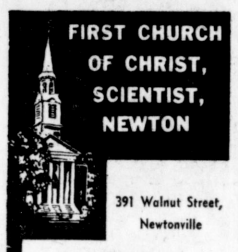

It may sound like heresy for a retailer to say it, but I do wish that the commercial aspects of CHRISTMAS could be dissociated from the holiday observance. But buying is so compressed into this season that not to take advantage of it would almost be business suicide. For us in the retail business, the real Christmas begins on Christmas Eve, after we finally close our doors and go home to renew contact with our families. So while our stocks last, we remain ready right up to that time, to make last minute deliveries to you of a color TV, Stereo HiFi, Organ or whatever you may desire of our goods and services. In the meantime, we can only say thank you for your patronage and may you all have a truly MERRY CHRISTMAS and the best NEW YEAR of your lives.

New Alderman Board To Get Few Leftovers

When the new Board of Aldermen holds its first meeting next month, the members will not lack for measures to consider. Last Monday night the present Board voted to refer a large number of matters to the next Board.

Among them were some 89 recommendations of the Street Traffic committee which have remained on the docket without action for many weeks.

Local Teachers Participate In New Partnership Progr'm

Newton teachers took part in the recent meeting of Partnership Teachers held at the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, Boylston St., Boston.

Women who attended the meeting are participating in the new Partnership Teaching program.

This is a pilot program, supported by the Carnegie Corporation of New York and the Permanent Charity Fund, Inc., of Boston, in which two teachers share a full-time teaching position.

Generally one takes the morning session and the other, the afternoon session. These are women who, because of family commitments, prefer to work part-time.

The nine partnerships represented at the meeting are working in the following school systems: Canton, Framingham, Hingham, Lincoln, Newton, Norton, Waltham, and Westford. Six partnerships are teaching at the elementary level and three are teaching at the high school level.

At the meeting the Partnership Teachers discussed their classroom experiences to date. They generally agreed that Partnership Teaching is significantly beneficial to the student and the school system. On the elementary level the Partnership Teachers work closely together in both curriculum planning and student evaluation.

They thereby, offer the students and the school the combined talents of two highly qualified, experienced teachers. In addition, changing teachers at mid-day helps to alleviate the fatigue problem that is common to both teachers and students in the afternoon. Parnership Teachers are often able to substitute for each other. This provides a continuity that is never possible in the common substitute situation. On the high school level the students and the school benefit from the skills and talents of two teachers that might otherwise be lost to the profession.

To date all partnerships have been working very successfully and the principals involved are pleased with the high quality of instruction. The Women's Educational and Industrial Union is planning to expand the Program for the 1966-67 school year.

Yule Party Is Held At Emblem Club's Meeting

The regular meeting of the Newton Emblem Club No. 8 was held last week.

In the absence of President Frances Gigliotti, Vice President Helen Hart presided. Guest of honor was the new Supreme District Deputy, Mary Egar, of Boston Emblem Club No. 10.

Many Emblem Club sisters from other clubs attended the meeting.

Three new officers were installed by Supreme District Deputy Egar. They are: Sister Barbara McLeod as marshall; Sister Katherine Desmond as corresponding secretary; and Sister Dorothy Brennan as press correspondent.

Newton High Hockey After Third Straight Win Today

Newton High School's hockey team, which has won its first two GBI League games, will be out to make it three straight when it plays Cambridge Latin at the Boston Arena at 3 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday).

The Cantabs have yet to win a league game, dropping their first two, but their record is a deceiving one. They are a hustling team which refuses to quit, and they gave defending champion Arlington a real battle last Saturday.

If Newton High's skating Tigers can beat Cambridge Latin today, they should chalk up their fourth consecutive triumph at the expense of Medford High when the two teams meet at the Arena at 12:30 next Tuesday afternoon.

This would put Coach Sarge Kinlin's improving pupils in a good position for their big January tests when they will meet the iron in the GBI hockey league.

Sophomore Bobby Cotter, performing the hat trick as he scored three goals and added an assist for good measure, paced Newton High to a 6-3 victory over Somerville High last Saturday.

Goalie Kevin McLatchy played an outstanding game and was a bulwark of defensive strength for Newton. He had 29 saves in the game, 22 of them in the last two periods as the Somerville skaters put on a real bombardment.

Newton's first line is not yet operating as smoothly as Coach Kinlin would like, and some of the Tigers showed their inexperience in last Saturday's game.

Tiger hopes of a possible GBI League championship depend upon a steady improvement in the team as the season progresses and the players gain more experience.

Charley Donovan put Newton into the lead over Somerville after seven and a half minutes of play as he scored after passes from Dick Dezotell and Kim Britt.

Bobby Cotter made it 2-0 for Newton a minute and a half later as he tallied on a blazing 40-foot shot which caught the corner of the net.

Somerville fought back gamely but was unable to overtake the Tigers. Cotter and Steve Toomey sewed up the win with goals in the third period.

Following is the game summary:

Newton (6) — Donovan, rw; D. Dezotell, c; Gallagher, lw; DiRusso, rd; Britt, ld; K. McLatchy, g.
Somerville (3) — MacDonald, lw; Tzannos, c; Ronayne, rw; Welles, ld; Fowler, rd; Roderick, g.

Santa Runs Out Of Toys But Only Temporarily

His bag was completely empty and Santa was empty handed before all the 1600 youngsters at Nonantum's 66th children's Christmas party last Sunday had received their gifts.

But there were no tears. The 50 to 100 still in line when the bottom of the sack was reached were promised that a bagful of gifts would be delivered to each home before Christmas Day.

The 1500 or so had been given a shopping bag crammed with dolls or stuffed animals for the girls and with footballs or soccer balls for the boys, in addition to comic books and a number of novelties.

The entertainment in Our Lady's High School auditorium included 20 clowns, a hobo band and St. Anthony's Drum and Bugle Corps. Officer Charles E. Feeley was master-of-ceremonies, and the carol singing was led by Alderman Andrew Magni and Philip Vaglica.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Jennie Paul and including: Mrs. Alice Donahue, Mrs. Linda Leone, Mrs. Laura Lacroix, Mrs. Marie de Fillioop, Mrs. Pearl Champagne.

Assisting chairman Pellegrini were the following men representing all business, service and fraternal organizations: Domenic Bianchi, treasurer; Robert Leone, Robert Champagne, Jerry Terenzio, William Rousseau, Joseph Cucchi, Edward Champagne, Robert Battista, Edward Boudreau, Joseph de Fillippo, Rudolph Lizotte, Gino diBona, John Gardner, Ambrose Cedrone, Joseph Lacroix, Joseph Cafarelli, Robert Vassalotti, Andrew Magni, Joseph McDonnell, Nunzio Pellegrini, Domenic Marzilli, Frank Negrotti, Paul Sevigny, Mike Belli, Conrad Larosse, Tony Pellegrine, Oscar Larosee, John Sauro, Guido DeRenzio, John Boyle, John Bianchi.

Chairman Pellegrine expressed thanks to the police and fire department volunteers. From the Newton Fire Department were Robert Negrotti, Nicholas Gentile, John Negrotti, Edward Murphy, Alfred Mazzola and Ralph O'Dowd and from the Police Department were Robert Whalen, Salvatore Arico, Joseph Lacroix, James Roache, Joseph Arnold, James Treddin, Rocco Marzilli, Edward Holt, Paul Robinson and William Mahoney.

Bay State Has Real Interest In Yule Stamp

The 1965 commemorative Christmas postage stamp has a special significance for Massachusetts residents.

Mayor Doesn't Sign Order For School Dorm

The order of the Board of Aldermen granting the New Church Theological School permission to use a large former home at 48 Sargent street, Newton, has become law without the signature of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

The mayor did not veto the order, but merely withheld his signature. To veto it, he told The Graphic, would have caused a controversy in the final weeks of his administration, and it was his desire to avoid that.

"I am disturbed at the practice of an institution, however meritorious, coming into a residential section and reducing values by its presence there," Mayor Gibbs said. "A residential section," he added, "should be for residences only, and not for other things."

The Sargent St. mansion will become a student residence for 16 Swedenborgian seminarians, with its lower floor having administrative offices and the second floor being converted into apartments for married couples, and to dormitory quarters for single students.

The New School has agreed to deposit $6000 in a bank as a bond to give assurance that should the school ever cease to use the property, it will remove all cooking units from the second floor and restore it to its present condition. That condition was made by the Aldermen for the purpose of making certain that the house would never become an apartment building.

Report

committed or the number of house burglaries, in particular, has been disproportionately high in Newton as compared with other similar suburban communities throughout the country, although the rate of increase of crime in Newton has been somewhat higher than the nation-wide rate of increase.

"4. The Newton Police Department has a good record of detection and arrest which has more than kept pace with the increasing crime rate.

"5. The members of the Newton Police Department conduct themselves in a highly professional and efficient manner, respond promptly to calls, and generally are thorough and diligent. There are only limited exceptions to these observations.

"6. The Newton Police Department, as practically every police department in the country, is under-manned and should have more personnel and the corresponding equipment for additional personnel. The real question is how to make additions to the police force of qualified personnel.

"7. Newton has been two men short of its authorized complement of police personnel for some time. There are no available recruits remaining on the City's civil service list, and it will be some time before a new list is avaliable.

"8. The foremost problem in police departments throughout the country is recruitment. Cities throughout the country have hunlreds of vacancies on their forces notwithstanding attempts at recruitment being vigorously conducted on a country-wide basis.

"9. Cities and towns in Massachusetts are peculiarly at a disadvantage in adopting an effective recruitment program because of the civil service requirement that police officers be residents of both Massachusetts and the particular city or town which engages them.

"10. Newton is also in a somewhat disadvantageous position from arecruitment point of view because the salary scale of the Newton Police Department is somewhat lower than the salary scale of a number of surrounding communities, such as Boston, Cambridge and Brookline.

"11. The Newton Police Department has attempted to meet the shortage of personnel by substantially increasing its overtime budget. During the calendar year 1965 approximately $87,000 has been appropriated for the over-time services of Police Department officers. This represents the equivalent of approximately 14 men.

"12. The use of police women for school protection purposes has also operated to relieve male police officers for other activities.

"13. The current size of the Newton Police Department exceeds the regional and national averages for cities between 50,000 and 100,000 in population. Exclusive of approximately 50 women school traffic supervisors, the authorized complement of the Newton Police Department is 171 (163 policemen and 8 civilians). This compares with the New England average for cities in the same population bracket of 149 and the national average of 167.

"14. The Newton Police Department has 15 cars, exclusive of the Police Chief's car. Some of these cars are marked and some are unmarked. Additional equipment has been available from time to time by way of use of the personal vehicles of some police officers.

"Based upon its investigation, the Committee has concluded that the principal problem of the Police Department is recruitment. Based upon its investigation, the Committee makes the following recommendations:

"1. That the authorized complement of the Newton Police Department be increased by 10 patrolmen.

"2. That the vehicular equipment of the Police Department be increased in a manner consistent in timing with the increase in personnel.

"3. That the Police Department engage inan active recruitment program, some of the specifics of which are suggested below.

"4. That the Police Department assign a ranking police officer who would have responsibility for recruitment of additional officers. Greater use of newspapers and other media should be made for publicizing civil service exams and other recruitment purposes.

"5. That city officials attempt to obtain a change in the civil service regulations to eliminate the residence requirement at least until such time as the City has filled its complement of police officers.

"6. That the salary scale of the Police Department be thoroughly reviewed and be revised in a manner that will facilitate the implementation of the recruitment program.

"7. That the use of the overtime account to provide additional police man hours be recognized as an expedient and should not be regarded as a substitute for increasing the size of the police force.

"8. That the Police Department and other city officials attempt to find other means of providing incentive for police officers. Consideration should be given to evaluating the table of organization of the Police Department. In a number of functions there are not enough officers of the same rank on one shift, which is normally headed up by a lieutenant. A number of responsible jobs are handled by officers of lower rank than one would expect to find. There are only 27 opportunities for promotion in the Police Department, whereas in the slightly larger Fire Department, there are 58 such opportunities. The Committee believes that greater opportunity for promotion could and should be found.

"We support Chief Purcell's current recommendation for one additional captain which would cause the hiring of an additional patrolman and provide promotional opportunities up the line for the new captaincy.

"9. Some method should be found to more appropriately recognize meritorious service. Morale and incentive might well be heightened by adopting a system of citations and awards for exploits of distinguished service so common among Newton's police force. Such a system might include awards of tangible value, such as additional time off.

"10. The fullest possible use should be made of meter maids, the service of whom was authorized dur- of this past year by action of the Board of Aldermen. The use of meter maids would undoubtedly free time of male police officers for other activities, and this should be done as promptly as possible.

"The Chief has recommend- that there be added to the Department's automotive equipment one additional plain colored sedan for general patrol, an additional station wagon, a jeep for the use of the garage man and a small van for the use of the radio repairman. The Committee has not been able to assess these requests, nor the recommendation by the Chief for the replacement of the Department's entire radio system. The Committee believes that these requests should be considered in connection with the 1966 budget and, to the extent that the needs of public safety are dependent on the items requested, they should be provided for.

"The Committee would also recommend that the Police Department prepare and distribute to every household in the City a pamphlet of instructions and suggestions with regard to the citizen's duties, prerogatives and conduct when he is a witness to or has knowledge of a crime. The proposed pamphlet would also contain suggestions as to how householders might better protect their property from burglary."

Asks Mr. S. Claus To Bring Package of Harmony for Ted

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Dear Mr. S. Claus:

We know that you're pretty busy, that your Christmas list is long and that you have about all you can do to fill the requests of the small boys and girls who suddenly have become models of good behavior and deportment.

But we'd like to submit our list of goodies you could provide for some of our deserving politicians. It isn't that they are too bashful to speak for themselves or that they're not able to do so.

It's just that they've been pretty busy with sales tax rows, budget battles, $100-a-plate dinners and such things. So we're going to speak up for them and suggest some of the gifts they would like.

You won't be able to make delivery Christmas Eve on most of the requests, but, after all, things are going to slow down for you after Dec. 25, and you can get working then on this list.

One trouble, Mr. S. Claus, is that some of the politicians who merit a place way up on your list want the same thing, and there just aren't enough U.S. Senate seats and Governorships to go around so that everybody will be happy.

However, this is a problem we expect you to solve, and you claim to have solved a lot more difficult ones. So please get with it.

For Senator Edward M. Kennedy we have a very modest request. What apparently would please him most would be a large order of Democratic harmony which he could dispense at the unity meeting he is to hold.

This is very important because at the moment it seems about the only way he can produce any Democratic harmony and unity would be to shoot quite a few Democratic candidates, and that would be somewhat awkward, especially at this season of the year. So start working on it right after Christmas when the goodwill among a number of Democratic politicos is certain to ebb swiftly.

As you should readily understand, Mr. S. Claus, this is a completely unselfish request. Ted Kennedy isn't running for anything this year, and if he were, he could get elected, harmony or no harmony.

But he feels very strongly about this harmony and unity thought of Democrats clobbering each other when they should be conserving their strength to clobber the Republicans. He'd manufacture the Democratic harmony and unity himself except that he doesn't have the right ingredients. That leaves it up to you, and if you don't act promptly, somebody might get killed at the next harmony meeting.

We're not sure what Ted Kennedy's senior associate on Capitol Hill, Senator Leverett Saltonstall, wants for Christmas. He'll probably speak up for himself pretty soon. If he's too modest to do so, you might bring him one of those computers, which provide all kinds of answers, to help him decide whether he's going to run again for the Senate.

Governor Volpe wanted a sales tax for Christmas, and you fell down badly on that. So now he wants a four-year term in the Governorship, and he's not likely to accept any excuses this time.

There are a few complications to that request because Senate President Maurice A. Donahue, former Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Kenneth O'Donnell and maybe Endicott Peabody all want the same thing, with next November the delivery date.

This was what we meant when we said there just aren't enough Governorships and U.S. Senate seats to keep everybody happy. But we're dropping that problem right into your lap which is certainly big enough for a lot of problems.

Mayor John F. Collins would like a $20 reduction in Boston's tax rate and a place in the U. S. Senate in that order.

A small army of Boston politicians want the same thing for Collins, not so much because of their great devotion to Collins but because they'd like to take over his job as Mayor of Boston.

This kind of unselfishness helps to give you that warm inner feeling about politics.

A lot of legislators on Beacon Hill were hoping that you would bring them a plan which would raise $200 million in new revenue which would satisfy everyone and under which nobody would have to pay any taxes.

You really let them down on that. So when you're around this way on Christmas Eve, bring some credit cards for those legislators who vote to spend money but vote against raising the money to pay the bills.

WISHING YOU HOLIDAY CHEER!

needs and wishes of the voters of the State.

Also cited for their support and work in behalf of the Governor's tax bill were the area's two Republican members of the House of Representatives, Representative Theodore D. Mann and Representative Edward M. Dickson.

At the same time Edward C. Uehlein, chairman of the Newton Republican City Committee, who presided at the meeting, expressed the hope that Rep. Joseph G. Bradley and Rep. Paul F. Malloy would now respond to the wishes of their constituents and would support Governor Volpe in his effort to provide the state with needed new revenue.

Uehlein termed the failure of the two representatives to support the program a conspicuous source of disappointment to Newton voters.

Other business of the meeting dealt with reports presented by Mrs. Robert Amesbury, State Committeewoman, and William R. Horner, city finance chairman.

Those attending the meeting which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Uehlein in Waban, were: Mrs. Amesbury, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Alan S. Barkin, Mrs. William Lane Bruce, Melvin J. With Mike Finucane chalking up 26 points, Our Lady's High School basketball team defeated Xaverian High 76-64 in a Catholic Suburban League game at Our Lady's gym last Sunday.

Our Lady's went into a five point lead in the first period, but at halftime the score was deadlocked 29-29.

Finucane went on a scoring spree in the third quarter, pumping in 12 points in the period as Our Lady's took a commanding lead it never relinquished.

Tim Miller scored 15 points and Pat Connaughton 13 for Our Lady's. The summary:

Laurence Curtis, past State Commander of the Disabled American Veterans, was the principal speaker at the recent initiation exercises of the Chaplain William J. Farrell Chapter, of Newton.

More than thirty new members were inducted into the local Chapter at exercises held in the Memorial Building, Newton Centre. This establishes a membership record here.

Former Congressman Curtis in a resounding address urged "greater interest in Americanism" which he stated is needed now to renew our faith in the priciples for which all veterans fought and for what our country stands.

Commander Joseph G. Bradley, assisted by SVC Victory Gargone, JVC John Volpe, Chaplain Stanford Ackers, Officer of the Day Edward Edmunds DSC, Historian and Sergeant-at-Arms John E. Bouchard, spoke on the principles of the Disabled American Veterans organization.

"Blessings Of Christ Explain His Mission"

The service to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday will emphasize the rich blessings which an understanding of Christ Jesus' mission brings to mankind. The lesson-sermon begins with the prophecy from Isaiah (9:6): "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.'"

Among the correlative readings will be the first tenet of the Christian Science Church: "As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal Life" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 497).

The leson-sermon subject is "Christian Science."

Temple Shalom Confirmands At Week-end Study

The largest Confirmation class in Temple Shalom of Newton's history, numbering well over 100 students, recently spent a weekend of study, prayer and sociability at Magnolia Manor, Magnolia.

Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, their teachers and parent chaperones, accompanied the students.

Bernard Shulman, principal, announced that the full weekend of activities was planned by the students and faculty. The social activities included a talent show, dance, swimming party in the indoor pool, and a hike along the beautiful waterfront.

Mrs. Lloyd Warshauer is general chairman of this year's Confirmation class. Mrs. John Samuel was in charge of this conclave and was assisted by Mrs. Robert Levin. Parent chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bronson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gladstone, and Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Hoffman.

Temple Shalom of Newton has pioneered in conducting these Confirmation weekend conclaves and has developed this activity into a most rewarding learning experience for the students.

Superintendent O'Neil said that all mail and packages of Newton residents which reach his postoffice today (Thursday) will be delivered by Christmas Eve.

O'Neil expects that the bulging grey mailbags in his now bustling postoffice will lie limp and empty tomorrow night.

He said the mailing of Christmas cards had been spaced out better than ever before, that many persons responded to requests that they send their Christmas cards early, and that Newton residents also have cooperated by wrapping cards in bundles marked "local" and "out-of-state."

This has aided the work of postal clerks in processing the tremendous flow of mail, O'Neil asserted.

Monday was the biggest shopping day for stamps at Newton postoffices. Residents who addressed their Christmas cards last weekend flocked to the postoffices in huge numbers Monday to buy stamps to mail them.

Virtually everyone had high praise for the outstanding job done not only at the Newtonville postoffice but also at the postoffices in the nine other villages.

Superintendent O'Neil, nearing the end of his gigantic Christmas operation, declared that it would not have been possible to carry it out so successfully except for the "wonderful cooperation I received from the superintendents of the nine other postoffices in Newton."

They are: Edward J. Whalen, Newton Centre postoffice; Theodore Molloy, Newton Corner postoffice; Walter McGuiness, West Newton; Jack Levy, Newton Highlands; Frank Larson, Auburndale; Herbert Weber, Waban; John Walsh, Newton Upper Falls; Charles Gaputis, Newton Lower Falls; and Frank Faivey, Nonantum.

Our Lady's Is Looking To '66 Grid Prospects

Our Lady's High School, which won only one football victory in eight games during the past season, already is hoping for better things next year.

Coach Dick Riley believes he can field a formidable 1966 aggregation if he can come up with some strength in the line. His only lineman on this year's team who will be back next year is Co-Captain-elect John Rahall, a guard.

Either Dick Learned or Jay Feeley should fill the slot at quarterback. Feeley, a transfer from St. Charles High, was ineligible this past season, while Learned was out of action much of the season because of injuries.

Youngsters who could greatly improve Our Lady's football prospects if they develop satisfactorily next year include Steve Geary, Bill Vaugn, Tim Morris, Paul Logan, Mike Leone, Bill Harvey, Mike O'Keefe, and Dan Cosgrove.

Mon. Night Meeting Sets Docket Clean

Monday night's Aldermanic meeting, understandably lengthy because it was the last one to be held by the present board, whose members wanted to clear the docket of all possible items, was prolonged even further because of a public hearing on a petition of Lushan Plastics Corporation for license to store inflammables at 300 Needham St., Newton Highlands.

Various members of the board, concerned with the possible presence of the plasticizer and solvents in Newton's "blue chip" industrial area that is sometimes referred to as the "miracle mile," questioned representatives of the petitioner at considerable length. They were also concerned over the possibility of objectionable odors arising from the use of the plasticizer and solvents in the manufacture of materials that have vinyl as a base, such as plastic seat covers for automobiles.

Other matters of concern were a proposed withdrawal of water from the Charles River for cooling purposes, its subsequent discharge back into the river, and proposed construction of a 60-foot identifying tower whose presence might be an eyesore to nearby residents.

The petitioner's presentation, the questioning and accompanying debate occupied approximately 90 minutes. Then, Harry H. Ham Jr., Claims and Rules chairman, expressed the thought that the petitioner should be given an opportunity to decide whether he would object to certain conditions being imposed.

A motion to hold the matter for the next Board of Aldermen failed of passage by a 17 to 6 vote after Alderman William M. Glovsky declared that all objections to the petition had been fairly met, and Alderman Melvin J. Dangel urged immediate action on the petition so that the state and the city would not suffer the loss of a tax-paying manufacturer. (The petitioner had previously stated that pressure existed for moving the plant to New Jersey, and that whether it remained in this area depended on the granting of the license sought.)

It was then voted to drop the hearing for the time being and to resume it after several proposed restrictions had been discussed in a meeting between the petitioner and his representatives and the city solicitor.

Much later in the evening, past midnight as a matter of fact, the hearing was resumed, and the petitioner stated that he was agreeable to the following conditions:

1—The State Department of Public Health must pass on the effectiveness of equipment installed to prevent the emission of objectionable odors and pollution of the air.

2—The petitioner shall install equipment to supress objectionable odors if so ordered by Newton's health commissioner.

3—No water shall be drawn from the Charles River without permission of the Board of Aldermen, nor shall the water be discharged back into the river without the board's permission.

4—If a tower is erected on the property, it shall be screened by landscaping from the view of nearby residents.

The granting of the requested license was then approved 21 to 2.

Those who voted "no" were William F. Hopkins and Harry L. Walen. The sole absentee was Charles F. Hovey

Robert B. Bell of 25 Drumlin Rd., Newton Centre, president of Lushan Plastics Corporation, speaking during the petitioner's presentation, stated that the company's payroll would be $1,250,000 annually, and that the employees would be Newton residents for the most part.

"I don't want to move to New Jersey," he said. "If you grant this petition, we will be good neighbors."

December Purchases Of Savings Bonds Advised

Investors were invited today to take advantage of the annual purchase limit feature of United States Savings Bonds during December for calendar year 1965 and during January for calendar year 1966.

Peter A. Brooke, Executive Vice President, Tucker, Anthony & Co., Inc. and Savings Bonds Chairman for Massachusetts, explained that investors can buy both Series E and H bonds up to the permissable annual limits any time during December and do so again as early as January 1966. "This is possible because the limits are applied separately and on an calendar year basis," Mr. Brooke said.

Annual limits are $10,000 face value for Series E bonds and $20,000 face value for Series H bonds. Eligible buyers include not only individuals, but also corporations, associations, public or private organizations, fiduciaries and other investors, except commercial banks.

Owners of Series J and K Savings Bonds which began to mature in May 1964 and do not earn interest after maturity, can reinvest the proceeds of these two series, as they mature, in Series E and H bonds without regard to the anual purchase limit. Also, if Series J bonds are exchanged for Series H bonds within 6 months after the J bonds mature, the Federal income tax on the accrued J bond interest can be postponed until the H bonds are redeemed, Mr. Brooke explained.

Series E bonds are appreciation bonds with interest added to cash value every 6 months. They return $4 at maturity for every $3 invested. The current Series E bond matures in 7 years 9 months, and may be held an additional 10 years after maturity while continuing to earn interest They are available in eight denominations from $25 up to $10,000. Federal income tax on accrued E bond interest can be postponed until the bonds are redeemed. For the individual investor, this could be at retirement when he might be in a lower income tax bracket, Mr. Brooke pointed out.

Series H bonds, also yielding $4 at maturity for every $3 invested, pay current income by seminannual Treasury check and mature in 10 years. H bonds issued from June 1952 through January 1957 may be held an additional 10 years after maturity. Purchased at face value, they are available in four denominations, from $500 to $10,000.

Scribe Workshop Girl Scout News Writers Produce

The Scribe Workshop, an annual training event for all levels of Girl Scouting, has turned out a pair of able reporters of news.

The workshop, developed and conducted this fall by Miss Betty Blair of the staff of Bay Path Council in Newton Upper Falls, has two graduates in Cadette Eve Texeira, 11, and a student at Warren Junior High School, and Mary French, also a student there.

"Cadette Troop No. 596, West Newton, hiked up Mt. Monadnock, led by Mrs. Roberta Humez of Natick, former adviser of Troop 465 in Natick. Mrs. Humez has no troop this year, and had climbed Mt. Monadnock before.

"We were transported by Mrs. Humez, Mrs. Thomas Hayden, leader; Mrs. Ralph Aismeyer, assistant leader, and Mr. Alsmeyer; H. Clinton Shannon and Mrs. W. W. Shrader, all of Newton.

"After arriving at the Halfway House, we began our lunch of submarine sandwiches made of everything from Italian rolls to pickles and tomatoes, which were prepared by the It Patrol and the Wha-cha-ma-call-it Patrol.

"Our troop found the mountain very rocky, and we were windblown on the bare rocks at the top. We had a 'Scout's Own,' observing Juliet Low's birthday while at the top.

"When descending, we divided into two groups. Unfortunately, the first-aid kit went with Group I, and in Group 2, a bad bruise and a twisted ankle managed without it by kerchief bandages.

"We had much fun, but were so tired I'm sure all found home was a relief."

Annual Yule Cheer Given

Newton's annual Christmas Service Project which helps brighten the holidays for more than 400 needy families in the city is well under way. This project is co-sponsored by the Newton Community Council and the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

It helps distribute funds and other Christmas gifts made available through private trust funds, Salvation Army, contributions from women's clubs and other generous individuals and organizations.

Families are referred for help primarily through city schools and churches. Many families referred would not be able to afford holiday food or toys for the children except for the small amount of money distributed to them through this project. Amounts vary depending on the number of persons in each family.

Thank - you letters in previous years indicate that this is sometimes the only gift a lonely older person receives. For other families with children, illness has often used up the family resources resulting in a bleak holiday which is brightened a little by this gift.

The Community Council office, now located at 950 Watertown Street in West Newton, handles all referrals for help, clears each one to avoid duplication and distributes the funds.

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, through their Christmas Service Committee Chairman Mrs. Victor Baer, solicits member clubs and numerous other organizations and individuals for financial support for this effective city-wide effort to give our neighbors who need help a brighter holiday.

Contributions are most welcome — in any amount — and can be sent to the Community Council office for this purpose.

What Is The John Birch Society?

The Truth May Surprise You!

This week we are celebrating our seventh anniversary. We are glad to take the occasion therefore, to give as much of an answer to the above question as space will permit, for those who really want to know. So—

I. Let's Start At The Beginning

The John Birch Society was founded in Indianapolis, on December 9, 1958. It was chartered under the General Laws of Massachusetts as a non-profit educational organization. We have lived up meticulously to those specifications (including not making any profit!) for seven years.

During these seven years we have sought to bring into The John Birch Society only men and women of good character, humane consciences, and religious ideals. For we are striving to set an example, by dedication, integrity, and purpose — in word and deed — which our children's children may follow without hesitation.

Members of the Society are of all races, colors, and creeds. We are of all social, economic, and educational levels. We are individualists who disagree among ourselves about many things. But we are firmly united in devotion to those beliefs, principles, and purposes which we do hold in common. For we have voluntarily joined together:

(1) To combat more effectively the evil forces which now threaten our freedom, our lives, our country, and our civilization;

(2) To prevail upon our fellow citizens to start pulling out of the deepening morass of collectivism, and then climb up the mountain to higher levels of individual freedom and responsibility than man has ever achieved before;

(3) To restore, with brighter lustre and deeper conviction, the faith-inspired morality, the spiritual sense of values, and the ennobling aspirations, on which our western civilization has been built. The longrange objective of the Society has been summarized as less government, more responsibility, and a better world.

II. So We Collide With Communism

These purposes bring us immediately into conflict with the Communists, on two levels. For on the ideological plane the Communists seek always and everywhere to bring about more government, less individual responsibility, and an amoral world. And on the plane of action, until the Communists can be stopped from completing their subjugation of the whole world, there will be no opportunity for us to move forward at all towards our permanent goals.

We have undertaken, therefore, to play a leading role in slowing down, stopping, and eventually routing the Communist conspiracy. We realize that the one thing no conspiracy can withstand is the light of day on its activities. The only danger to their gigantic conspiracy which the Communists fear is exposure. For this reason, we do all that we can to bring to our fellow citizens more knowledge and a better understanding of the methods, the progress, and the menace of the Communist machine. In this undertaking we have become a new form of opposition to the Communists which they have never faced before in any of the vast areas they have already taken over.

So the Communists, grasping this fact very early, set out in 1961 to destroy us. The most official Communist publication in the United States is The Worker, in which the line is laid down for the faithful. During the last six months of 1961 there was, we believe, only one issue of this weekly paper which did not contain an attack somewhere in its pages on The John Birch Society; and a number of issues contained as many as six or seven separate attacks on us at that many different places. The Comsymps got the point, and have been carrying out the indicated program with increasing furor ever since.

Of course the Communists follow Lenin's basic strategy of advancing Communism by non-Communist hands. They could never impose the tyrannical rule of some three percent of a population over the whole population — which they repeatedly do in one country after another — unless they could inveigle enough non-Communists and even anti-Communists among that other ninety-seven percent into doing their dirty work for them. Deceptively appealing, for instance, to every motivation in human character, from sordid selfishness to "practical politics" to misguided idealism, they have gradually beguiled a lot of very good Americans into joining the attack on us. Until the maligning of The John Birch Society has now probably exceeded, in intensiveness and extensiveness, that faced by any other organization in all American history. And in general our defamers do not even try to refute the facts on which we focus attention. They merely call us names for bringing these facts to light.

III. And Stir Up The Politicians

The John Birch Society is in no sense a political organization. We try to give our members information, understanding, and — we hope — even inspiration, which will make them better citizens. As good citizens they may take an active part in politics. But each member does so entirely on his own, working in the party of his choice, for the candidate of his choice, exactly as do members of the American Legion or of the Knights of Columbus or of the Rotary Club or a Baptist Church.

For we regard education as the means, and political action as only the mechanics, for bringing about improvements in government. The mechanics will automatically be used when sufficient education has prepared the way. We mean it quite literally, therefore, when we say that education is our total strategy, and truth is our only weapon. Or, as made clear throughout the Blue Book and emphasized on its last page, our gigantic task is simply to create understanding.

Members of The John Birch Society, however, are extremely hard working, highly respected in their local communities, and always earnestly determined on behalf of any cause or candidate that they support. When circumstances bring any appreciable number together behind any particular candidate, their weight is out of all proportion to their numbers. And that weight is usually felt, of course, on the side of the Conservatives—of either party. So the Liberals of both parties naturally raise all the clamor they can against Birchers in politics. As the stranglehold of the Liberals on both parties now steadily increases, even Conservative politicians feel unceasing pressures to "improve their images" by joining the chorus of attack on The John Birch Society. Very few of them indeed have ever realized the extent to which they were running interference for the Communists.

A related part of the mammoth and many-faceted campaign which the Communists have now generated against us is the deliberate and widespread attempt to associate The John Birch Society in the public mind with the Communist Party, the Ku Klux Klan, and other so-called "extremists of the left and of the right." Our approach to the problems of today is so different from the viewpoint of the Klans that we have never knowingly admitted a member of any Klan into the Society. We estimate that about forty percent of our total membership is Catholic. Many of our finest Chapter Leaders are Jewish. And we are very proud of our small but growing number of Negro members, who are working so hard — and so courageously — with us to show our fellow citizens, both white and colored, how the Negroes are being used today by the Communists to serve Communist purposes.

So we have no similarity or sympathy whatsoever with the Klans. While the so-called American Nazi Party, according to J. Edgar Hoover, has less than one hundred members. And it is visibly given immense publicity by some media for the very purpose of using it, by utterly false association, to discredit The John Birch Society.

Nor is this campaign intended to serve simply the purpose of a vague and general discrediting of the Society; or of merely discouraging our members and prospective members. There are plotters behind it who are obviously working towards a more specific goal. They wish to establish in the public mind, and then to formalize, the concept that since the Communists and Ku Kluxers and John Birchers are all "just alike," and since the Communists and Ku Kluxers are visibly "subversive," then The John Birch Society is "subversive" too. We believe it is to this end, at least in part, that so many high ranking politicians have been seduced into speaking out against us.

IV. What Have We Accomplished?

We have established a nationwide educational army. It has a fully paid field staff. This army is fighting with facts as its only weapons. And the whole army knows that to be better informed is to be better armed.

For help towards informing ourselves first, and then others, we established a publishing division. It is now turning out books and pamphlets with a retail value of about four million dollars per year. We also serve as very sizable distributors of the Conservative books and reprints of approximately one hundred other publishers. And our members now operate some 350 "reading rooms that sell books," scattered throughout the country — most of them under the name of American Opinion Libraries.

We have certainly helped to re-awaken, restore, and strengthen, in tens of thousands of Americans, the three great basic human loyalties: Loyalty to God, loyalty to country, and loyalty to family. The Communists know that they simply must destroy all three of these foundations of our civilization. For they can never rule "peacefully"—that is, without constant resistance—in any place or at any time where there is loyalty to anything except to the Communist state.

We were the first organization in the United States to start calling widespread attention to the world-wide Communist plot to discredit, demoralize, and destroy local police forces. Our members have distributed in leaflet form literally millions of our messages explaining what the Communists were doing in this area, and why. As a result, our Support Your Local Police drive has now won tremendous backing from patriotic citizens everywhere.

We are engaged in an entirely proper and constitutional movement to bring about the impeachment of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. As only one result of our educational efforts in support of that movement, we have awakened hundreds of thousands of our fellow citizens to the vital differences between a republic and a democracy. Many of them have come to realize the lengths to which our Founding Fathers went in order to give us a republic (not a democracy) — if we could keep it! And a growing number now understand how important it is to the Communists to convert this republic into a democracy as rapidly as they can.

Through the distribution by our members of huge quantities of books and pamphlets, we have brought a sizable and increasing fraction of the American people to recognize the high degree of Communist planning, influence, control, and purposes involved in the "civil rights" movement. Our increasing ability to get able, informed, and patriotic Negroes to join us in this effort, especially through continuous and widespread speaking engagements, has been an important part of this service to our country.

We have helped mightily to offset the emotional and extravagant tendencies of the prejudiced and the poorly informed to blame Communism on any one group or race or organization. The historical facts clearly reveal that the international Communist conspiracy reaches through every conceivable body it can utilize in any way to promote its ends. And we have insisted from the beginning that we are fighting the Communists — and nobody else.

The Factfinding Subcommittee of the California Senate ended the twenty-five thousand word report of its two-year investigation with these paragraphs:

"We believe that the reason the John Birch Society has attracted so many members is that it simply appeared to them to be the most effective, indeed the only, organization through which they could join in a national movement to learn the truth about the Communist menace and then take some positive concerted action to prevent its spread.

"Our investigation and study was requested by the society, which had been publicly charged with being a secret, fascist, subversive, un-American, anti-Semitic organization. We have not found any of these accusations to be supported by the evidence."

What we have accomplished, above all else, is to keep The John Birch Society alive and growing, as a rallying point for the increasing number of informed and patriotic anti-Communists. Our members have achieved this result, through staggering labor and sacrifice, despite unceasing harassments, and distortions of their actions, and pressures amounting in many instances to serious persecution. And we intend to keep on growing. For we believe the incredibly vicious and massive attacks on the Society have been due, in any final analysis, not to our mistakes and our failures, but to our successes and our progress.

V. Which Do You Choose?

We cannot give you here the full basis for that choice. But let's put down a few point by point comparisons of the Society with its Communist enemies.

(1) The Communists seek unlimited power for themselves, over the whole human race. The John Birch Society does not want any power at all over anybody, either now or in the future. Agreeing with Lord Acton that "power tends to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely," the Society seeks to make progress towards its goals only by education and persuasion.

(2) The Communists believe that any means may be used to attain their ends. The Society believes that improper means are never justified by even the noblest of aims, and that means are as important as ends in any worthwhile civilization.

(3) The Communists always accuse their enemies — such as The John Birch Society — of exactly those crimes which the Communists themselves are committing. We do not bear false witness against anybody, about anything.

(4) The Communists believe that words should be used to conceal thoughts, and that promises are made to be broken. The John Birch Society believes that simple truth is the very core of morality; and that when we can persuade enough people to make truth the prerequisite to all statements and the accepted guide to all action, at least half of the world's problems will rapidly disappear.

(5) The Communists operate in secrecy and darkness. We follow the preponderant custom, among all American voluntary associations, of not publishing the list of our members. With that exception, The John Birch Society has absolutely no secrets of any kind.

(6) The Communists seek to break down all morality, all tradition, and to destroy the whole spiritual and esthetic sense of values which we have inherited. The Society believes that a reverent continuity in human affairs is of extreme importance; and that even the most desirable change should be made cautiously, in order to be sure that it constitutes improvement.

(7) The Communists believe that man is just a material combination of atoms, with no other purpose than satisfaction of the desires of the physical entity thus assembled. The John Birch Society believes that a Divine Creator has endowed man with a purpose and an "upward reach" which are far superior to, and frequently prompt a willing sacrifice of, the desires and needs of the individual himself.

(8) The Communists — Lenin, Lunacharsky, and many other leaders — openly preach that "men must learn to hate," and that only through spreading sufficient hatred can the Communists succeed in ruling the world. The John Birch Society hates nobody, not even the Communists, but only the evil which they do. The Society believes that love for one's neighbor and good will towards all men should be a fundamental motivation in all human relationships.

The Communists also pretend to believe — and some of them undoubtedly do believe—that Communism is "the wave of the future." We believe, instead, that the whole world is now tired of so much strife and bestiality, treason and immorality, cruelty and confusion, blasphemy and destructiveness, bitterness and fear, doubt and despair that always go hand in hand with Communism. We believe that mankind may be about ready to arise, shake off this Communist tyranny and terror, and move forward again towards a more enlightened and humane existence. We are doing everything in our power, by all honorable means, to create the understanding that will produce this result.

If you have what it takes, in character and courage, then by all means join us now in our epic undertaking. With the added effort of people like yourself, and with God's help — when and because we have deserved it — we shall break up this immense criminal conspiracy, and return a world gone crazy to sanity once again.

there will be an unfilled place. Through the day, thoughts will be with a serviceman overseas in a war-torn country, the name of which was unknown to millions of Americans only a few years ago.

"What's he doing? How's he spending Christmas? Is he well?"

Those thoughts will serve to plague a loving mother and a lonely wife through the day—the holiday of holidays—the day the angels sing.

Many a tear will be wiped from a moist eye as thoughts turn to far-away Vietnam and what Christmas Day is like there.

To a less poignant extent the same questions will come to the minds of the loved ones of our military serving with occupation forces in countrie which are knowing a modicum of peace — a peace made uneasy by hate and suspicion.

Yet, this Christmas will be a day of joy, a day of hope, a day of reverent thanks for the wondrous event in the stable in Bethlehem.

The community is taking on its most festive garb in preparation for the celebration of the Birthday of the Christ Child.

Colored electric candles, gradually making their appearance in the windows of homes, try to recapture something of the heavenly light that came to Bethlehem.

Elaborate outdoor decorations have turned some dwellings into fairylands of color, brilliant against the black backdrop of the December night.

Trees are waiting to be trimmed with the bulbs and tinsel which will make them glisten and gleam on Christmas Eve.

Householders go about the pleasant task of getting out the bright baubles and the little figures which hung from yesteryear's tree.

Children are models of good behavior, displaying their best manners of the year.

Parents smuggle bundles into homes and secrete them away in hiding places to be brought out and placed under the tree on Christmas Eve.

The strains of the age-old carols, which never grow old, come over the radio or echo softly through the night.

College students, home to spend the Yuletide holidays with their families, enjoy reunions with their former high school classmates.

On the street, in homes, in shopping centres and business places, the spirit of Christmas and the goodwill it promotes among men are clearly apparent.

The rush to prepare for Christmas began in this area right after Thanksgiving.

Merchants report the preholiday shopping will break all previous sales records. The tremendous flow of Christmas cards have pushed postal facilities to the limit.

Extra military planes were required to carry the cards and the gifts sent to service men and women overseas.

For the serviceman who will spend Christmas in a strange land his thoughts on the holiday inevitably will turn to the scenes back home—the scenes of other years—the lights gleaming their message of cheer from windows, the tunes of the ancient carols, the happy task of trimming the tree, the church services, the aroma of the baking turkey wafting out from the kitchen, the good talk and the family feasting.

Underlying the glad gaiety of the Christmas preparations, behind the colored lights, the brilliant wreaths and the glistening tinsel is the deep religious theme which will be reflected as men, women and children kneel in prayer in the churches of their religion.

Many Catholics will attend Midnight Mass. Even greater numbers will kneel at altar rails to receive the Sacrament of Holy Communion on the birthday of the Babe Who Was Born in Bethlehem.

From every standpoint the indications are that this observance of Christmas will be the greatest the community ever has known.

Meanwhile, a last-minute shopping rush is underway, especially by the men folk, to buy their Christmas gifts which will bring exclamations on Christmas morning.

There is the happy bustle of plans and preparations for the greatest day of the year, the anticipated joy of Christmas giving, the arrangements for the feast to be spread on the family dinner table.

Stores, shops and markets of the community are well stocked to handle the closing surge of shoppers in the last days before Christmas.

An unusually wide variety of merchandise is available for those who still have gifts to buy. All kinds of delicacies for the Yuletide dinner await the choce of the discerning housewife.

Groups of carollers will go through the streets in some sections on Christmas Eve singing the hallowed hymns of the Yuletide. Those who have heard them a thousand times will never lose the thrill they experience at the strains of "Silent Night," or the greeting: "A MERRY CHRISTMAS!"

Christmas Progam Varied At Community Center Here

Activity continues at a rapid pace at the Newton Community Center, Inc. Many special events have been planned for the holiday season and children's mass trips scheduled for school vacation week.

Children at the Center have been enjoying parties throughout the past week. Refreshments have included cookies, punch and each child was given a box of hard candy. In addition some speial Christmas Parties were held in conjunction with Lasell Jr. College, the Congregational Church of Auburndale, Wellesley College, Sylvania of Needham and the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Monday, December 20th marked the festive Christmas Celebration of the Senior Citizen's group. A luncheon followed by entertainment and grab bags was held at the Center. Mrs. Thomas Lepore coordinated the program.

In the evening, the mother's club of the center held their annual Christmas celebration. Among some of the members are individuals who have served and participated in Center activity for over 40 years.

Wednesday and Thursday, December 29th and 30th respectively mark the dates of two mass bus trips for youngsters of the Center. Children will spend Wednesday morning at the Continental Bakery in Natick, the world's largest such facility.

The following day will be spent at the Sever Hale Reservation in Westwood for an ice skating party. Activities will be coordinated by James C. Callahan, Miss Nancy Gayle Saunders and Mrs. Paul Stenberg of the agency staff.

In commenting on the program, Anthony J. Bibbo, Executive Director of the Center stated that all children's club groups and specialized classes will resume on January 3rd. Registrations will also get underway for the Center Golf School headed by professional Dan Meany. The golf school will operate on Tuesday mornings and Wednesday evenings. Classes are limited to six individuals. A series of six successive classes is scheduled to include all phases of golf and are geared for all levels of competence. Parents are encouraged to register youth who have reached 14 years of age. For additional information on the Center and its programs phone 244-2260.

John E. Young of 2313 Washington St., Newton Lower Falls, was one of five men who passed a civil service examination for promotion to supervisor of photography in the state public works department. His name was placed alphabetically on a list established by the civil service director.

Discuss Role Of Adults In Newton Youth Center Plans

A meeting was held recently to discuss the importance of adult supervision for the proposed Newton Youth Centre. Taking part in the planning were Mrs. Charles E. Pfund, representing the Newton League of Women Voters; Don Nelson, of the Newton YYMCA, and Randy Gahm from Newton High School.

All are members of a subcommittee of the Newton Youth Center Committee with the responsibility of providing adult observers for the Center's activities on Friday and Saturday nights.

They are interested in finding persons who would like to give their time and lend their support by acting as "chaperones" on any evening. This is a way for those who support the idea of a Teen Center for Newton to express their affirmative attitude.

Mr. Gahm pointed out that: "During last year's fund-raising campaign many people (said) that although they could not afford to contribute more money, they would be glad to contribute their time when given the opportunity."

The committee is now open to accept such offers of support. Those interested, should contact Don Nelson at the Y.M.CfIA. or Mrs. Pfund at 527-7079.

It was also suggested that groups from local churches or other organizations might be interested in contributing some of their time as a part of their service to the community.

This would be an excellent opportunity for such groups to say to the young people who have worked hard for the development of a Youth Center that they stand behind the project. Representatives of these groups should contact Mrs. Pfund or Mr. Nelson as soon as possible.

Students Will Participate In Temple Service

The late Friday evening service at Temple Reyim in Newton on December 24 will include a special welcome to all its college students home on vacation, Rabbi Philip Kieval announced today.

Rabbi Kieval also stated that several of the students will participate in a discussion which will be held at the Oneg Shabbat following the service.

Gala Ball To Follow Simple Basbas Inaugural Exercises

Monte G. Basbas will assume office as Newton's next Mayor at simple but stately inaugural ceremonies in the Aldermanic Chamber at City Hall on the afternoon of New Year's Day. The inaugural program will start at 3 p.m.

Basbas will receive the oath of office from Superior Court Justice David A. Rose of Newton, a personal friend.

In his inaugural address Mayor-elect Basbas is expected to outline his plans for the year ahead and to discuss the problems confronting the city and what he proposes to do about meeting them.

For the first time in the city's history clergymen of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths all will participate in the inaugural rites.

The Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church and Auxiliary Bishop of Boston, will pronounce the benediction.

Rabbi Albert Gordon of Temple Emanuel and the Rev. Daniel Bliss of the Second Church in West Newton, which Mayor-elect Basbas attends, both will offer prayers.

Newton will have its first inaugural ball on the evening of New Year's Day. It will be held in the West Newton Armory under the sponsorship of the Inaugural Ball Committee of the Basbas Committee.

All the men and women who served on the Basbas Committee during the recent mayoralty campaign have been invited to attend the ball.

Outgoing Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission, will be on the platform during the inaugural program Saturday afternoon.

The only other living ex-Mayor of Newton, Sinclair Weeks, now resides in New Hampshire and is not expected to attend the New Year's Day inaugural ceremonies.

Aldermanic President Wendell R. Bauckman will be re-elected president of the Board of Aldermen Saturday, and Alderman John P. Nixon will be chosen for another term as vice president of the board.

MONTE G. BASBAS

School Committeeman Hugh M. Tomb will be reelected chairman of the School Board.

Because of legal technicalities Basbas may be obliged to perform some of the duties of city clerk at his own inaugural.

However, this was a question which had not been resolved at press time.

That poses the unanswered question as to whether he should legally carry out some of the functions of city clerk at Saturday's exercises.

Either Basbas or Assistant City Clerk Margaret M. McMullen will formally open the inaugural program.

If Basbas does so, he will leave the chamber after Aldermanic President Bauckman is elected as the temporary presiding officer.

Whether he opens the meeting or not, Basbas will be escorted into the chamber by three Aldermen and one School Committee member after the inaugural program has started.

The Rev. Dr. Bliss will offer a prayer after Basbas is formally ushered into the chamber.

Basbas then will receive the oath of office as Mayor from Judge Rose and will take his place at the rostrum as the presiding officer.

His first official action as Mayor will be to administer the oath of office to the 24 members of the Board of Aldermen and the eight members of the School Committee.

A prayer will be given by Rabbi Gordon. Basbas then will deliver his inaugural address. Bishop MacKenzie will close the ceremonies by giving benediction.

After the inaugural program, the Board of Aldermen

Sabbatical Leaves Given 11 Teachers

Eleven sabbatical leaves of absence, 10 of them for the next school year and one for the first half of the 1966-67 school year, were approved for teachers in Newton's school system at Monday night's meeting of the School Committee.

This action followed a discussion by the School Board members of possible changes in the rules covering sabbatical leaves.

School Superintendent Charles E. Brown told the School Committee members that proposed changes in the existing rules would be submitted to them at their Jan. 10 meeting.

The changes will be designed to bring the Newton regulations into conformance with the "pattern set forth in the State law," according to Brown.

City Awaits Body Of Viet Nam Fatality

Pfc. William W. Richard, 24 year-old Auburndale soldier and this city's first fatality in the Viet Nam fighting, will be buried with full military honors in Newton.

Final details of the funeral plans are being delayed pending the arrival of the young hero's body from Viet Nam.

Private Richard, an infantryman assigned to the First Division, was on patrol in the Bien Hoa area on Tuesday, December 21, when he was killed by an exploding land mine, according to information received by his parents from the Defense Department.

He had been in the Army for two years and in Viet Nam for three months. He was scheduled to be dis-

Many Prizes Await First Baby In '66

Many Newton merchants are waiting to hail the arrival of the first baby born to Newton parents in the year 1966.

The prize givers are cooperating with The Newton Graphic's annual "First Baby Contest," and this year there will be more prizes offered than ever before.

The gifts, all of them useful, will honor the first baby born after the stroke of midnight, Dec. 31, and the Newton parents who report the birth to this newspaper.

Rules of the contest easy to follow, are these:

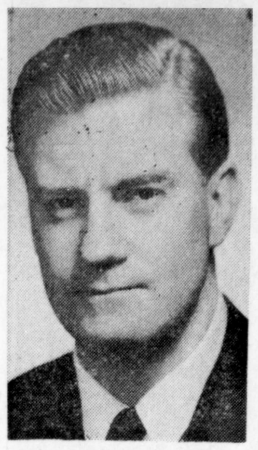

1—The baby must be born to parents who are Newton residents at the time of the birth.

REV. GEORGE W. PECK

Rev. Peck Is New Theology School Dean

Rev. George W. Peck of Assam, India, has been named dean of Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre, by vote of the board of trustees. He currently is principal of the Eastern Theological College at Assam.

In announcing the appointpointment, President Roy Pearson said "Mr. Peck came to our attention at a providential moment. Needing a man with unquestionable academic and administrative competence, we needed equally a man intelligently committed to the Christian enterprise and fully equipped to offer it vigorous leadership in the context of theological education at home and abroad. In Mr. Peck we have found the incarnation of both capacities, and we count ourselves unusually fortunate that he has accepted our invitation."

A native of Australia, Mr. Peck is currently completing doctoral studies in theology at Harvard University while in the United States on a three-year study leave from the American Baptist Foreign Mission Societies, Valley Forge, Penna.

For two years he has been awarded the Peter Brooks Saltonstall fellowship for graduate study at Harvard. Mr. Peck expects to complete his thesis on "Language, Logic, and Argument in the Thought of St. Anselm" as he begins his work as dean at Andover Newton.

REV. JOSEPH ARSENAULT

Missioner Is On Furlough To Workshop

The Rev. Joseph B. Arsenault of Newton, a Maryknoll missioner now serving in Peru, attended the recent fifth annual Missioners' Workshop at the Maryknoll major seminary at Maryknoll, N.Y.

He was one of 70 Maryknoll missioners, all currently in the United States on their sixth year furloughs, who gathered for the two-week session called to keep them abreast of the latest developments in mission technology.

In addition to the parish in Anzangaro, Father Arsenault periodically visits 10 parishes which do not have priests. They are located in an area three-fourths the size of the state of Connecticut which have a population of 80,000 Quechua Indians.

He is also director of the Maryknoll radio schools in that area. Thanks to the transistor radio and through special broadcasts, education is being brought to thousands of Indians scattered far away from any other source of education.

Breaks Made In Homes On Yule Holiday

Two Newton homes were robbed on Christmas Day. A third break was averted when a burglar alarm went off, frightening away a thief who had broken three windows and forced a rear door in his atempts to get into a Newton Centre dwelling on the Yuletide.

Christmas lights were stolen from the homes of Nazareno Gentile at 32 Wiltshire Rd., Newton; Bernard C. Hanley, 88 Hammond St., Chestnut Hill; J. A. Glynn, 195 River St., West Newton; William Farran, 32 Simpson 35 Irving St., Newton Centre; Paul Harriman, 216 Cotton

Teachers Are Named To New School Center

Eight Newton teachers have received joint appointments from Newton schools and the Harvard Graduate School of Education to head experimental "student teaching centers" created at Newton High School, Newton South, and Weeks Junior High School this fall.

Appointed to the new posts are Miss Bonnie Allen, at Newton South High School; Mr. Henry Bissex, Mr. Arthur S. Bolster, Jr., Miss Mary L. Waters and Mr. Thayer Warshaw, all at Newton High School; Mrs. Patricia S. Davidson, Mr. John S. Katz, Mr. Saul M. Yanofsky, all at Weeks Junior High School.

As resident supervisors, they carry reduced teaching loads in order to counsel and supervise Harvard student teachers. They also work with staff teachers on curriculum development and in-service training programs.

The Newton student teaching centers are being sponsored by the Center for Research and Development in Educational Differences at Harvard. Similar centers

Newton Girl Labors In Slum With Peace Corps

Special to Newton Graphic

RIO DE JANEIRO — Most middle-class Brazilians will say, in a shocked tone of voice, that what a bunch of American College girls are doing is impossible or crazy: living and working in the hillside slums of this strange, paradoxical metropolis.

The girls are Peace Corps volunteers. And one of them is a Newton girl, Elizabeth R. Plotkin. Liz, who was graduated from Newton High, and from Boston University in June, 1963, is taking part in a public health project.

She is the eldest of two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham S. Plotkin of 100 Walnut Hill rd., Newton Highlands.

Liz majored in government at college; but her role as a "visiting health aide" may not be strange as it seems. The Peace Corps has found that public health has been an excellent "vehicle" for community development — which is the underlying theme of all Peace Corps projects in Brazil.

The Newton girl and several dozen of her Peace Corps associates officially are "visiting health aides." Which means that they staff little health posts in the "favelas," as the hillside slum villages of Rio are called, administering first aid, vaccinations and other injections, and providing the "faveladas" with basic health education.

The American P.C. volunteers also try to teach Portugese to their illiterate adult neighbors (they received cram courses in that language during the three months of intensive training before leaving for Brazil); and English to small groups of local college students.

Rio is often called the Paris of South America. But its showy opulence along world-famed Copacabana Beach is in shocking contrast to the crowding and reeking poverty of its slums. Pigs root through piles of refuse and children scramble about in the dirt. Diseases of many types are common.

Brazil hopes in time to train enough of its own workers; but the Peace Corps volunteers are there to help fill the health gap.

Liz Plotkin's particular favela is called Tuiuti. She shares a neat, reasonably-well furnished apartment with another P.C. volunteer, a girl from Wichita, Kansas. Two Brazilian families live in the same building which, like

Fine Record Set By Donald Gibbs

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, who will leave office and retire to private life on New Year's Day, can point to an impressive list of accomplishments during the six years he has served as Newton's chief municipal executive.

One of his notable achievements was the reduction of the city's capital debt from $20 million, when he assumed office on Jan. 1, 1960, to $15.2 million at the present time.

A high point in his administration was Mayor Gibbs' public controversy with the late Chairman William F. Callahan of the Turnpike Authority, during which Gibbs threatened to take his fight into court and delay the extension of the toll road.

D. A., Local Police Probe Killing Here

A 53-year-old Newtonville father of two teen-age sons was bludgeoned to death Tuesday in his home that still gleamed with festive Christmas decorations.

Constanzo Tempesta, 53, of 732 Watertown St., foreman for a construction company, was struck repeatedly over the head with a 12-inch metal wedge which weighed several pounds, according to police.

Police Captain William F. Quinn was driving to the station when Mrs. Tempesta called to say: "Something has happened to my husband.

Missionary Here After China Duty

Miss Anna E. Foster, a former missionary to China for 23 years, and widely known in American Baptist circles, has joined the family at the Baptist Home of Massachusetts, 66 Commonwealth Ave., Chestnut Hill.

The Rev. Leland Maxfield, director of the Home, said Miss Foster would be the 129th member of the Home, one of the oldest and largest in the state. Plans are being made to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the Home in 1966.

Miss Foster was born in Swatow, China, in 1890, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John M. Foster, who also spent a life-time in China as pioneer missionaries from 1888 to 1923.

Lincoln Day Dinner Plan Taking Form

The annual Lincoln Day Dinner in Newton will be held on Thursday evening, February 17, at the Sidney Hill Country Club, according to the announcement this week by William R. Haney, president of the Newton Republican Club.

The unusually early announcement of the date, Haney added, was prompted by the fact that Republicans of the area are honoring Senator Leverett Saltonstall at the dinner. The Senator will be the special guest of honor at the event.

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Salty's Withdrawal Causes Chain Political Reaction

Senator Leverett Saltonstall's surprise announcement that he will not be a candidate for reelection is having a chain reaction in both political parties in Massachusetts.

It means that Attorney General Edward W. Brooke will move up and run as the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Present indications are that Governor Volpe will stand for reelection to a four-year term in the office he now holds and will not battle Brooke for the GOP Senate nomination.

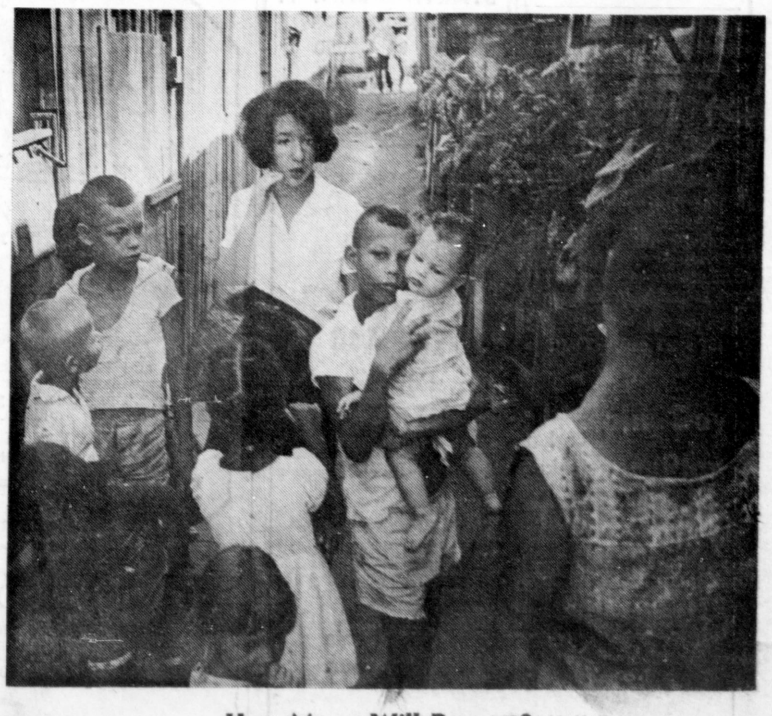

It means that the fight for a seat in the U. S. Senate next year probably will be between Brooke and Boston Mayor John F. Collins, not between Saltonstall and Collins, as has been expected.

Ice Cream Sale In Bulk Unfair Students Say

The name of every member of two classes at Levi J. Warren Junior High School, West Newton, has been signed to a request that The Graphic call the public's attention to discrepancies in the weight of ice cream sold in bulk.

As the result of an investigation apparently conducted as class projects, the youngsters came to the conclusion that:

"The public is being deceived.

"Ice cream at the present time is being sold by volume, rather then weight. We feel that this is unfair because some of the ice creams are packed down hard, and others are fluffed up."

Signatures attached to the communication were as follows:

Cris Cavaller, Debbie Jackson, Liz Preyer, Ginny Foster, Robin Janes, Kathy Bloch, Richard DeSouza, Jane Rautenberg, Jean Kansur, Charlotte Moat, Mary Ann Horrigan, Alexandra Protrosinski, Jeffrey Dunn, Bill Hurquitz, Jim Berezin, Paul Nolan, Phylis Bornstein, Mike Milgroom and Alice Goodwin.

Speaker At Newton Meeting Tells Of "Exodus" Project

Mrs. Ellen Jackson, chairman of "Operation Exodus," the successful busing program of the Roxbury-North Dorchester Parents' Association, spoke to a gathering of Newton housewives December 20, at the home of Mrs. Abraham Berger. This was one of a series of events sponsored by Newton citizens for the benefit of the "Operation Exodus" group.

Mrs. Jackson described some of the conditions in the Roxbury schools that led the parents themselves to bus 455 children into other neighborhoods after the Boston School Committee refused to accept Superintendent Ohrenberger's recommendations for such busing.

Among the unsatisfactory conditions were antiquated buildings; over-crowded classrooms; classes held in basements and auditoriums, separated from other classes only by curtains or blackboards; the use of many temporary teachers (a child often had four or five teachers a year); little or no communication between the teacher and parent regarding the child's performance; an inadequate number of textbooks for each child, etc.

Mrs. Jackson reported that the majority of children in "Operation Exodus" have adjusted very well in their new schools and have been well-received by the other children. Many have improved academically because they now have permanent teachers who are interested in their progress.

The Roxbury-North Dorchester Parents' Association has been spending $1250 weekly for buses. This has been financed entirely by the Parents themselves and by sympathetic friends. However, funds to support the group's efforts to continue their program in 1966 are still badly needed.

Newton residents may send contributions for "Operation Exodus" to Post Office Box 93, Newton Centre, 02159. In addition, anyone wishing to attend or give a fund-raising coffee party at which Mrs. Jackson or other representatives from the Parents' Association will speak, may call Mrs. Hans Krieks, 969-5845.

Cars Involved In All Of Recent Accidents Here

Accidents reported recently in Newton were comparatively few. Automobiles were involved in all of them.

Passengers in a taxi were injured when the cab struck the rear of a car operated at Waltham and Washington Sts., West Newton, by Wesley S. Medaglia of 11 Lind Rd., West Newton.

The passengers, Mrs. Assunta Parkhurst of 12 West St., Newton, suffered a leg injury; her daughter Deborah, 6, had a chin injury, and daughter Donna, 5, was injured on the head.

Linwood P. Adams Jr., of 183 Walnut St., Newtonville, was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital following a collision involving his car and one of a Lexington man at Washington and Crafts Sts., Newtonville. The other driver sustained a face injury.

Taken to the hospital were two drivers whose cars collided at Beacon St. and Hancock Ave., Newton Centre. An ear injury was suffered by Edward Thompson of 20 Berwick Rd., Newton Centre. Mrs. Joan Suymoto of 95 Greenlawn Ave., Newton Centre, the other driver, was injured about the head.

The car of Mrs. Esta Silberberg of 56 Ruane Rd., West Newton, was in collision with a car operated by Sheldon K. Greene of 18 Kodaya Rd., Waban. The accident happened at Prince and Berkeley St., West Newton. Mrs. Silberberg was given hospital treatment for head, leg and side injuries, and her daughter Irene, 10, was treated for nose and knee injuries.

Recreation Head Announces New National Group Formed

Newton Recreation Commissioner, John B. Penney, has announced the formation of the National Recreation and Park Association. This nonprofit educational and service organization was formed by the joining of five national agencies concerned with recreation, parks and conservation.

The groups merging to form the NRPA are: the American Association of Zoological Parks and Aquariums, the American Instiute of Park Executives, the American Recreation Society, the National Conference on State Parks, and the National Recreation Association.

Mr. Penney noted that the aim of the merger was to develop a single organization supported by private citizens and professional groups and dedicated to helping all Americans make the best and most satisfying use of their expanding free time.

He pointed out that the Newton Recreation Department was an Affiliate of the National Recreation Association and that it will continue to be affiliated with the new NRPA.

Laurence S. Rockefeller has been elected the first president of the NRPA. Mr. Rockefeller served as chairman and coordinator of the White House Conference on Natural Beauty held in May of this year and is chairman of the New York State Council of Parks.

In accepting the presidency of the NRPA, Mr. Rockefeller said:

"We have entered a new era in this country — an era where parks, recreation and the quality of the environment have become a major item of public concern. With these developments come heavy responsibilities. So it is timely, fitting and important that we strengthen our ties of organization and mutual cooperation. Our combined strength will be far greater than the sum of the individual components. The stakes are great for our organizations, for our profession and for the public good."

Officers of the NRPA are: James H. Evans, president of the Seaman's Bank for Savings, N.Y.C., chairman of the board; Dr. Luther Gulick, chairman of the Institute of Public Administration N.Y.C., vice president; Frank Vaydik, superintendent of parks, Kansas City, Mo., vice president; Norborne Berkeley, vice president of the Chemical Bank of New York Trust Company, treasurer; Joseph Prendergast, N.Y.C., former executive director of the National Recreation Association, will be executive vice president and secretary of the NRPA.

Frank McInnis, director of the Detroit Zoological Park, Royal Oak, Mich., was elected chairman of the NRPA administrative board, which will be responsible for the general supervision and direction of the operation of the NRPA. Conrad L. Wirth, consultant to the American Conservation Association, N.Y.C., was elected vice chairman of the administrative board. Alfred P. LaGasse, formerly executive director of the American Institute of Park Executives, will be executive director and general manager of the NRPA.

Mayor Gibbs At State House To Back Sales Tax

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs was included in a group of about 20 Mayors who marched on the State House Tuesday to urge the enactment of Governor Volpe's tax program and a limited 3 per cent sales tax. After reaching the State House, the Mayors conferred with a number of State Senators. Gibbs himself is a former member of the Senate.

There's blood all over the place."

Quinn immediately rushed to the Tempesta home, as did other officers assigned by Sergeant John J. Kennedy who received the call.

District Attorney John J. Droney assigned Detective Lieutenants William F. Cronin and Francis J. Joyce to investigate the murder. Captain William J. Burke, head of the Newton detective bureau, is directing the Newton police investigation.

Police believe that Tempesta had been dead for hours when his body was found.

Tempesta came to this country from Italy about 35 years ago. He has resided in Newton since then.

The home in which he was slain is a ranch-type red brick dwelling built about 10 years ago by Tempesta.

The Newton girl's morning is spent at a tiny clinic where she and a Brazilian co-worker dispense simple medications and give injections. (Liz's P.C. training included instructions in helping deliver babies; but to date that has not been necessary).

Periodically Volunteer Liz and her Brazilian friend scour the neighborhood for children who are unprotected against diseases and who will be innoculated in their next immunization campaign.

The day is long and tiring; oftentimes the job requires evening chores, such as showing of movies on the virtues of elementary sanitation and other aspects of public health.

The girls must live on about $60 a month. About half of this goes for rent, leaving only a dollar a day for food, transportation, amusements and other expenses. (By comparison, the lowest ranking officials in the American Embassy in Rio get about $500 a month).

The recent political upheaval, in which right-wing elements of the Army forced the Brazilian president to dispsense with some of the usual ingredients of democratic government, have apparently made little difference in the work of the P.C. personnel.

The capital city of this big country (the largest in South America) is the brand-new and strikingly modern Brazilia, hundreds of miles inland. But since Rio has for decades been THE cosmopolitan showplace, that's where most V.I.P.s head for first in Brazil.

Consequently Elizabeth Plotkin and the other American P.C. volunteers get to rub elbows with a fair number of visitors. One of these recently was U.S. Senator Robert Kennedy and his party, who shared Thanksgiving dinner with the P.C. contingent from Rio and an adjoining area.

A couple of other recent visitors from up North: Donald Gibbs and Wilfred Chagnon. The mayor of Newton and the prominent Newton Corner businessman were among 150 or so Greater Boston members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, who made Rio de Janeiro a principal stop on this year's trip.

Headlines and Highlights From Newton South High

BY EILEEN BORIS

Strolling along the corridors of Newton South after 2:10, one can not help but notice the continual presence of her students. They flock into the library, either to partake in its research facilities or complete some work in a congenial atmospherere prior to an extra-curicular activity. The chemistry labs are packed with future scientists, concocting potent mixtures and musing on experimental data.

Clubs reflect a wide gamut of interests. These after class functions fall into three categories: subject, hobby, and professional groups. Foreign language organizations are quite popular. The French club, under the leadership of President Freddie Liebman and advisor Mrs. Vita Zephir, hopes to present a French movie and tapes. Other officers are: Emily Cohen, vice-president; Nancy Joe Levenson, secretary; and Carol Halperin, treasurer.

Likewise, the German club plans a busy year. A library has been initiated and German magazines have been placed in commons rooms. Led by President Manja Krieks, Vice-President Hannah Kaye, Secretary Marla Shapiro and Treasurer Joe Glasky the group is rehearsing a play for Tivoli, a Christmas party at Boston University for New England German students. The club is seeking contributions for the annual magazine 'Lowenschwanz'.

As well as competing in an inter-scholastic league, Newton South's math wizards join other interested students at Math club meetings. Tuesday, members played 'Choose-up Polyominoes', invented by Solomon Golumb of the Harvard math team, at the annual games tournament. The week before, Mr. Eugene Ferguson head of this department at both high schools, discussed careers in mathematics. Co-chairman Peter Orlov and Jim Horowitz plan to show the film "The Mathematician and the River" and award a math prize during Science Night in March.

Chess team tournaments will run every Friday through March 25. Led by Captain Steve Kruger, the team is predicting success. Along with Vice-president Kruger, President Chip Adams presides over the chess club with the help of the other officers—Peter Dolnick, secretary and David Cutler, treasurer.

Whether Bob Dylan or Arthur Fiedler drive one to ecstasy, a music organization exists to cater to one's taste. The folk music club, advised by Mr. John Berwald and Mr. Allan MacDougal, hold hootenanies and wish to feature a popular folksingsr at a concert.

Club officers are: Bob Atwell, president; Joy White, vice-president-treasurer; and Dorothy Frumson, secretary. The music club plans a music appreciation lecture along with performances. President Rebecca Portnoi, Vice-President Lisa Altshuler, Secretary Jill Silverman, Treasurer Roberta Baruch, Program chairman Leslie Berk and David Starr; and Publicity chairman Barbara Primack and Nancy Richardson organize the music club.

Future teachers and diplomats gain experience in organizations devoted to those interests. The F.T.A.'s limited working program allows members to weekly aid elementary school teachers. The international club participates in Model United Nations. Students act as delegates, sponsoring the same measures and holding the same opinions as the country which they represent.

Yet clubs are not the only type of activity commanding attention. Student government smoothly functions under the guidance of the Associates Council. House groups conduct various programs. Wheeler House presented a Halloween Haunt and a speaker on mental health, Dr. H. Rosenbloom. "I'm one of Card's Aces' buttons donned lapels of Goodwin goodies. That house intends to continue its scholarship fund as well as make Goodwin Night a success. The Lion's Den snack bar feeds hungry friends of Leo after school. And Cutler House is pooling all its efforts for Cutler Evening of Music, January 21.

Besides participating in school functions, South students widen their experiences by helping elsewhere. 11 NSH'ers were cited for a summer's work at the Children's Hospital Medical Center. They are: Ronna Abrams, Jane Cohen, Daniel Greenblatt, Karin Halperin, Martha Hirsch, Alan Lazar, Judy Lazar, Melinda Malkin, Deborah Sandler, Marjorie Schachter, and Shelley Tepper.

South Senior Peter Orlov also was honored. Peter was one of 240 high school students selected to attend a conference on "Science Frontiers" at the Boston Museum of Science.

Grateful Postmaster

Editor of The Graphic:

I wish to extend to the staff and the readers of your newspaper the sincere thanks and appreciation of the Post Office Department and the employees of the Boston Postal District for the splendid assistance provided during the Christmas mail season.

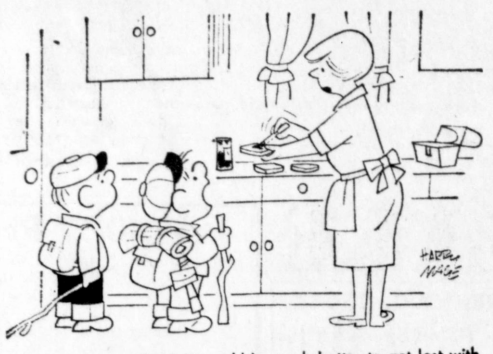

This year we tried a special promotion of the banding of Local, Massachusetts and Out of State mail. It resulted in a great success. This never could have happened without the wonderful support which we received from the press and other means of communications. Your newspaper played a major part and we are most grateful for the help you rendered.

We must mention that the public cooperation in this program was beyond our anticipation, and we are most appreciative. We hope you may convey this message to your readers.

Man Of The Year

Dr. Ben B. Kaplan, 21 Gammons Rd., Waban, president of the St. Botolph's Citizens Committee, has been presented the 1965 "Man of the Year" award by the committee.

"What if we get lost? It would be much better to get lost with chicken sandwiches than with jelly sandwiches!"

Political Highlights

It means that there will be a free-for-all scramble for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General, with a number of Democratic politicos who had no interest in running against Brooke now setting their sights on the office Brooke is relinquishing.

It means that Lieutenant Governor Elliot L. Richardson may move over and run for Attorney General.

Richardson is not as desirous of becoming Attorney General as he was when he sought the post in 1962 and lost the convention endorsement to Brooke by an eyelash.

However, there are a number of reasons why Richardson is likely to agree to become a candidate for Attorney General.

He probably would be a greater help to the Republican State ticket as the nominee for Attorney General than as a candidate for reelection to the Lieutenant Governorship.

His prospects of gaining advancement to higher office would be better as Attorney General than as Lieutenant Governor.

Finally, Richardson is probably the only Republican who would have a real chance of winning the Attorney Generalship.

Former Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti, the Democratic nominee for Governor in 1964, is now a certain candidate for Attorney General.

Hyman has built up so much convention support that he will be hard to defeat at next June's Democratic State Convention.

But if Bellotti loses at the convention, he'll go on into the primary, as he did in 1962.

There is some possibility that former Governor Endicott Peabody, who has been thinking in terms of running for Governor or U. S. Senator, might shift his course and seek election as Attorney General.

A factor which might cause Peabody to hesitate about doing so is that Hyman, who has stront convention backing, was one of his first lieutenants while he was Governor and also served under him as commerce commissioner.

On the other hand, Peabody might welcome a primary fight with Bellotti who defeated him in the 1964 Democratic primary and ruined his chances of gaining reelection to a third term as Governor.

Peabody presumably would run for Attorney General only if Hyman consented to withdraw from the contest.

Bellotti would emerge as an easy winner from a three-way contest in which Peabody and Hyman were his opponents and split the Peabody organization.

An opening now exists for a young Republican to run for Lieuteant Governor if Richardson becomes a candidate for Attorney General or for Attorney General if Richardson stands for reelection.

Former State Senator John F. Parker of Taunton, who doubles as chairman of the Republican State Committee, and corruption-fighting ex-Representative Francis W. Perry of Duxbury both would add strength to the Republican State ticket as candidates for Lieutenant Governor.

So would Governor's Councillor Margaret M. Heckler although she's more likely to run for Congress.

The year ahead will be a momentous one politically in Massachusetts.

For the first time in the history of the Commonwealth a Governor and other State Constitutional officers will be elected for four year terms.

The fighting to get those four-year terms will be fierce and furious.

The Democratic State ticket next November in all probability will be headed by Boston Mayor John F. Collins and either former Attorney General Edward J. McCormack or State Senate President Maurice A. Donahue.

If McCormack bests Donahue at the State Convention in June, he's certain to gain the nomination and to go on to stand against Volpe.

If Donahue defeats McCormack at the convention, the two will fight it out all over again in the September primary. Donahue, running with the convention endorsement, would be a very strong contender.

Secretary of State Kevin H. White and former Presidential Aide Kenneth O'Donnell both have gubernatorial ambitions, but they aren't likely to be realized in 1966.

A new name has been added to the long list of prominent Democrats expected to be candidates for state-wide offices.

Friends of Executive Councillor Patrick J. McDonough declare that he is planning to run for Lieutenant Governor.

McDonough was just nosed out for the Democratic nominations for Governor in both 1954 and 1956.

Foster Furcolo edged him out in 1956, and Robert F. Murphy defeated him in a squeaker in 1954. McDonough abided by the decision of the convention both times.

Furcolo tried to persuade McDonough to accept the nomination for Lieutenant Governor in 1956, but McDonough declined, preferring to remain in the Executive Council. Since then, of course, the powers of the Council have been curbed.

If McDonough does give up his seat in the Executive Council to gamble that he can win election as Lieutenant Governor, it probably would mean that he intends to try to use that post as a springboard to other office.

McDonough is regarded as a potential candidate for Mayor of Boston if Mayor Collins gains election as U.S. Senator. He would have a better chance of winning a mayoralty race as a Lieutenant Governor than as an Executive Councillor.

While there have been scandals involving former members of the Governor's Council, McDonough, who is now starting his 20th year in the body, has been untouched by them.

A factor which might militate against McDonough is that he and former Attorney General McCormack, who is making a strong bid for his party's nomination for Governor, both come from Dorchester.

Some of the more superstitious members of Governor Volpe's kitchen cabinet would be relieved if Volpe would stop saying that he would be happy if the Democratic party chose Senate President Maurice A. Donahue as its candidate for Governor so the voters could pick between them on the sales tax issue.

The Volpe advisers are convinced that the sales tax issue will work in favor of the Governor in the 1966 campaign. But they also know that office-holders, who make off-hand remarks concerning the opponent they'd like to run against, sometimes have cause to regret their words.

The last Governor who made suggestions to the opposing party about picking a candidate was the late Paul A. Dever.

During the early stages of 1952 Dever said several times that he hoped the Republicans would nominate Christian A. Herter as their candidate for Governor because he'd welcome a fight with Herter.

The GOP did select Herter as its gubernatorial standard-bearer. But when the returns were tabulated on the early morning after election, Dever undoubtedly wished he had chosen someone else because Herter defeated him in a close contest.

Things like that happen occasionally in politics.

Joe Martin's Plan Subject of Conjecture

Conjecture is rife in political circles on whether veteran Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., will stand for reelection next year.

Both Governor's Councillor Margaret M. Heckler and former Congressman Laurence Curtis are ready to seek the congressional post if Martin steps out at the end of his present term.

A strong Democrat undoubtedly will challenge Martin and might defeat him if he runs again.

Martin has had many honors during his long service in Congress. For years he was the Republican leader in the national House, and for two years he served as speaker.

He waited to get his revenge for that humiliation. He got it a year ago when Halleck was cut down to the status of ordinary member, just as Martin had been six years earlier.

It would be a much greater humiliation and a sad ending to a long and distinguished public career if Joe Martin should be turned out of office next November by the people of his district.

Lee Loumos Says:

The well publicized shortage of color TV sets has discouraged many people from even attempting to purchase a set for Christmas. Although I can't say that the general shortage has eased in any large measure, my inventory of color sets has improved to the point where I can offer you a good selection for immediate installation.

For those of you who still wonder if color TV is "really perfected" yet, just visit a friend who has a color TV and see the Bowl Games in color this weekend. And if that doesn't make a believer of you, stay on to see a network show in the evening.

Or better still, call me today and I'll have a set of your own delivered and installed in time for you to see the Bowl Games without leaving your home or wearing out your welcome. HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Lendell Lehman In Printing Week Group

Lendell A. Lehman of 97 Farwell St., Newtonville, has been named to serve on the Planning Committee for the 20th annual Printing and Publishing Week observances to be held Jan. 16-22 in Boston.

Lehman is a self-employed marketing consultant in Boston.

Various exhibits, awards and ceremonies will mark the observance of Printing and Publishing Week.

P & P Week is held each year to recognize the importance of printing and publishing to New England. The New England Press Association is a sponsoring member of the event.

Martin has not said whether he'll run again. He has declared in the past that he would retire when he no longer felt he was up to the job physically.

With all due respect to this elder statesman, who knew his years of great glory and honors in the Republican party, there are those who now feel he no longer is physically able to represent his district the way it should be represented.

He is 81 years old, and he'll be 82 next November. The years have taken their toll on him. He is rather feeble and moves about slowly, usually with a cane, often with an aide at his side.

His attendance record at the 1965 session of Congress was the second poorest of any Republican in the body. Martin answered slightly more than half the rollcalls, 53 per cent to be exact.

The only Republican Congressman with a poorer attendance record than Martin was John Lindsay, who spent most of the year campaigning for election as Mayor of New York and was recorded on only 3 per cent of the rollcalls.

No one really wants to see Joe Martin defeated for reelection. He has known public honors which come to few men. He has sat in the highest councils of Congress. Now he is no longer even consulted by the hierarchy of his own party, and that is understandable.

He is the ranking Republican member of the House space committee. Even that is an honor that comes only from seniority.

When Joe Martin leaves Congress, he should bow out voluntarily, with dignity and to the acclaim of those he served so well over a long period of years.

Dr. Macdonald Oregon Speaker

Dr. Lawrence Macdonald, optometrist, of Newton, was the featured speaker at the Northwest Congress of Optometry, Portland, Oregon. Dr. Macdonald spoke of the part that visual training plays in enhancing the scholastic achievement in school. He stated that there are many visual abilities necessary for adequate reading, and reading readiness should not stop at the first grade. He stressed the fact that the developing of visual abilities for reading readiness through optometric visual training can, and must be done by more optometrists if they are to fulfill their obligation to the public.

Deity's Nature Science Church Sunday Theme

A consideration of the nature of Deity will be the theme of this Sunday's service on "God" in all Christian Science churches throughout the world.

The sermon will consist of correlated readings from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. Included will be Moses' well-known injunction from Deuteronomy: "Known therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord He is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else." And this reference from Science and Health: "The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand divine Love."

Vote To Lower Crossing Fence

Aldermen Paul J. Burke and David W. Jackson, the only ones to speak, were recorded recently in favor of a recommendation of Police Chief Philip Purcell for elimination of a traffic hazard on the southwest corner of the controversial intersection of Cherry and Webster Sts., West Newton.

Following the brief public hearing, the Board gave approval to the chief's suggestion that the chain link fence there be cut down to 30 inches in order to improve visibility.

A hedge there has already been cut down at the Aldermen's direction, and that move was also recommended by Purcell.

Mothers Group Ends Season With Yule Party At Center

A gala Christmas Dinner Party marked the close of activity for the Wenecocemo Club, a mothers group which has met at the Newton Community Center for over 40 years. Members of the disbanded club will continue meeting at the Center as participants in the Senior Citizens Club and the Mothers Arts and Crafts Club.

The dinner held at the Center was attended by over 50 individuals. Highlights of the evening were the presentation of Service Awards and exchange of gifts among the individuals present. In addition, to Wenecocemo, members of the arts and crafts club and their guests were present.

Wenecocemo has met over the years as social and service group for the Center. They have participated in agency fund raising by sponsoring activities such as plays and have helped annually on the agency rummage sale. Members could always be counted upon to put the womans touch into the agency. It may have been through hemming curtains, fixing youngsters costumes, or providing a service in the kitchen. The group was most active during the Second World War at which time they rolled bandages, etc.

Initially, the club met at the first Center building, a private home, located on Elm Street in West Newton. They later met in the West Newton Branch Library, followed by the basement of the Davis Elementary School, the Community Center portable building, and for the past ten years have met semi-monthly in the Community Center building at 429 Cherry Street in West Newton.

In recognition of their service to the agency, service awards were presented to the nine remaining club members. Presentation was made by Anthony J. Bibbo, Executive Director of the agency.

Mr. Robert McCreech, Director of the Volunteer Bureau of United Community Services, was the featured speaker at the gathering. He commended the group for their untiring effort and presented each with an "Operation Kindness" Service Award.

Club members honored included: Mrs. Francis Barry, club president who has been a member of the group for 28 years; Mrs. Grace Lynch, with 25 years membership; Mrs. Raymond Riley, 18 years service; Mrs. Stephen Kelly, 18 years participation; Mrs. Catherine Kennery, 20 years of activity and Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Charles Geary, 10 years each as members; Mrs. Mildred Malloy, 5 years active; and Mrs. Francis McNeil, who has participated actively in Wenecocemo activity for over 44 years.

Mrs. Barry and Mrs. McNeil headed a period of reminising for the club members. Stories of members experiences, etc., were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Thomas Lepore of the agency staff coordinated the festive dinner party which closed with group singing and dancing.

According to Newton school superintendent Dr. Charles Brown, the new scheme offers advantages for both Newton and Harvard by strengthening the relationship between university teacher training and its application in the schools.

Student teachers from Harvard receive the benefit of fulltime supervision by outstanding teachers who are actively involved in developing new curriculum.

The resident supervisor is able also to work closely with staff teachers and this team can give its attention to the improvement of teacher training. In addition the position of resident supervisor offers a new career opportunity for school and university personnel interested in maintaining simultaneous involvement with classroom teaching, teacher training and curriculum development.

Dr. Brown said the eight new resident supervisors were chosen for outstanding teaching ability in their subjects and for creativity in their use and development of curriculum.

An outgrowth of that row was the so-called Toll Road Agreement under which the Turnpike Authority made 19 concessions to Newton which Gibbs had demanded.

Mayor Gibbs granted pay raises to municipal employees during each of his six years in office. He had a review of employee salaries by professiona consultants in 1961 and again in 1963.

Here are some of the other major accomplishments by Mayor Gibbs while he headed Newton's municipal government.

New fire stations were built in West Newton and Newton Corner at a cost of $750,000. The West Newton station, which replaced old firehouses in West Newton, Auburndale and Newton Lower Falls, was paid for by the Turnpike Authority under the agreement between Callahan and Gibbs. The Newton Corner fire station was paid for from surplus funds. No bond issue was floated by the city, as is usually done when capital improvements are undertaken. The consolidation of three firehouses into one resulted in maintenance savings and made two sites available for sale.

A relocation bureau was established by Mayor Gibbs to assist in the relocation of 550 families and business firms in the path of the to l road extension.

Under a lease arrangement the city purchased the Peabody Home where retarded children now attend special classes. Solution of zoning problems made possible a development which will show a profit for the city from the entire undertaking as a result of the creation of new taxable property.

A library survey was conducted, with a complete review by professional consultants of salaries, plant facilities and services.

Benefits for municipal employees under Blue Cross-Blue Shield program, with the city paying half the expense. Mechanical equipment in the street and recreation departments was updated, accomplishing more work with the same labor force.

A data processing survey was made by an expert committee, and a feasibility study showed many possible benefits. Electronic data processing of payrolls will start at the beginning of the New Year.

A community renewal planning study was completed, and a Newton Redevelopment Authority created. Establishment of a Code Enforcement Division was recommended to the Board of Aldermen. Three housing projects for elderly persons were constructed. A fourth has been authorized and will be built within the next two years.

An animal-control department was established and is now working well, especially in the control of dogs. A new Traffic Commission and an Election Commission were created under Gibbs.

A swimming pool is being built at Albermarle Playground, and a second pool has been designed for construction at Newton South School. (The State will pay about 40 per cent of the cost of the pool at the high school.)

Sewer and street construction projects all were financed from current revenue in 1963 and 1964. It was the first time this type of work had been done without a bond issue in many years. The improvements cost $500,000 each year. A saving of $150,000 in interest costs over a 10-year period was realized by providing the $1 million from current funds.

In two of the six years he was in office Gibbs accomplished reductions in the tax rate, once as a result of a reva uation of residential property, the other time lowering expenditures.

Mayor Gibbs has placed the school building program on a time table. He believes that the program meets the city's needs and is within its ability to pay.

Newton Junior College has been expanded, updated and has obtained accreditation while Gibbs has been in office. He reached an agreement with college authorities that 85 per cent of the students attending the college would be Newton youths.

The Mayor initiated polio and flu shots for all citizens through a series of clinics.

He started a potential safety program for employees designed to reduce workmen's compensation injuries and claims.

During the Gibbs administration a favorable climate existed for the construction of new taxable property in the city.

Zoning was upgraded in large areas of Wards 3 and 4 to "C" single residence zone, thus stabilizing values. Recreational facilities were expanded and new equipment purchased. The office of city solicitor was placed on a full-time basis. The Newtonville parking lot was renovated and expanded. The electrical supply system at Newton High School was updated by use of purchased power.

A $2 million municipal incinerator is now under construction. The soil removal ordinance was revised, tightening loop holes which had existed for years. These were but some of the things done by the quiet-mannered, hard-working Gibbs during his six years as Mayor of Newton.

Today and tomorrow he will clear his personal belongings from his office at City Hall. On the morning of New Year's Day he will enter City Hall as Mayor and leave it as an ex-Mayor. He also will leave behind him a record of substantial accomplishment.

Peace Corps To Give Placement Tests Jan. 8

Newton area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test Saturday morning, Jan. 8, at 9 o'clock, in Brighton High School, 25 Warren St., Brighton.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicated a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive—an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half. An optional achievement test for applicants who have studied French or Spanish requires another hour.

Dr. Wilder, 73, India Missioner, Dies In Newton

A memorial service for Dr. Edward Wheeler Wilder, 73, of 144 Hancock St., Auburndale, medical missionary who served 41 years in India, was conducted Wednesday, Dec. 29, by the Rev. Andrew Richards in the Second Congregational Church, Codman Square, Dorchester, where Dr. Wilder was commissioned a missionary 44 years ago.

A physician and hospital administrator, who retired in 1962 from foreign service, Dr. Wilder died Dec. 26 in the Walker Missionary Home in Auburndale.

The government of India, in recognition of his medical service, in 1937 awarded Dr. Wilder the Kaisar-i-Hind silver medal, the doctor having brought the Mission Hospital for Women from a small unit equipped only with kerosene lamps, up to modern standards with operating rooms, electric lights, an elevator and latest surgical apparatus.

In 1947 the doctor became secretary of the Christian Medical Association of India. In 1959, he was organizing secretary of the First East Asia Medical Conference which met in Hong Kong, bringing together 40 representatives from 15 Asian countries.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Harriet Minerva (Wyman) Wilder; four sons, Dr. Charles E. of Laconia, N.H., the Rev. John W., a missionary in Lyallpue, West Pakistan; Dr. David H. at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Penn., and Donald R. Wilder of Rochester, N.Y., and a brother, Howard B. Wilder of Melrose.

Mr. Peck was born in 1931 in Ipswich, Queensland, Australia, a coal mining town, where he lived until he was 18. His father, Albert E. Peck, began as a coal miner, took night school classes and spent the last twenty years of his working life as a coal mine manager. As a lay preacher for forty years, his father has preached regularly in nearby churches. Both of his mother's grandfathers were Baptist preachers in Queensland.

In the five-year ordination course at Queensland Baptist College, Mr. Peck was the only student in the school's history to earn first-class honors. In 1956 when he received a B.A. in Philosophy at the University of Queensland, also with first-class honors, he was one of seven students in the entire university to be awarded the university's medal of merit. He received an M.A. at the 1958; a B.D. in 1959 as an external student of the University of London; and an honors B.D. in theology in 1961 from the Melbourne College of Divinity. He enrolled in the Th.D program at Harvard University in September, 1963 and completed his comprehensive examination early in 1965.

Ordained in 1954 by the Queensland Baptist Union, Mr. Peck served two Baptist churches in Brisbane from 1954-1958. He also lectured part-time in Greek and philosophy at Queensland Baptist College and tutored in philosophy at the women's college of the University of Queensland.

Because of the difficulties in securing visas for Americans to serve in Assam, Mr. Peck was loaned by the Australian Baptist Foreign Mission Society to the American Baptist Foreign Mission Societies. From 1958-63 he served three years as dean and two as principal of Eastern Theological College in Jorbat, Assam, India, a school founded by American Baptists. Under his leadership the school became a stable, well-established theological institution.

In India Mr. Peck served as president of the Council of Baptist Churches in Northeast India in 1961, the 125th anniversary year of the founding of Baptist work there. He was also a member of the Board of Theological Education of the National Christian Council of India and helped organize a conference at Bangalore on tribal affairs, sponsored by the Christian Institute for Study of Religion and Society.

In 1953 he married Miss Florence Mary Walton, a talented church musician and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Walton of Beerwah, Queensland. Mr. and Mrs. Peck have four daughters, two born in Australia and two in India. Susanne is 11, Kathryn is 9, Jennifer is 5 and Lynette is 3. They have been members of First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, Mass., since 1963.

A lot of people have the notion that things never wear out on Volvos. Things wear out on Volvos. They just wear out a few years later than they do on other cars.

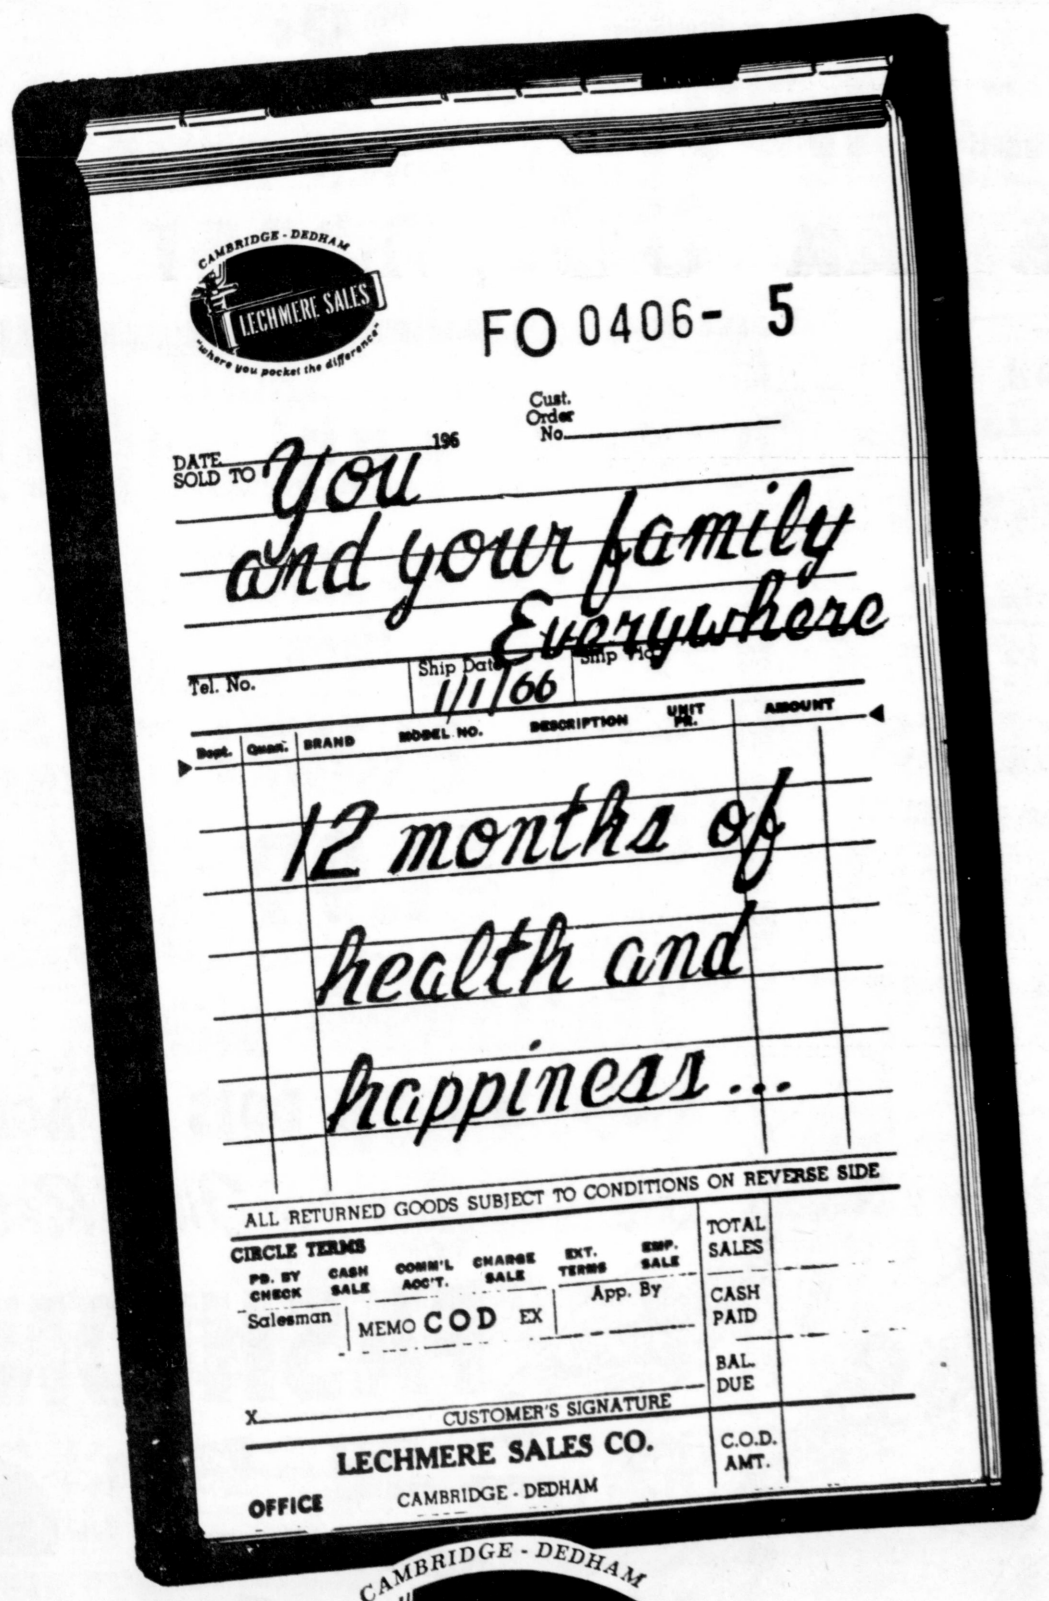

Volvos last an average of eleven years in Sweden where there are no speed limits on the highways, where there are over 70,000 miles of unpaved roads. How long do Volvos last in the States? Volvos have only been here nine years, so nobody really knows yet. And Volvos get 25 miles to the gallon, even with automatic transmission. Come in any time and test drive one.

Balkus New Treasurer Of Campaign

John Balkus, 182 Elliott St., has been appointed treasurer of the 1966 March of Dimes in Newton, according to the announcement by Monte G. Basbas and Harry M. Cohen, co-chairmen for this city. Mr. Balkus is comptroller at the Newton National Bank.

"Mr. Balkus' experience over the past number of years in the March of Dimes Campaign combined with his financial knowledge will truly make this March of Dimes Campaign outstanding," Mr. Cohen and Mr. Basbas said.

Mr. and Mrs. Balkus and their three children have been residents of Newton for the past 49 years. Mr. Balkus is a graduate of Newton High School and Bentley College. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club, the Boys Club of Newton, the treasurer of the National Association of Bank Auditors and Comptrollers.

"I am proud to serve the March of Dimes," Mr. Balkus said. "And proud to be part of an organization that found the answer to polio, anl even prouder to be a part of the March of Dimes' Fight against birth defects that will kill or cripple over 8,000 innocents in this state this year."

"I think Mr. Cohen, Mr. Basbas, and myself look back over the past years' campaigns remembering the generosity of the people of Newton. If it had not been for their generosity and those of other towns and cities, we would not be able to maintain a Special Treatment Center at Boston City Hospital for the tragic victims of Birth Defects," Mr. Balkus said.

Two-Week Pay Checks Herald Data Process

Because electronic processing of payrolls goes into effect in 1966, city employees, except school personnel, will get double pay checks today (Thursday).

Reason for the doubling up is to clear the way for establishment of the new process, as no checks will be issued under the new system until Jan. 13, when employes will be paid for the week ending Jan. 7.

Some 100,000 payroll checks are drawn each year. Under the new process, their cost to the city is 20 cents per check.

City Treasurer Archie R. Whitman estimates that under the new process the city will save approximately $17,000 a year.

Three clerks whose positions have been eliminated by the automation are being transferred to fill vacancies caused by retirements. In addition, several payroll machines the city owns are out of repair and not worth being put in order, so that the new process makes it unnecessary to buy new equipment.

Survivor Pension Plan Revision Is Suggested

A recommendation that Newton should not accept legislation that grants pensions to surviving spouses of city employes who retired under a non-contributory plan, has been made by a special aldermanic study committee.

The report, signed by Aldermen Winslow C. Auryansen, chairman, Adelaide B. Ball, William E. Hopkins, John P. McCarthy and Warren Sutherland, suggested that the Newton Retirement Board and the mayor present a revised plan for consideration of the Board of Aldermen.

"1. The Act covers unremarried widowers as well as widows.

"2. The widows and/or widowers of persons employed for at least 15 years by the city, but who severed their employment for their own reasons, would become eligible.

"3. Surviving children under 18 would also become eligible.

"4. The maximum allowance of $2,000 specified in the Act would be greater in many cases than the pension given to some employees who have retired under the contributory system.

"5. We understand that there are in excess of 200 city employees who in 1938 did not elect to go into the contributory system. It seems unfair to those who chose the contributory system at that time for Newton to accept this Act as written."

The committee also stated it would be difficult to ascertain the number of persons who would be eligible for the pensions. It reported that a nearby town accepted the act with the belief that about a dozen persons were eligible at an annual cost of $16,000, but discovered that there are 80 widows eligible now receiving over $70,000 a year.

The report concluded with the statement that "the general purpose expressed in the Act is desirable and, with proper safeguards, and specific limitations, such an act should be accepted."

Resoluion On Melcher Death

During one of the busiest aldermanic sessions in recent times, the Board took time at the last meeting to adopt a resolution of regret at the death of Metcalf W. Melcher and expressing appreciation of the services he had rendered the city.

Presented by Theodore D. Mann, the resolution will be prepared by the assistant city clerk, and a copy sent to the Melcher family.

Mr. Melcher, who died Dec. 7 at 89, was a member of the Board in 1921. For many years he was president of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for the Aged.

Mayor-Elect Sees Parking A No. 1 Problem

Following receipt from the Chamber of Commerce of a letter in which the lack of on and off-street parking facilities was termed the city's No. 1 problem, Mayor-elect Monte G. Basbas told the Graphic this week that he was well aware of the matter, and fully intended to study it thoroughly in all the city's villages.

"I will look into it as soon as possible," Basbas said, and added that by "as soon as possible," he meant after the city budget is out of the way, which should be early in March of 1966.

The Chamber's letter was a renewal of the organization's efforts to obtain additional parking in business areas. The letter, also sent to the aldermanic committee on parking, declared that there was need for convenient and accessible customer parking spaces to serve Newton's growing population and to serve the tremendous increase in the number of automobiles on the city's streets.

"One of the major causes of commercial blight and retail degeneration in Newton is the lack of adequate facilities for customers," it was asserted in the letter, "thereby causing a reduction in the amount of customer traffic. This eventually results in a more marginal use of commercial properties, specifically in Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and Newton Corner."

The Chamber's Board of Directors offered to provide manpower and facilities to study the problem.

Yule Party In Nonantum Was Biggest Of 66

Nonantum's 66th annual party for youngsters, held this year on the Sunday preceding Christmas, was the biggest and most successful of all of them, and already Chairman Anthony D. Pellegrini of the Nonantum Children's Christmas Party Association, and all his many helpers, are looking forward to next year with determination that the 1966 affair will be even bigger.

The highlight this year was the distribution of more than 1900 bags, each with a substantial load of all things that delight the young. The second most important part of the affair was distribution of some $500 worth of hams and turkeys to needy families. The toy-filled bags were delivered to the homes of those youngsters who were prevented by illness from attending the party in Our Lady's School Hall.

The hall was made available to the association through the generosity of the Rev. Francis X. Quinn, pastor of Our Lady's. In former years the party was held in places like Legion posts or Knights of Columbus rooms, but this year no such location was large enough to accomodate the crowd.

The association is well sponsored by Post 50, Italian-American War Veterans, American Legion Post 440, French-American Legion Post 24, Umberto Primo Lodge Sons of Italy, the Newton Boys Club and Nonantum businessmen.

The Newton Boys Club is said to be an outgrowth of the first Nonantum party held in Mayor Childs' time, 66 years ago.

Hospital Planning End Of Fund Drive

The second and final phase of a $3.5-million fund drive to expand and enlarge Newton-Wellesley Hospital will begin during January, Bernard D. Grossman of West Newton, general campaign chairman, reported today.

On tap is a limited, selected prospect-canvass.

"A number of people are making generous gifts presently, in response to the hospital's year-end mailing," Mr. Grossman said. "They are obtaining a tax deduction for 1965, while also lending valuable help to the hospital."

"To complete the job,' however, gifts will be needed from many more people. Along with limited personal approaches, we will strive to put the drive over the top and to assure the larger hospital so urgently needed by area citizens."

The hospital' s expansion drive began on February 27 with a community-wide dinner, and amid a flurry of red "crisis" buttons. Within four months, over 7,000 citizens had furnished $2.8-million to the essential program. On July 1st solicitation was suspended reluctantly, to prevent a conflict with the Mass. Bay United Fund campaign.

General Chairman Grossman indicated a heartening response to the hospital's traditional year-end mailing. In addition, he noted that supplies and records are being readied at the hospital for the limited solicitation.

Planning meetings are being held that involve doctors, trustees, and campaign workers.

We are working hard to attain the $3.5-million goal," he said, "because the project is the most important in a generation."

Banker To Fill Women In On World Affairs

Newtonville Woman's Club expresses gratitude to the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company for making possible a second appearance before the members of Phillip Cummings who, on Tuesday, Jan. 4, will bring them up to date on the present economic situation and the role of American business in world affairs.

Coffee will be served at 1:30 p.m. at this open meeting, at which friends and guests will be welcome, by Mrs. Samuel Melick and her committee. Pourers will be Mrs. Charles W. Blackett, Mrs. C. R. Morey and Mrs. Harold S. Rice.

The meeting, in the parish house of St John's Episcopal Church, Lowell Ave., Newtonville, will follow at 2 o'clock.

January 18 is the day awaited anxiously by the club when the annual auction sale takes place. This sale grows in importance each year, and those attending find it well worth their while. Mrs. Henry W. Webster will again act as auctioneer, assisted by Mrs. John W. Farrington, Mrs. Joseph L. Sevigny, Mrs. Harry W. Abells, Miss Theresa L. Cram, Mrs. Walter N. Keene, Mrs. Ross E. Langill, Mrs. Vaughan A. Richardson, Mrs. Charles W. Tenney, Mrs. Fred L. Toppon, and Mrs. Dwight L. Woodberry of the Ways and Means Committee.

Coffee once again will be served at 1:30 p.m. and the sale begins at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Charles W. Laffin, president of the club, bids all welcome.
